ALFALFA NOW SIXTH

Alfalf now stands sixth in area among all field crops grown in the Province of Ontario, and occupies about 650,000 acres. According to Jas. Laughland, Field Husbandry Department, O.A.C., Guelph, the great increase in this crop during the last 20 years has been due to the development of hardy strains along with the outstanding merits of alfalfa as a forage crop. Being a hardy deep-rooted perennial legume alfalfa improves the texture of the crop, adds humus, and aids in the storing of nitrates. It begins to grow early in the spring, helps to control weeds and remains green throughout the season.

Artemesia Girl Bereaved

A death occurred at St. Catharines last week which was of interest to many people in this district, in the person of Mr. Bonar Balfour, husband of an Artemesia girl, Miss Elizabeth Collinson, sister of Mr. J. F. Collinson and Mrs. Frank Cairns of Artemesia township. The deceased was a son of the late George William Balfour, M.D., L.L.D., F.R.C.P.E., physician-in-Scotland to Her Majesty Queen Victoria and to His Majesty King Edward VII. He was also a first cousin of Robert Louis Stevenson. Mr. Balfour came to Canada in his youth and served in the Reil Rebellion. Later he went to New York and became secretary to the Macmillan Publishing Company. In 1909 he returned to Canada and since that time he has operated a farm in which he raised flowering bulbs and plants. Besides his sorrowing wife he leaves one son, also named Bonar

SAVED!

A week or two ago one of our esteemed correspondents sent in items describing events in connection with the leaving of a young lady evidently to get married. There were presentations of a china-tea set, a silver tea-set, etc., and the closing remark, as it appeared in type to our proofreader was "Our best dishes go with her." Fortunately the error was detected and corrected.

A wheelbarrow set on a tread mill and filled with weights until the tread starts is the closest thing to perpetual motion as it will run indefinitely. A blacksmth in Eganville made the discovery accidentally.

New Zealand Treaty

It looks as though the Radio Committee would report in favor of the principle of public ownership, setting up a Commission of three with power to lease, purchase or expropriate the broadcasting stations, arrange programs, make whatever agreements are necessary with privately-owned stations, etc. Such action, I understand, not to be taken until financial conditions are more promising, and not then at any additional cost. to the governmen or tax-payer. It is claimed that a license fee of $3 per year would yield ample revenue for both operating and capital costs; that is, no other than owners of radio sets will be taxed.

A new New Zealand treaty has been negotiated, very similar to the old. Again the treaty has been made for the benefit of the automobile manufacturing industry at the expense of agriculture. New Zealand butter, about which we heard so much in 1930, had then a tariff against it of 1% Under the new Act this has been raised to 5%, but the difference in exchange between New Zealand and Canada will almost altogether overcome the tariff, so if a low tariff against New Zealand butter was a crime in 1930, it is still a crime. The Hon. James Malcolm, Minister of Trade and Commerce in the Mackenzie King Government, made a speech of approval of the treaty; his first speech in the House since his serious illness. He reviewed the butter situation for a number of years back and showed that we were importing butter in 1930 because we needed butter. Milk was flowing into the condensories and ice cream businesses and a great deal of cream was then being shipped to the United States. The Hon. Mr. Malcolm continued: "I said in the House and on the hustings, and I say now to Mr. Hon. friend, the Minister, thatifhe does have to import dairy produce and as a result of this import we can increase the volume of manufactured goods being sold to New Zealand, the workmen who will manufacture these goods in Canada will consume much of the condensed milk, butter and eggs imported, so on the whole, the trade will be a good trade.

"I hope that never again in this country or in this House, will we have the same hyprocisy and insincerity that we had in connection with the criticism of our inmportation of butter from New Zealand." Mr. Malcolm went on to show that butter is on an export basis to-day, due, in his opinion, to lack of prosperity in Canada. The amount of butter consumed here has dropped in two years from 350 million to 217 million pounds.

You may have noticed in the press that the House of Representatives in Washington, D.C., passed a bill amending the Federal Reserve Act, enabling the Federal Resarv Board to put into the market four million dollars in Federal Reserve notes, for the purpose of raising the price level of commodities. If the interest charges against it are not too great it ought to have the desired effect.

Home Surroundings Count

"We are influenced to a greater extent than we realize by our surroundings" observes F. C. Nunnick chairman of the More Beautiful Canada Campaign Committee of the Canadian Horticultural Council. As he points out " children are particularly responsive to home surroundings and where these include lawns, shrubs trees and flowers they make a much better place in which to bring up children than in a home where no attention whatever is paid to these friends of the plant kingdom."

Environment is an important factor with children. The constant contact with the beautiful things of nature which well-kept home grounds affords is too important in the welfare of the home and the child to be overlooked.

RAILWAYS TO OPERATE TRUCKS AND BUSES

The railways of Canada are about ready to declare war on the motor truck and bus, Sir Henry Thornton told the Railways and Shipping Committee of the Commons. He said several conferences had been held with Edward W. Beatty, President of the C.P.R., and was warmly applauded when he added that "the time for talking is past; the time for action has arrived." If the railways do decide to beat the motor trucks at their own game they will go into it jointly. 'This is not an exclusively Canadian National or Canadian Pacific problem," said Sir Henry. "It is a Canadian railway problem. Both systems are vitally interested, and we are endeavoring to solve the problem jointly.
