Let Justice be Done.

(From the Cleveland Leader.)

The reaction in public sentiment at Detroit over the McCoskry scandal is complete and overwhelming. It is now known that the letters upon which the charges against the venerable Bishop were based are of two classes, the real and the forged ones. The first class includes four, which are now in the safe of the First National Bank in that city. They are said by a correspondent who seen them to be "letters such as any Christian gentleman, especially a clergyman, might write to a young female ward—letters of advice, counsel and instruction." The indecent letters, on the other hand, are plainly the work of another hand. They bear no signature except a hieroglyphic cipher, and their language is coarse, misspelled and vulgar, as different as possible from the chaste, scholarly manuscript of the Bishop, as shown in the genuine letters. Another fact is of great weight as pointing out the real author of the scandal. McConnell, the printer, who professes to have stolen the letters from Fanny Richards while courting her, has a certain aptness in drawing. The forged letters are interlarded with indecent drawings in pen and pencil, just such sketches as McConnell has been frequently known to make, but which Bishop McCoskry could not make if he had wished to. All this with the prompt and honestly indignant denial of Mrs Bannister and McCoskry ought it would seem to constitute an impregnable case, without further examination or trial. The obvious fact is that a low-bred, foul-minded villian stole a few harmless letters from a girl whom he was courting, wrote some other ones and made up a prurient sensation for the dirty newspaper market. He offered his filth to the New York Herald and other papers, but could find no purchaser until he encountered the Chicago Times. How much that journal paid for this last privilege of making a fool of itself and spreading a reeking libel, no one probably except the parties to the bargain knows or cares. The Times' account made it appear that its correspondent, sent ostensibly from Chicago, had seen the letters on which the story was based. If they did so and are men of average intelligence, they must have seen that the indecent letters were forgeries—at least written in a different handwriting from the others. If they saw this they must have walked into the enterprise consciously and with open eyes. If not, there should be some means of teaching them and Mr Storey better discretion. Here would seem to be a case in which to test the question whether a man or woman of blameless life has or has not any protection against the class of newspapers which deliberately and wantonly prey upon private character.

Bishop McCoskry Withdraws His Resignation.

The Churchman of this week publishes the following letter from Bishop McCoskry to the presiding bishop:

New York, May 4, 1878.

Rt. Rev. and dear Brother,—I hereby withdraw my letter resigning the jurisdiction of the Diocese of Michigan, dated March 11, 1878, and I beg to inform you that I have abandoned my intended trip to Europe in consequence of painful events of recent occurrence. It is my purpose to remain in the country for the present, in order that I may be easily accessible to all whose duty it may be to see me. With the strongest desire to vindicate my character, I find it impossible to meet charges which have taken no shape, except the vague and varied one put before the public by newspaper rumors and abusive gossip.

Reiterating my emphatic and solemn denial of all the scandalous allegations against me, I hold myself ready to meet any definite charges made by responsible parties, in conformity with Title II., Canon 9, Section [2], Subsection 1. of the Digest.

The above course of action, I am authorised to say, meets with the approval of those brethren of the Episcopate whom I have had the opportunity of consulting.

I began this note by announcing the withdrawal of my resignation, I conclude it by saying that this is done to give opportunity for the vindication of my character. So soon as this end shall be attained my resignation will be renewed because of increasing physical infirmities.

Most faithfully and affectionately yours,

SAMUEL A. MCCOSKRY,
Bishop of Michigan.

The Churchman adds editorially: "The Bishop of Michigan having withdrawn his resignation of the jurisdiction of his diocese, the presiding bishop takes this method to recall his summons to the different bishops to meet in New York on the 17th of June."

Extracts from a letter from C. H. S. Cronkhite, Esq.:

Canterbury Station, York Co., N.B., October, 10th, 1876.

Mr J. H. Robinson,

Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of enquiry, I would say that your Phosphorized Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Lacto phosphate of Lime is the best preparation of the kind I have ever seen or taken.

"I was ordered by my physician to take it, and commenced about the last of August, and since that time I have felt like a different man, and also look differently, and all for the better, as the doctor can testify.

"I was unable, in the summer, to walk any distance without much fatigue. I can now take my gun and travel all day, and feel first-rate at night, and eat as much as any lumberman. Have not bled any since I took your preparation, and can now inflate my lungs without feeling any soreness, and I think I can inflate them up to the full measurement same as before I was sick; have also gained in flesh; my weight in the summer was 173 lbs., and now it is nearly 190 lbs., which is pretty well up to my former weight)

The foregoing is a correct statement which I am prepared to swear to, and I hereby authorize you to give it publicity in my name.

I am, dear sir, yours truly,
(Signed,) C. H. S. CRONKHITE.

We, the undersigned, hereby consent to have our names published as witnesses to the effects of Robinson's Phosphorized Emulsion on the person of Mr Cronkhite, and do assert that the foregoing statement is correct in every particular.

ALEXANDER BENNETT, J.P.
(Signed.) WILLIAM MAIN.
REV. THOS. HARTIN.
