VICTORIA CORNERS

Our sympathy goes to Proton for last Thudsday night's happenings. First Mr. Vause's death and later the same evening the fire of Dever Bros. store.

The W. C. T. U. held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Stevens. A goodly number were present.

An Friday evening under the auspices of the Ladies of Inistioge a social was held at Chas. Moore's. Despite the fact that the weather was so inclement, quite a few were present. The supper was served at the dining room table and of course only a part could dine at one time. The meal was served in four courses, reresenting baby, school age, marriage and dotage. The courses were served by the younger girls. When all were seated, on their plate was a couple of Arrowroot Biscuits and besde it a glass of milk. The nurse girl appeared, tied bibs on each and generally watched the children, who meddled with the toys on the table. When the bibs were removed and the dishes cleared away, the school girl dressed in middy, etc., with a big bow on her hair, brough each a school lunch in small tin dinner pails. After this course the bride carried in the large decorated wedding cake and served fruit salad, iced wafers and wedding caks. Next the old lady appeared with her purple satin cap and black embroidered apron. She served cookies and tea. It was really remarkable how some of the most meddlesome infants in the first course were the most doty in the last course. The program which followed had several features representing the four stages in life. A reading by Mrs. Ren. Acheson and community singing, the duet and encore by Mariory Stevens and Kathleen Bannon as well as the recitation "How we hunted a mouse" by Billy Bachelor were exceedingly humorous. Other recitations and duets were appreciated.

Fire At Proton; Jas. H. Vause Dies

It is our sad duty this week to report the death of Mr. James Vause, one of Proton Station's most respected residents. Several weeks ago when helping a neighbor, he sustained serious injuries to his back, later pneumonia developed, which resulted in his death on January 28th. Mr Vause was born in Leeds, England in the year 1869. He came to Canada when three years of age. His parents settled for a time in the township of Maryborough and came to the township of Artemesia about fifty two years ago. In 1894 he married Miss May Oliver of the Old Durham Road and moved to the South Line, Artemesia and there one son, "Robert" was born to them Selling the farm ten years ago, Mr and Mrs. Vause retired to Proton Station.

Mr. Vause was a kind charitable friend to everyone. A man of good business integrity and ability, and will be missed by a large circle of friends, his sorrowing widow and son are left to mourn his loss. The funeral on Saturday was well attended. Service at the home was conducted by the United church student ministers, Mr. C. Leslie and Mr. W. G. Prosser. Interment was made in "Evergreen" cemetery, Artemesia. The pallbearers were Messrs. Turner, Oliver, F. Oliver, W. Meads, W. Dever, R. G. Acheson, A. Hergott, Ernest Stinson. Beautiful floral tributes were from Mrs. Vause and family, Mr. and Mrs. Meads and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Vause and family, Mr. and Mrs. Meads Sr., Mr. and Mrs. James Oliver and family, Mr. and Mrs. Story and family, F. R. and Mrs. Oliver, Joseph and John Oliver. Friends present from a distance included Mr. and Mrs. John Vause, Stayner; Mr. Story of Toronto; Mrs. Still of Orangeville; and Miss Ila Batchelor, Guelph.

On Friday about one o'clock a.m. fire broke out in Dever Bros. building. The family were asleep, when Wes. Dever was awakened by the sound of fire cracking, he arose and opened a door leading to a back stairs and found the place in flames, which burst through the open door and spread so rapidly that he had barely time to waken his brothers and escape with their lives. The combined store and dwelling with a large stock of merchandise in the back part of the building was completely destroyed except what was on the shelves in the front part of the store, including scales, safe and two counters. The drive shed behind the store and Russell Jackson's stable were also burned. The building was well insured, though the insurance will not cover the loss. Somethings were saved from the kitchen, but the rest of the household furniture was burned. Mrs. Wes. Dever a bride of a few weeks lost her trousseau and jewellery, her hope chest and wedding gifts, and had her hair scorched, when getting out. The origin of the fire is unknown. Through the efforts of the Dundalk telephone operator, the whole community seemed to be on the spot in an incredibly short time and every effort was made by them to save what could be saved. Had it not been for the fire fighters, Mr. Peter Consley's home would most certainly have caught fire. The contents were all moved into the street, also Mr. Russell Jackson's home was in great danger. Dever Bros. are fitting up their other store across the street and as soon as necessary repairs can be made will begin in business there. The loss of the store is a big blow to Proton Station as well as to the enterprising owners.

Pity the poor farmer. In one part of the country hogs are less than four cents a pound, but in the restaurant it costs 40 cents for two pork chops.

ROCK MILLS

We have plenty of snow now for good sleighing, about a foot of snow fell on Sunday, making some of the back roads pretty heavy, but the cars are still running on the highway.

Logs have been coming into the mill here pretty fast lately as farmers have been making use of the sleighing.

A surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Russell on Friday night, when a number of friends and neighbors from the centre line and the 4th line, also a few of this neighborhood were present. A very enjoyable time was spent by all.

BORN — On Monday, February 1, to Mr. and Mrs. Wes. Smith the gift of a son, both doing nicely.

Mrs. Joyce Porteous, visited the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Johnson of Kemble.

Now that the weather is colder, skating is being enjoyed again on the open air rink here.

Mr. Ned Croft was busy last week delivering an engine to Mount Forest for the Ernest Bros.

Miss E. Oliver attended the funeral of her uncle, the late Mr. Jas. Vause, which took place on Saturday. Our sincere sympathy is extended to the sorrowing relatives.

Heat lemons thoroughly before squeezing them by leaving them in hot water for several minutes and they will yield nearly double the quantity of juice.
