THROWING POLITICAL STONES

A dead set is being made against Premier Geo. S. Henry to oust him from his position as Premier of the Province of Ontario. A writ has been issued at Windsor with the view of disqualifying him for a cabinet position on the ground that he is the owner of $25,000 worth of bonds of the Ontario Power Service Corporation and as a member of the Cabinet, but not Prime Minister, negotiated with the Hydro for the purchase of the Corporation's holdings. There are probably very few persons who believe that Mr. Henry considered that he was doing anything wrong in purchasing these bonds at the high price which he paid. In the possession of these bonds he, with all the other bondholders, stood to lose very heavily when the Corporation found it could not carry on, and the property was put up for sale by tender. The Hydro was the only bidder. The fact that this stabilized the bonds was not owing to any action of the Premier, who still is a considerable loser by the possession of these bonds. It may have been what some call an indiscretion on the part of Mr. Henry to hold on to his bonds, after he became the Premier, when it became a moral duty to relinquish them, but this would have entailed a loss of some seventeen thousand dollars, and there are exceedingly few people in this country who would not have done exactly as Mr. Henry did to protect his financial interest in these bonds, as well as the value of the bonds to the other bondholders. As we have said, there are few who would not have done as the Premier did, and those who rail at him for it should hesitate before throwing stones.

The writ in question, however, will probably never get into the courts.

WANTS ANOTHER PARTY!

"There must be a new independent party with a new independent policy." These are the words of the Weekly Sun in a front page editorial in last week's issue. Another party, with all those operating in the province at the present time! The idea is absurd. If there had been a real strong one-party opposition in the Ontario House the past few years it would have been better for the government and also for that opposition. The opponents of the Conservative party at the last election were so weak that the people could not trust their affairs in the hands of improperly qualified persons. It is the duty of the opposition to oppose the government in all (to them) unnecessary expenditures, to bring to light any suspicious transactions and to suggest ways and means of securing better government for the people. If the opposition is weak in this respect the government has a false sense of security and anything may be done. Two parties in the House are all that are required if the opposition party is a strong one.

TOO MUCH WATERED STOCK

A milk probe is at preesnt in full swing to enquire into the cost of milk to the producer and consumer. There appears to be too much of a spread between the two prices paid. According to evidence brought out during the enquiry it was found that the holders of preferred stock received two shares of common stock to take care of the additional profits. It appears to us that one reason why many industries in Canada have not reduced prices and rates is the prevalence of watered stock on which dividends have to be paid. Many industries in good times presented surplus shares with those already in existence and now have failed to re-organize their businesses in keeping with the times. Hence the prices remain high for the consumer, who is forced to curtail buying with the resultant closing of factories. It is time for the scaling down of the paper value of capital in private public utilities and manufacturing enterprises to help bring prosperity back.

EDITORIAL ITEMS

Hereafter, if you want to hunt rabbits or anything else you will have to pay a gun license of one dollar, if the bill sponsored by the Minister of Game and Fisheries becomes law.

They have been testing out the near-beer made legally in the U.S.A. and find it is not intoxicating. What a disappointment! Canada had the same experiece a few years ago, but spurned the liquid as a too-near approach to buttermilk. Instead of kicking it was kicked.

The Radio Commission has decided that it has not been given sufficient power and asks for more. A great many people in this country think Mr. Charlesworth has already got too much power. What is wanted is less power and cheaper license or no license at all, such as they have in the United States. Many think that the commercial aspect of radio control was good enough. So far the Commission has only given us a few band concerts which, while good, were no better than the concerts we listened to before the Commission came into being. Many people would like to see Mr. Charlesworth go back to his editorial work.

Farmer To Lose All

Some thirteen years ago an Elderslie farm of 126 acres was sold for $7,000. The purchaser paid in principal, interest and taxes during the time he was on the farm of $5,900. This spring he is leaving the farm and losing all he paid on it. This is the direct result of the depreciation in farm values owing to the low price of farm produce, and, in many manufactured articles, the price being as high as before the depression set in. What is true of this Elderslie farmer's plight holds good all through this province. A bill is before the Ontario Legislature to give the purchaser, whose property has decreased in value, his equity in the real estate, but even though the bill becomes law, which is doubtful, it would not be retroactive and would not help those who have lost all they paid on their property.—Hanover Post.

When Chickens Bother

People in this, as well as in every other town, have from time to time been troubled during the summer months with the neighbor's chickens. Now that in a few weeks gardening will again be the fashion, perhaps the following scheme of getting rid of the nuisance may be valuable. It is the old scheme of tying a card or piece of paper by means of a short thread, to a grain of corn. When the fowls swallow the corn, the cards dangle from their beaks, thus frightening them home. A message is written on the card similar to the following: "I have been in Mr. Smith's garden, where I should not have been, so kindly shut me up." If this does not bring results, a louder message may each time replace the former one.

