AMERICAN HOUSE,

HANOVER STREET, BOSTON.

THE undersigned having entirely REBUILT and ENLARGED the above extensive establishment, containing in all about three hundred and fifty rooms, would respectfully give notice that it is now ready for the reception and accommodation of the travelling community.

An expanded notice of the unexpanded conveniences of this House is deemed superfluous, as the numerous improvements which have been made cannot be properly given in an advertisement. Suffice it to say that no expense has been spared to render any apartment perfect.

The furniture was made expressly to order, regardless of cost, and certain portions of it, especially the Drawing-rooms, will be found one of the most beautiful and tasteful manufactures. The Dining-rooms are capacious, and the hours for meals will be so arranged as to suit the convenience of the early and late.

Every department will be conducted in an unexceptionable manner, and the Proprietor pledges himself that the American House shall be truly the Traveller's Home.

The National School Books.

NEW EDITIONS.

ARMOUR & RAMSAY.

THE Subscribers, in publishing new editions of the National School Books, beg leave to return their most grateful acknowledgements for the liberal patronage which has been extended by all classes of the community to their publications. The rapidity with which the previous Editions were disposed of, evinces in the most satisfactory and decided manner, that the publishers did not miscalculate, when they reckoned with the most entire confidence upon the intrinsic merits of these Books securing for themselves the countenance and favor of the inhabitants of British America.

The Series consists of the following Books, all of which are printed on substantial paper, in a clear type, and strongly bound with linen:—

A, B, C and Figures, on sheets to be hung up in General Lessons, to hang up in schools.
The First Book of Lessons.
The Second Book of Lessons.
The Sequel to the Second Book.
The Third Book of Lessons.
The Fourth Book of Lessons.
The Fifth Book of Lessons, just published from new stereotype plates.
The first Book of Arithmetic.
Key to do.
An English Grammar.
Key to do.
A Treatise on Book-Keeping.
Key to do.
A Treatise on Mensuration.
Appendix to the Mensuration for the use of Teachers.
An Introduction to Geography and History, by Professor Sullivan, with several Maps.
Elements of Geometry.
Lessons on the Truth of Christianity.

These Books form a complete system of education, and they who have been severely taught by them, may be considered as perfectly well qualified to enter upon the pursuits of active life, and to have acquired a fund of preliminary knowledge amply sufficient to enable them to prosecute the study of the most important branches of human knowledge with profit and ease. The Lessons contained in the reading Books, rise in importance, from the first to the last; and they possess this very distinguishing and characteristic merit, that, during the whole time the pupil is engaged in learning to read, he is at the same time acquiring a knowledge of sound moral principles, and of a vast number of important facts, in History, Literature, and Science. The Treatises on Arithmetic, Grammar, Book-Keeping, Geometry, Mensuration, Geography and History, are unequalled, certainly unsurpassed, in the English language. The rules which they contain, are so simple, yet so comprehensive; so clear, yet so profound; that the pupil who has once become thoroughly acquainted with them, can experience no difficulty, in applying to every case which can be presented to his notice. That this Series of School Books should be possessed of so many and such undoubted merits, is not wonderful, when it is considered, that it has emanated from so learned and so dignified a body, as the National Board of Education of Ireland—a body which numbers among its members, some of the highest names of which the British Empire can boast for virtue and learning. In the Lessons which these Books contain, there is nothing sectarian, and hence, they have received the most unequivocal expressions of approbation, from men in every rank of society, and who maintain the most opposite and widely differing forms of belief. The late estimable Governor General, Lord Metcalfe, when the publishers originally issued their edition, lent them the influence of his authority and name, and they have been sanctioned by the Bishops of the Roman Catholic Church, by many influential Clergymen of the Church of England, by the Synod of the Church of Scotland, by Clergymen in connection with the Methodist, Baptist, Congregational, and other Churches, by the Municipal Councils of many Districts, by a great number of Teachers, by the Chief Superintendents of Education in Eastern and Western Canada, and so far as the Subscribers have yet been informed, by all the District and Township Superintendents in the Western section of the Province, and they have been declared in the most emphatic manner by the Edinburgh Review, "to be the very best book of the kind in the English language."

The National School Books are now so generally used and so universally known that little need be said respecting them. For the information, however, of such as from long use of others, have not yet adopted them, publications, the Publishers append the following testimonials selected from a great variety of others which they were favored when they commenced the publication.

EDUCATION OFFICE, DUBLIN.

Gentlemen,—Having laid before the Commissioners of National Education your letter of the 13th instant, enclosing "Copies of various Certificates in favor of the School Books published by the Board," with the perusal of which they were much gratified, we are directed to inform you, that you have the sanction and authority of the Commissioners for printing for the use of Subscribers in Canada, such of the Irish National School Books, as you may think fit.

