No Blame Attached To Driver Of Car

"We, the jury empanelled to investigate the death of Jack McMullen and Jack Welton, beg to submit the following: That Jack Welton and Jack McMullen came to their death by accident caused by their bob sleigh on which they were riding colliding with a motor car driven by Walter Rows. We also find the accident was unavoidable and the driver of the car exonerated and no blame attached to him. We also recommend that the necessary school zone signs be placed on the highway by the proper authorities and that all sleigh riding on village sidewalks and highways be prohibited, and that the parents and guardians co-operate with the authorities in this."

The above was the verdict of the jury inquiring on Thursday last into the death of Jack McMullen and Jack Welton, which occurred on Friday, November 18th. The scene of the accident was on the highway directly in front of the public school property, the latter being instantly killed and the former living for an hour and a half after the accident. Walter Rows of Meaford was the driver of the car which figured in the accident and the jury found that no blame could be attached to him.

Quite a number of spectators were present in the court room and all were of the opinion that it was an unavoidable accident and sympathy was expressed to the driver of the death car who felt his position keenly.

The inquest was conducted by Coroner Dr. F. Martin of Dundalk and with County Crown Attorney W. D. Henry, K.C., of Markdale conducted the examination in the town hall.

Mrs. W. Dungey was the only eye witness of the tragedy and she stated that she had screamed to the boys to stop when she saw their danger.

The provincial police examined the car after the accident and stated that it was in good shape and that the brakes were in an excellent condition. The back wheel was broken off and a fender and running board damaged.

Mr. Walter Rows, driver of the car, said that he did not have a speedometer on the car, but thought that he was travelling at between 20 to 25 miles per hour. He stated that he did not see the sleigh until it suddenly shot out into the road in front of him.

The jury was composed of Messrs. W. W. Trimble, foreman, Alf. Down, Fred Stuart, T. J. Fisher, F. W. Duncan, F. H. W. Hickling and C. J. Bellamy.

A CHALLENGE TO FARMERS.

Hogs, if anything, have been the mortgage lifters of Grey county farms in the past. At the present they are disappointing, but undoubtedly will not long remain such.

The Imperial Conference has opened up a great regulated market. This offers a challenge. Will the farmers respond? We believe so.

This regulated market is guaranteed for five years. Farmers are therefore assured five years to establish themselves on the British market.

To secure this market the three essentials are:

1. Quality.
2. A regular quantity.
3. Large volume.

These constitute the challenge. Every farmer should therefore resolve to maintain his best stock in normal production. The challenge can be accepted if everyone acts.

FUEL WOOD INDUSTRY RESUMES IN ONTARIO

"Another example of the Ontario farmer's ingenuity, under present conditions," commented J. A. Carroll, director, Markets Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, "is illustrated by the fact that he is using, bartering and selling fuel for fuel. Until comparatively recently, the fuel industry in many parts of Ontario had almost ceased. Today, however, it is a common sight to see wood being moved along country roads towards the city, or from one farm to another.

"In many cases where a direct sale of wood cannot be made, I understand that farmers have adopted the resourceful idea of using fuel to meet their bills, or exchanging it for other products."

Windsor detectives discovered two boys letting air out of tires of automobiles parked on the street. They immediately thought of a new way of punishing the young offenders by making them replace the air which they had let escape from the tires with a hand pump. After filling 20 tires the boys retired to their homes looking for liniment to relieve sore arms and backs.

SUGAR BUSH LICENSES

While no fee is required for a license for a sugar bush or orchard the Maple Products Act requires that all owners of sugar bush or orchard obtain a license not later than the end of December in each year. A great many applications for licenses or renewals have already been received by the Dominion Fruit Branch, and the value of these to producers becoming better known is doing much to develop and expand the industry.
