Relics of Early Days

An envelope that went the Rounds from Early Artemesia

Postmaster Bellamy has an interesting old envelope which leads to the study of something of the early nomenclature of this section of the province. It is a dirty yellow in color, evidently handmade and somewhat smaller than the standard business size of the present day, and bears on the face of it the words, "registered paid," and the address, "John W. Armstrong, Clerk 5, Division Court, "Proton" post office, C. W." also a large "3" and the postmark, "Nottawasaga station, Feb., 1858." On the back there are three postmarks, these indicating the route of the mail, probably by stage. One reads, Collingwood Harbor, Feb. 20," another "Owen Sound, 22nd Feb., 1858, C.W.," and the third "Chatsworth, Feb. 23, 1858, U.C."

Nottawasaga station is now Stayner, while the word "harbor" was quietly dropped from Collingwood this, despite the fact that the post office authorities had not heard of it, taking place officially on January 1st 1858, seventy-five years ago, when the town was incorporated. "Proton" post office was later changed to Inistioge and still later abolished, though there is today Proton Station, a few miles away on the Toronto-Owen Sound line of the C.P.R.

The envelope under notice belongs to the collection of Mr. Charles Bellamy of Flesherton, something of a philatelist, and by his continued interest has brought together a very fine and valuable collection. He finds it creative of historical study, which returns him a full meausure of pleasure. The envelope herewith described is but one of the many interesting exhibits in his possession.—Collingwood-Enterprise Bulletin.

Partridge Broke Window

As soon as it was announced that there would be an open season for partridge that toothsome bird immediately went crazy over the prospect and one of them flew into town and crashed through a large bedroom window in Mr. John Macdonald's residence about daylight on Tuesday morning. Some of the children were sleeping in the room and they proceeded to scream, thinking it was burglars, and wakened the household. Mrs. Macdonald captured the fool bird alive and placing it in a box will probably crate feed it until the season opens, when it will be transformed into "quail on toast."

MINATURE TRAIN AT FLESHERTON FAIR

A miniature train is to be one of the features at Flesherton fair on Friday afternoon, that will give the kiddies and adults an extra good time. This train was operating at the Canadian National Exhibition and is at Shelburne today, Wednesday. It is a real train, run by a steam engine on a real railroad track and will give the boys and girls a real thrill. Bring the kiddies to the fair so that they may have a ride. They will have the time of their lives.

PARTRIDGE OPEN SEASON

Partridge hunting in this section of the province is open from October 10 to October 20, both days inclusive. A bag limit of five each day or 16 for the season has been set by the department. The partridge are not any more numerous in this district than they have been for years and to see a group of five birds together is an event.

We read of schoolboy howlers in most every paper we pick up and here is a good one that happened in our local school. Mr. Robinson, in his rotary, was teaching history to the Jr. III. and after telling of the Algonquins, Iroquois, etc., he said the men they call "Braves", the women are called "Squaws" and now Pauline, can you tell me what the babies are called? and quick as a flash Pauline answered "Squawkers."

Good Horse Races For Flesherton Fair

Admission Fee Dropped To 25c For The Fair — Good Program

Horse racing is the feature again this year at the East Grey fair at Flesherton on Friday afternoon next. Three events are carded, the 2.15 trot or pace, 2.25 trot or pace and a named race. It is expected that the three Proton Station horses, amongst whom keen rivalry has been raging, will compete in this race, along with a couple of local horses. Some good horses are coming for the other two events and some keen races are expected again this year. The business men of Flesherton are backing the fair to the limit this year and have taken up a subscription to stage the horse races as usual. A big crowd is expected to enjoy the races again this year, if the weather man is good to the directors of the Fair.

At 1:30 p.m. a softball game will be played between Flesherton and Singhampton men's team. Singhampton has had a great record this year and as the local team has not met defeat in three months the game should prove to be a real contest. Then there will be the midway to while away some of the time, besides watching the judging of live stock in the various rings.

Both Thursday and Friday nights the Holstein Dramatic Club will present their play "Yimmy Yomson's Yob," a three-act play that has been given a great reception around the Club's home village. It is well worth seeing and should be up to the standard of plays given other years.

Admission to the fair grounds has been reduced this year to 25 cents per person, while the concert admission is 35 cents each night. With the admission to the grounds so low and with the excellent program of sports the largest crowd in the history of the fair should be present.

If you have never attended Flesherton Fair do so this year and you will have a real enjoyable afternoon on Friday.

After the concert each night a dance will be held in the town hall, for which a first class orchestra will play. Admission to the dance 25c.

Flesherton Champions

Flesherton are the champions in the mixed and boys teams of the Young Peoples Union of Grey. The games were played in Markdale on Wednesday afternoon last, the day being fine for the occasion.

The first game of the afternoon was played between Flesherton and Thornbury, boys teams. The Thornbury boys played good ball, and played hard until the last, but the former team came out ahead, by a rather one-sided score. The Flesherton boys declared that the Thornbury boys were the best sports they had played against this year.

Immediately after the Thornbury game, the mixed teams of Owen Sound and Flesherton played a five inning game. It was a hard battle fought by both sides, but the locals were a fraction the better team and came out one run ahead, the score being 9-8.

The last game played was perhaps the best game spectators had witnessed for some time. This game was between Owen Sound and Flesherton boys. Genoe pitched a wonderful game for Flesherton, while Owen Sound's pitcher was rather wild at times. Neither team was able to bring in a run in the first two innings, but in the third Flesherton brought in 4, and when the rivals came to bat they brought in 3. The game at the end of the three innings had to be called on account of darkness. Owen Sound hated to see defeat staring them in the face and tried to have the game protested by saying that 3 of the local players did not belong to the Y.P.S., but this would not hold water as they were regular attendants, so they had to go peacefully home with the small end of the 4-3 score. The Dundalk girls won the girls championship, and had an easy victory as the Durham girls didn't show up and the game was won by default.

The Flesherton men's team has not been defeated this year, and they dish up real snappy ball that is worth seeing. Any team wishing to play these Wildcats, write to H. Best, Flesherton, or phone 80 and they will be glad to give any team a game. This team will play at the Flesherton Fair against Singhampton and the game is sure to be a bang-up affair. Don't fail to see it. The players are listed below.

"NEW BROOMS"

Presented by the Canadian Players

"New Brooms" sweeps up a lot of laughs. Hilarious humor and keen, good-natured observation of human nature mark this realistic comedy. Critics proclaim it a vast entertainment.

"New Brooms" will be presented in Markdale on Friday evening, Sept. 23rd.

Warble flies constitute serious pest of cattle wherever they are common. It is estimated by federal entomologists that fully 50 per cent of the hides taken off cattle in 1930 were damaged by this pest and the loss in value to hides alone amounted to $700,000. The annual loss throughout Canada from this pest is estimated at from $7,000,000 to $14,000,000.
