HOW TO FIGURE THE DAY OF YOUR BIRTH

"Say, why do folks write to the newspapers to find out on what day of the week they were born when there is such an easy method of figuring it out for themselves?"

"Perhaps the method is not generally known," answered the scribe.

"Well it's simple enough," was the reply. "First, you count the Leap Years that have occurred since the year of your birth. Then you add the number of Leap Years to the age that you reach on this year's birthday and divide the sum total by seven.

"If there is no remainder you were born on the same day of the week as that on which your birthday falls this year. If there is a remainder, say four, and your birthday this year is on Friday, you count the days of the week 'backwards' four days, from Friday to Monday. You were born on a Monday. Simple, isn't it?

"If you were born in a Leap Year do you count that as Leap Year No. 1?" asked the scribe.

"Yes, if you were born before Mar. 1 and the year in which you are figuring is not a Leap Year", said the old-timer. "But if you were born after March 1 in a Leap Year you do not start to count until the next Leap Year. And persons born before the year 1900 must bear in mind that there was no Leap Year between 1896 and 1904."

"How about folks born on February 29?" asked the scribe. "They don't have a birthday every year, you know."

"That's their hard luck," laughed the old-timer, "and they must blame the old monk who devised the Gregorian calendar. This method works out o.k. for every day of the year except February 29. That's the exception that proves the rule."

"Ask your friends to try it out when they want to find out on what day of the week they were born."—Drayton Advocate.

EXPORT CATTLE ON NEW FOOTING

The United Kingdom agreement as now ratified, puts Canadian cattle exporters on an equal footing with her competitors in the British market, for the first time in thirty-seven years. The segregation of store cattle from fat cattle moving on export is no longer required. Fat and store cattle are allowed to move freely to inland points, with the understanding that female cattle must be of a quality and type satisfactory to the British Ministry of Agriculture. Cheek branding is no longer required; the period of isolation has been reduced to one clear day; and a veterinary officer is no longer required to accompany the cattle on the ocean voyage. These concessions by the British Ministry of Agriculture are part of a bi-lateral agreement arrived at by the respective governments at the Imperial Economic Conference, and under which Canada recognizes the London Quarantine Station, according to conditions laid down in the agreement.

According to the Review-Herald, the farmers of the Thornbury district are very much disturbed over the new Rhodes' budget. To quote, "there was general commendation for the Bennett Government's action in "stablizing" the pound so far as our exports were concerned, at $4.60. But there was dismay when it was found that the two exportable articles from this district were excluded from the list of farm products to enjoy this privilege: apples and alfalfa meal." Are budgets not ever thus? Fine, hit the other fellow, but do not touch me. At the same time, it is somewhat of a pity if the apple and alfalfa markets are closed.

STOCK TRUCKING

Ths year I am reducing the charge for trucking stock to the market to the low price of 25 cents for each 100 pounds. I also wish at this time to thank all my patrons for their business in the past few years.

IN MEMORIAM

JAMIESON — In loving memory of John H. Jamieson, who departed this life March 31st, 1930.

O could I hear his voice once more,
And see his loving smile;
The one that would my heart still cheer,
But I must wait awhile.
Sometime, some day, my eyes shall see
The face I loved so well;
Some day I'll clasp his loving hand,
And never say farewell.
I only ask that when life's day is done,
And death's dark shadows gather round my way,
That Thy bright spirit may be near my own,
To guide my faltering feet to endless day.

—Sadly missed by his loving Wife.
