Harvest Services

The 69th Annual Harvest Thanksgiving Services of St. Mary's Anglican church, Maxwell, were held on Sunday, Sept. 11th at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. with splendid attendances and excellent weather. The rector, Rev. M. F. Oldham had charge of the services and preached two suitable sermons in a. m. on Genesis 30: 14 and p. m. on Psalm 136:1 dealing with the subject of the harvest and the lessons received therefrom, stressing thankfulness. The Sacrament of the Holy Communion was observed at the morning service. The church was beautifully decorated with grain, flowers, fruits and vegetables and looked the nicest for years. Mrs. F. J. Seeley, the organist gave valuable service and prepared a choir of 10 voices to sing 2 beautiful anthems one at each service, which were most appropriate for the occasion and were much enjoyed by all present. The offering was splendid and the day was an important one in the history of the church.

IMMATURITY AND CULLS RUIN FRUIT BUSINESS

Ontario growers are again advised against the practice of placing immature fruit on the market.

C. E. Broughton of the Ontario Marketing Board reports that only recently, he noticed a quantity of plums on the Toronto market which should have been left on the trees for at least another two weeks.

Another practice, detrimental to business as a whole, is that of selling cull fruit to jobbers who are definitely in the market for that quality of product. Generally, it does not seem to be known that there is a law against selling culls, unless these are being transported direct to a processing plant, to be used in the manufactore of apple by-products.

According to Mr. Broughton growers should co-operate in an efforts to keep the market free from culls. The marketing of culls does serious injury to the entire trade, through creating dissatisfied customers.

Now Cotton Roads

A workman has his shirt torn off by an asphalt distributor and it dropped to the bed of a new highway being built in Arkansas. Now engineers and cotton experts are seeing what can be done about getting a few cotton shirts in the base of every highway, and soon we may have "cotton roads." Believe it or not, the spot where the workman's shirt dropped was the only place that resisted cracking from mud and rain action, and it turned out that the cotton fabris, waterproofed with asphalt, was what did the trick. Since then experiments have been conducted with large rolls of loosely woven cotton cloth laid on an asphalt base with more asphalt on top. The use of the cotton creates tensile strength just as fabric does in an automobile tire. Cotton growers are not at all sorry the workman lost his shirt.

WHEAT AND MOTOR CARS

The tremendous influence of a good wheat crop on Canada's morale, beginning now to be felt as the golden stream starts to flow from the prairie provinces, is easily understood from a study of economic effects. First of all, a man who grows a "section' of wheat at 25 bushels to the acre has 16,000 bushels of wheat, which is a very tidy fortune and an important factor in local business revival. Then the effects of the crop extend down through railway, storage and harbor organizations and ultimately to industries generally throughout the country. The handling of the wheat crop is a big item, both for domestic use and for export. Exports of Canadian wheat in the month of July this year were nearly 20,000,000 bushels, compared with 12,000,000 in July, 1931.

The city of Vancouver is an example of a community benefiting from grain activity. The total shipments of grain from Vancouver for the crop year ending July, 1932, were over 84,000,000 bushels, as compared to 74,000,000 bushels for the previous crop year.

Every cent added to the price of grain means several million dollars additional for the revival of Canadian business. Automobile manufacturers are confident that this year's crop will mean increased demand for cars, especially in the Western provinces.

Flesherton boys and mixed and Dundalk girls will compete against winners in the other 3 groups. The evening supper to be followed by final debate and public speaking contests in Annesley church. The teams debating are Dundalk and St. Pauls, Sydenham.

Alterations have been made to the Fifth Form room in Flesherton high school that will relieve the crowded situation of the school rooms to a large extent. A wash room on the second floor at the rear of the Fifth Form room has been removed and the inside wall taken down. The Second Form will take this room, while the Fifth will take their room on the first floor. More scholars are attending this year than any other year in the history of the school, 130 being registered on Monday.

THE HAWAIIANS

Swinging into a romantic South Sea setting comes a soft-voiced group of Hawaiian singers in native costume who play Hawaiian music as it is meant to be played. Steel guitars, ukeleles and rich voices blend naturally into the pungent melodies of this island territory.

One of the brightest and most colorful of musical treats is appearing in the Armories at Markdale on September 23, 24, 26 and 27, on the second day of the Chautauqua—"An Evening in Hawaii" presented by Vierra's Hawaiians.

Albert Vierra and his notable company of native singers and instrumentalists will feature Hawaiian music as it should be played and sung. Mr. Vierra has won fame throughout Europe and America for his artistic musical productions which give a vivid glimpse of life in the far away and glamorous islands of the Pacific.

Amid a setting of colorful tropical splendour, haunting Hawaiian melodies, quaint comedy, and splendid singing round out this "Evening in Hawaii."

In the afternoon, Mrs. Vierra takes you on an informative, informal visit to Hawaii, which enhances and gives meaning to the ever changing, colorful Hawaiian stage setting.

What color are your eyes? You have all heard that the color of eyes has a great deal to do with one's love affairs. Perhaps it is true. At any rate the movie colony would lead one to believe that color does make a difference. Of fifteen aertresses under contract in a big movie company, only one has brown eyes. They may be more vivacious but girls with blue eyes evidently have more chance to make good in the movies.