We are to state further that those books are in use not only with National Schools of the country, but have a very extensive circulation in England and Scotland—they have been besides translated into several of the Continental languages.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT,
TORONTO, C. W.

Gentlemen,—I Believe in reply to your communication respecting the use of your Series of School Books in Canada, the series of admirable School Books which the Government, [illegible] introduced by the Protestant and Roman Catholic Archbishops of Dublin have published for the National schools of Ireland. These books have been prepared under the auspices of men of great learning and experience, and are remarkable for compactness and for simplicity, clearness and comprehensiveness of definition and arrangement.

I have been induced by the Government to turn my attention to the preparation and selection of books to be recommended for general use in the Common Schools of Canada, and I feel that you are [illegible] in the course you have adopted in reprinting the Irish National School Books. [illegible] Common Schools. You are [illegible] be able to do better than [illegible] permanent use in our Schools, [illegible] century books which you [illegible]

Canada is already and in [illegible] deeply indebted to your enterprising house [illegible] of School Maps and Books. [illegible] the most extensive success in your [illegible] deavours to improve the most [illegible] ment of our Government—the Common [illegible] of Canada.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

EGERTON RYERSON.

From the Rev. Mr Scobie, Rector of the High School, Quebec.

I have long known the Books published for the use of the Irish National Schools under the superintendence of the Commissioners of Education, having seen them extensively used in England both in private families and in public institutions; and so well do they seem to be adapted to the purposes for which they were compiled, that I must consider any effort made to extend their circulation, as deserving of the patronage and encouragement of all classes of the community.

EDW. JOHN SCOBIE,
Rector of the High School, Quebec.

VII

From the Rev. Dr. W. Agar Adamson, of Christ's Church, Montreal.

I am well acquainted with the Books published and used by the Commissioners of National Education in Ireland.

They have held the very highest place in my estimation since I witnessed the beneficial effects of their first introduction into Public Schools and private families, in that country.

I have used them in the instruction of my own children, and have repeatedly urged upon members of the Provincial Government the expediency of reprinting them for Educational purposes in Canada.

Messrs. Armour & Ramsay having undertaken to reproduce them in a form calculated for general circulation in this Province, I consider them as entitled to the generous support of every one who is desirous to spread abroad the blessings of Education, and as deserving of the sincerest gratitude of all who have the welfare of the Province at heart.

W. AGAR ADAMSON,
Chaplain Legislative Council, Assistant Minister of Christ's Church.

From the Rev. Henry Wilkes, A. M., Montreal.

Gentlemen,—I rejoice to hear of the information you have done me the favour to communicate that your enterprising house is engaged in the republication of the Educating Works of the Irish National Board, for the use of the Public Schools in Canada. It appears to me that the importance of having an uniform series of Elementary works of British authorship, for the training to be given in our Schools, cannot fail to strike every mind. The machinery needful in public Education can be worked to better purpose, if it be understood precisely what works are employed for the purpose of training throughout all the Public Schools; while the tax of inspection is thereby lessened, and its efficiency augmented. The frequent removal of the pupils with their parents, which, in a population like ours must continue to be a common occurrence, would not operate so disadvantageously to the progress of such pupils, if the Books employed in Education were uniform.

In regard to the excellence of the Series in the press, I presume little may be. They have well sustained the application of tests more than usually rigid, and they have usually rigid, and they have uniformly proved an unmistakable blessing to Ireland. Without being minutely acquainted with them all, but having somewhat carefully examined several of them, my opinion is, that their introduction into all our Public Schools could not fail to be a national benefit. Next to a sufficient supply of good Teachers, good books are a desideratum in the Colony; it is matter for congratulation that you are about to supply the want.

Without being any way authorized to express the sentiments of the religious body with which I have the honor to be connected, yet I may be permitted to state that from my knowledge of the general sentiments of the Pastors, I have no doubt but that the Series will meet with an enlightened and cordial reception among them.

I am, Gentlemen, yours respectfully,

HENRY WILKES.

From the Reverend J. M. Cramp, President of the Baptist College.

Gentlemen—It gives me great pleasure to learn that you are about to publish a selection from the Irish National School Lessons, for the use of Educational Institutions in Canada. I have been long acquainted with those lessons and value them much. They have been used in my own family which manifest advantage.

It is the peculiar excellence of this Series of Lessons, that it is a storehouse of facts and truths with which all ought to be acquainted. Formerly, children were taught words rather than things; these Lessons teach things rather than words. The information they contain is highly interesting and instructive, and the style in discriminated for perspicuity.

In addition to these commendations, it is to be observed that there is an entire freedom from all sectarian bias. Christians of every persuasion may place these volumes in the hands of their children without the slightest fear or misgiving in the existing state of society in Canada.

I sincerely hope that this enterprise will be attended with abundant success, and shall be happy if I am, gentlemen, you obedient servant.
