POINTS ON HOG FEEDING

The big thing for the hog feeder to keep in mind, according to the Dominion Animal Husbandman, is "the feeder needs the frame but the ideal type which sells as the "select" bacon hog must have both. Grow the frame first. Never feed more than pigs will clean up; over-feeding, particularly of heavy or unbalanced rations, causes unthriftiness which in turn is the common cause of short, thick pigs. For the first four months the pig should clean his trough and look for more.

Things we'd like to see: The old "Help Wanted" sign put up again and wheat at $1 a bushel.

Artemesia School Fair

Artemesia Rural School Fair was held in Flesherton on Saturday and the event was marred by cold weather and rain. The number of schools competing at the fair this year was reduced considerably from other years, but the quality of the exhibits was excellent though few in numbers in comparison. Only four schools took part in the parade and Flesherton was awarded first prize with Orange Valley, Vandeleur and Priceville coming in order. In the Strathcona drill, Priceville was awarded first, Vandeleur second and Orange Valley third.

Frances Reiley of Priceville won first in the Girls' Public Speaking with Valeria Stafford and Isobel Boyd of S.S. No. 2, second and third, Margaret McLean and Catherine O'Neil of Priceville fourth and fifth respectively. Teddy Moore of S. S. No. 4 took first place in Boys' Public speaking with Jamie Sutherland of Priceville second. Flesherton had the only chorus of seven voices in competition in the singing and Ruth Wolstencroft of Flesherton was also the only competitor in the girls' solo. Donald Scott of Flesherton was the winner in the boys' solo, with Kenneth Nichol of Priceville second and Burton Bellamy of Flesherton third

The exhibits in the hall showed excellent preparation by the pupils of the various schools, the manual training work being especially good, the winner in each of the items for competition having taken extra precautions in their work that would be a credit to older heads. Competition was keen in the flower section, as many fine displays were shown.

While the attendance at the fair and the number of schools in competition for prizes fell off considerably this year, great enthusiasm was displayed by the pupils and it is hoped that the former policy of the Department with respect to free seed, etc., will be resumed next year, as the 1932 fairs are functioning entirely on exhibits from the home gardens. We hope to publish the winners in the various classes next week.

THE FARM POULTRY FLOCK

Poultry is at last definitely recognized as one of the essential departments of every up-to-date farm where a program of mixed farming is carried on. Not only is it resognized as a necessary department of farm work but more and more farmers are coming to realize that for the capital invested and labor involved there are few, if any, departments that give as high returns. For the mixed farm, such as Plymouth Rocks, which are good both for laying and for the production of market poultry, are recommended. A flock of a hundred such birds, carefully managed, are returning to many a farmer a profit over cost of feed of from $200 to $500 a year, which is something not to be disdained by even the most successful farmers.

It looks as though the nations of the world who allied themselves against the German hordes in 1914-1918 will have to make it clear to Germany that she must abide by the terms of the Treaty of Versailles. It is apparent from the news despatches from that country that she considers this sacred treaty as simply a "scrap of paper."
