Members of the Aid and friends to the number of 22 were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Wiley at their home. The business dealt with consisted largely of making arangements for the coming anniversary, supper and entertainment to be held at the church in Feversham on Tuesday, Sept. 13th. After this had been disscussed and planned for, a time of happy social fellowship was spent on the lawn. The crowning feature then followed when the assembled guests sat down to a table heavily laden with good things, and could be fittingly called a sumptuous banquet. Died From Diphtheria

EUGENIA

Many were shocked to hear of the sudden passing of little Robert Roy Fawcett 8 year old son and youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. James Fawcett of this village. He had been ill since Sunday, Aug. 21st, and his parents, not knowing that his ailment was that dreaded disease, diphtheria, did not summon a doctor in time and thus the disease proved fatal. The funeral was private, as the house was under quarantine. Rev. McNeill, the United church pastor, preached the sermon. Interment was made in Salem cemetery. A number of relatives and sympathizing friends followed the remains to their resting place. The pallbearers were his three brothers, Bates, Ed. and Jimmie, and his brother-in-law, Thos. Hazzard.

Many pretty floral tributes, expressing sympathy, were placed upon the little casket.

Besides his sorrowing parents he leaves in sad bereavement six brothers and several sisters, to whom we extend our profound sympathy. Little Roy was a clever little boy and was well liked. He will be missed by many in this village, as well as in the home.

He has gone through the beautiful gates
Away to the city of gold,
Which knows no sorrow, sin nor pain;
He is safe in the heavenly fold.

We cannot tell who next may fall
Beneath God's chastening rod,
One must be first, but let us all
Prepare to meet our God.
