AN EMBARRASING QUESTION

Robert Quillen, noted American writer, has, in the last issue of his paper, The Fountain Inn Tribune, of South Carolina, an article under the heading of "Paper" as follows:

"One great need of the times is a trade name for toilet paper. There isn't a lady in town who can ask for it in a store without blushing, or order it over a phone without snickering.

"In Russia there is no such nonsense. For that matter, there is no toilet paper. It is one of the luxuries that disappeared when 'freedom' came.

"Will Durant, the famous philosopher, reports in the Saturday Evening Post that he and his lady companion travelling in Russia, were in sore straits until a generous friend gave them a couple of rolls.

"And Alexander Woollcott, who spent a few weeks in Russia this winter, reports some of his impressions in the New Yorker and tells how the prettiest young lady in Moscow gave him a rapturous good-bye kiss at the railway station because he had given her a roll of toilet paper.

"These matters are reported here in hope of lessening your embarassment in future. You don't appreciate your blessings. If this land suffered as Russia does, you would be glad to stand on the house top and yell for toilet paper if you could get it no other way."

Canadian Pacific Have Reduced Train Size

In order to meet existing conditions in passenger traffic and express and baggage shipments the Canadian Pacific Railway trains to and from Toronto now have a combination baggage and express car, with a mail compartment in one end, instead of two cars and one coach has been taken off two of the trains.

Every train too and from Toronto formerly had two passenger coaches a bagagge and express car and a mail car with room for express. The C.P.R., besides combining the baggage, express and mail accomodations in one car, has also removed one of the passenger coaches from the morning train from Toronto and from the afternoon train to Toronto. The other two trains will still have the two coaches.

These reductions have been made in accordance with prevailing conditions. Like every other business, the railways have felt the stress of the times and when it was evident that these economies could be made and that ample accommodation could still be provided, action was taken.

VALENTINE PARTY

A valentine and crokinole party under the auspices of Chalmer's church W. A. was held on Monday evening, February 13th. Progressive crokinole was played in the early evening while later it took the form of a Valentine party. The ladies' prize for crokinole was awarded to Mrs. Lewis Fisher, while Master Everett Croft captured the gentleman's prize. Other prizes of the evening were awarded to Gordon Stuart and Mrs. Jas. Wilson. A fairly good attendance was present and at the close a Valentine lunch was served.

Evidently deflation has long since reached the point where business has been bumping along on a flat tire, as it were.

May Lose An Eye

While chopping a small pole in his yard on Wednesday of last week, Mr. Chas. Stafford of Toronto Line North suffered a painful accident that will likely cause the loss of one eye. A piece of wood flew up and struck him on the left eye, splinters of which penetrated below the eyeball. He immediately pulled out one piece that was embedded and when in the house extracted another splinter. On Saturday he was taken to the Markdale hospital, but will likely have to consult a specialist. It is expected that he will lose the sight of the eye, with the chance that the other eye may become affected.

Markdale Won From Flesherton by 8-6 Score

On Monday night the town team went up and played Markdale's best with the score resulting 8-6. The fans were given a great exhibition of fast hockey, both teams being in excellent condition. McCutcheon was Flesherton's star, while Johnston was Markdale's ace. T. Berry played a good game of back-checking for Markdale while Best for Flesherton showed up well. Two penalties were handed out, both for minor offences, each team drawing one. The game ended in the first period 1-1 and from then until the end it was very uncertain who was to come out victorious. Wright had an "on" night in the Markdale nets, and had it not been for his luck the score would have been different. Flesherton was also handicapped with the lack of alternates.

Flesherton—Goal, Gibson; defence R. Boyd and H. Best; centre, H. McCutcheon; wings, G. Sled, B. Patton; alternate, E. Johnson.

Markdale—Goal, Wright; defence, Johnson and Perkins; centre, Berry; wings, McCutcheon and Singleton; alternates, Hamilton and Kidd.

Referee—Art Orr.

Ice Harvesting

Ice harvesting is in full swing in Flesherton at the present time, cutting taking place at McCauley's pond. The ice is from 12 to 15 inches thick, the heavy frost of last week bringing the ice to the depth required.

Depression is a time when revenues shrink and conscience money is thrice welcome.
