Late Seed Deliveries

In recent years deliveries of seed from wholesale houses to retail dealers began, for the most part, in early February. This year, however, seed and feed inspectors report that up to March 1st very little seed was to be found in the retail trade.

This condition is to be accounted for by the present uncertainty in business and the lack of buying power among farmers, and hence an unusual caution exercised by seed dealers in buying supplies.

Seed this season will therefore be in the possession of retailers for a shorter period than usual and consequently there will not be as favorable an opportunity for thorough inspection as in former years. It is also to be expected that there will be an increased tendency for farmers to trade in seed among themselves and in so doing it ought not be overlooked that all seed sold for seeding purposes in Canada is required to be sold on grade.

For the purpose of grading, samples of seed are forwarded to the nearest District Office of the Dominion Seed Branch. Three samples are graded free for any individual or firm in any one year.

Georgian Bay Apple Enjoy Precedence

An interesting order was received by the Georgian Bay Fruit Growers last week. It was for 100 barrels of Georgian Bay Spies, to be shipped to the farm warehouse of one of the leading apple growers of the Lake Ontario district.

Apparently this grower found that there was a real demand for the famous Georgian Bay Spies and he resolved to fill a part of this demand by selling the super-flavored "Bay" apples where his Lake Ontario's did not fill the bill.

In Toronto today the demand is for Georgian Bay Spies, and the superior flavor of these apples is every year making a better name for the district—fully justifying the faith of orchardists like Reg. Lougheed, the Holmes Brothers, the Georgian Bay, Beaver Valley, M. Snetsinger, and others in planting out new acreages from time to time. — Review-Herald.

NEW-BORN PIG'S HEAD IS LIKE ELEPHANT'S

With a head resembling a baby elephant a pig was born on the farm of James McMillan, Minto Tp., a few days ago. The rest of the animal was quite normal as was the mother, a large and healthy sow, and all its little brothers and sisters. The strange amalgamation of pachyderm and pig lived for ten minutes, then expired. It had the head and trunk of a miniature elephant.

Packed in alcohol, it arrived at The Star Tuesday. It will be sent to the University of Toronto for examination.

COWS FOR SALE — Two young cows due in April.—Wilfred Magee, Eugenia, phone 5 r 33, Feversham.

Wouldn't business be in great shape if there had been an upturn every time the experts predicted one?

That two-cent pill in the budget will not be pleasant to take even if it is sugar-coated.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.