Pedestrians Upon King's Highway Must Carry Light

NEW REGULATIONS TO BE PUT IN FORCE BY DEPARTMENT TO ENSURE SAFETY

An act to amend the Highway Traffic Act is awaiting a third reading and provides that every pedesrtian on the King's Highway after dark must carry a lantern. The Act reads in part as follows:

"Walking or travelling on foot on the King's Highway after dusk and before dawn, every person shall carry a lighted lamp in such a position clearly visible for a distance of 200 feet in each direction."

This act is intended to avoid accidents on the highway. For some time it has been felt by the Government that some new regulation was necessary to protect those driving cars, against danger of accident resulting from running down persons upon the public highway after nightfall. From now on everyone not carrying a suitable light who receives injuries on any road will be quite unable to recover damages from the motor car driver. It is no unusual thing while driving at night at a sharp turn in the road to come suddenly upon someone walking, often times in the centre of the road. That there has not been a great many more accidents, due to this carelessness, speaks well for the care taken by most motorists while driving after dark.

REVIVAL OF OLD PRACTICE SEEN IN BRISKER EXPORT

Since the beginning of January Canada has shipped to Great Britain some 6,000 head of cattle and this number will be increased to 20,000 by the early part of June.

With the revival of our export trade with the Old Country a popular practice of some thirty years ago may be re-established. Transportation companies make provision for one man to travel with each carload of cattle, and when export was brisk many farmers availed themselves of this opportunity to visit Great Britain. In addition to those engaged in agricultural pursuits, it has been stated that a great number of Ontario's professional men, during their college days, visited England and Scotland as a result of getting the job of tending cattle in transport.

CANADA—THE IDEAL VACATION LAND
A COUNTRY OF SCENIC CHARM AND OUTDOOR RECREATION
UNEXCELLED IN ABUNDANCE AND VARIETY OF HOLIDAY ATTRACTIONS

IN recent years Canada has become one of the most popular playgrounds of the North American continent and millions of tourists visit this country annually, in search of recreation.

Canada possesses an extensive system of modern highways, with good secondary roads linking together the main routes of travel. Excellent train services are in operation between the principal cities, while steamship lines connect lake and ocean ports. Every class of travel accommodation is available, from tourist camp to luxurious hotel. Our larger Canadian cities possess some of the finest hotels in the world and the majority of smaller cities and towns have modern establishments which cater to the travelling public.

Recreational Attractions Nearby

Within reasonable touring distance of the main centres of population, recreational attractions of outstanding merit are to be found. Lakes and rivers well stocked with fish, hunting areas of vast extent and camping grounds in their natural state, are only a few of the many features which make the country a popular vacation land during all seasons of the year. An atmosphere of old France permeates Quebec and the Maritimes, while Ontario and the Western provinces have much to offer by way of historic sites and monuments.

Numerous Canoe Trips

For those who desire a vacation close to nature, a canoe trip is ideal and Canada's extensive system of rivers and lakes offers a limitless choice of route and type of trip. For the novice there are many trips close to civilization, which may be taken with comfort and perfect safety, while unmapped and even unexplored regions challenge the expert and the adventurous. Canoes and equipment may be rented and guides are available in practically all districts. Subject to reasonable fire prevention regulations the canoeits, camper, camera hunter or student of wild life, may come and go, unrestricted, through the country's vast forested area.

Excellent Fishing

Canada's fishing waters, on account of their extent and diversified nature, provide an exceptional range of sport for the angler. The game fish include, salmon, brook trout, lake trout, bass, maskinonge, pike, pickerel, grayling, steelhead and tuna. Intelligent protection and constant re-stocking help to keep up the supply of fish in the popular districts, while in the more remote areas there are still plenty of virgin waters. The cost of fishing licences is moderate and the open seasons are long.

Golf and Tennis Popular

Canada is well supplied with golf courses and new ones are being built in every province. No city is without at least one golf club and most of the larger towns and popular summer resorts have courses. Tennis is also popular in all parts of the country.

Government Bureau Free Information Service

A number of specially prepared booklets on Canada's recreational attractions and automobile road maps indicating the main connecting highways between one province and another may be obtained free of charge by adults, from the National Development Bureau of the Department of the Interior, at Ottawa. The Bureau also has on file information concerning practically all phases of recreation in Canada, which will be gladly provided, upon request. In order that the most complete information may be supplied it is desirable that applicants be as specific as possible as to the areas in which interested.
