Christmas 1932

Christmas time provides one of those rare moments in life when we forget the rush and cares of business and give thought to the more worth-while things of life.

It is a time when we feel tolerant toward the entire world and deeply grateful for the happiness and friendships with which we have been surrounded. It inspires us to frankly express our gratitude for all of these fine thnigs.

As your friendship and patronage have generously contributed to our happiness and welfare, we want you to know that our thoughts at this time are of you.

We wish you an abundance of good health, prosperity and happiness for the New Year.

F. PINDER, Flesherton

QUALITY BRINGS PRICE

"In spite of the usual heavy December marketings, at the Union Stock Yards, choice cattle are still bringing a favorable price margin," commented Garnet H. Duncan, live stock investigator, Ontario Marketing Board.

"This should serve as a reminder to producers that quality is a very definite factor in any orderly scheme of marketing. Forced liquidation for tax payment, is one reason for the market being flooded with stock of both choice and indifferent quality, at certain periods of the year. If this is so, I would say that a remedy might be affected by means of co-operation between the producer and his local municipal authorities."

Kimberley Show

The Kimberley Poultry Association held their annual show on Wednesday and Thursday of last week, but owing to the storm many from a distance were unable to show their birds, and the exhibit was therefore small. Heavy storms visited us on Wednesday and Thursday of last week and many roads were blocked. The provincial snow plow came north on Friday and opened Highway 10, returning on Saturday.

The township of Osprey is not getting along very well with the collection of taxes. On Dec. 15 only one-third of the taxes had been paid. At that date Artemesia had collected 60 per cent.

The United church decoration on Sunday included a handsome Easter lily, contributed by Mrs. Frank Thurston. It is unusual for an Easter lily to bloom at Christmas time, and this quite as appropriate as it would be for Easter.

Dr. R. H. Henderson of Toronto, on account of ill-health, on the advice of his physician has been forced to retire from business for a period of six months. After thirty-five strenuous years of dental practice, twenty-five of which he has specialized in Exodontia (extraction of teeth) the many friends of the doctor in the village and vicinity will regret to learn of his indisposition, but hope that a six months' rest may restore him to his usual health.

The exercises in St. John's Sabbath school took an unusual turn last Sunday when views were shown on the canvas of our missionary work in Dondi and Angola, West Africa. A picture of David Livingstone the great missionary and explorer of Africa was shown, whose heart was buried in Africa, but whose body lies in Westminihter Abbey, having been carried hundreds of miles to the cost by some of his faithful converts. Dr Murray manipulated the lantern and Mrs. Murray told the story. It was all very interesting.

A Hungry Fish

The Sault Star is in the habit of relating some remarkable stories of fishing and hunting experiences, but we have seen nothing from the pen of Bro. Curran that can outyarn the following incident related to us recently. The affair occurred on the Lake of the Woods last August and is vouched for by a resident of Chicago whose word we have no reason to doubt.

It was a bright sunshiny afternoon when a party of gentlemen were trolling on the lake. It was nearing sundown when one of the party, who wore glasses, was leaning over the bow of the boat. The sun had evidently focused on his glasses, making a bright spot, which a large fish decided was something good to eat Jumping out of the water it grabbed the glasses, at the same time splashing a deluge of water over the fisherman. A moment afterwards there was a tug at the troll and the big fish was brought alongside, but managed to pull loose. However, the troll had caught the glasses in the fish's gullet and were recovered!

Snow shovelling is a favorite pastime this week.

Mr. Herbert Corbett, Proton, is Pres. of the Ont. Trustee and Ratepayers Association, attended a meeting of the Belleville District held in Brighton last week and also an organization meeting of a County association in Sydenham of the County of Frontenac.
