An Interesting Relic

A very interesting heirloom 101 years old is in the possession of Mr. F. W. Duncan of town. It is a panel of needlework on linen worked by his grandmother, Mrs. Samuel Turner, when she was a little girl of nine years of age. Her name, Lucy Wrighton Holmes and the date, March 26, 1832, is worked in colored thread, along with many other characters and decorations and a motto at the top. It is in a wonderful state of preservation and Mr. Duncan has it framed in order to further preserve it.

New Partnership

A business deal took place in town last week wherein Mr. J. R. Richards has joined Mr. Alfred Down, Ford dealer, in partnership and the main corner garage will henceforth be known under the name of Down and Richards. Mr. Richards has been with Mr. Down for the past two years in charge of office and sales and is popular with the trade as a whole. We bespeak for the firm continued future prosperity.

Exam. Fees Lower

Great joy is felt by parents of high school students over the announcement of the reduction of lower school examination fees, which have been reduced from $1.50 for each examination paper to $1.00. It was a great hardship for parents with several children in the school to pay the high rate on each paper written. The high school examinations finish this year on July 11th, considerably later than in previous years and no doubt the students, writing in the sweltering heat, will not think very much of the arrangements.

Advertising is the oil that lubricates the machinery of business.

Farmers Should Have Names On Front Gates

This is not the first time that this has been proposed in this paper as well as in many others. Unfortunately the farmers have not, except in a few cases, adopted the idea of having their names printed on their mail box and front gate. We are quite convinced that if this was made a general rule it would not only add to the farm appearance but it would prove of inestimable value to strangers and others driving along the highways. Personally we know of no argument against it and if space permitted we could enumerate many advantages. But we will quote just one. A certain farmer had a horse to sell and we directed a buyer to his place. He being a stranger became confused and, although he passed the place, he failed to identify it and the roads being rather bad, he never got there. It is a safe bet that the farmer was the loser. Business places in towns display their names and nature of their business. Why not the farmer? A neatly printed name and also the farm name if one has been adopted would be attractive and identify the place, adding to its value. Even if these name signs had to be purchased we wouldn't expect they would cost over twenty-five cents each. Along with many others, we strongly urge farmers to adopt this suggestion.

THE UNKINDEST CUT

All fees payable under the administration of Justice Act will be reduced 20% immediately, Hon. W. H. Price Attorney-General announces. The reductions will affect Crown Attorneys, Sheriffs, Clerks of the Peace and cour reporters. This action, says an exchange, is without doubt a result of the visit of the deputation from Grey County Council to the Attorney-General, who registered a protest against the excessive costs of administration of Justice in this County, most particularly in the fees charged by the Crown Attorney. —Mt. Killed By Train

Samuel White, aged 77, an inmate of the Grey County House of Refuge at Markdale was killed Monday afternoon when struck by the afternoon passenger train, about one mile north of that station. He had been sitting on the track and started to move away when he saw the train, but was too slow, and the engine hurled his body into the Saugeen River. The deceased came from Paisley and had been an inmate of the House of Refuge for the past year. The body was taken to Chesley on Tuesday morning.

Chicago teachers raided the banks thereby setting a noble example for the American youth.

Grey Presbytery Is Against Sunday Selling

The May meeting of Grey Presbytery of the United Church was held in Annesley church, Markdale, on Tuesday of last week with sessions morning, afternoon and evening; the chairman, Rev. A. D. Cornett, M.A. B.D., of Knox church, Owen Sound presiding at each session. The devotional address was delivered by Rev. S. E. Annis, M.A., B.D., of Grace church, Thornbury, and was based on our Lord's giving of thanks to his Father in that many things not revealed to the wise and prudent were revealed to babes. His theme was that the religion of our Lord Jesus Christ was more readily advanced by the warmed heart rather than by the cold intellect.

Mrs. E. C. Murray of Flesherton, President of the Grey Presbyterial of the Woman's Missionary Society, addressed the Presbytery in the interests of the organization over which she so capably presides. Following her address was an address by Mr. Fred Lewis of Toronto in the interests of the Ontario Prohibition Union.

It is only occasionally that Presbytery has a candidate for ordination, so it was with a great deal of interest that Mr. Wilfred Cornett Lockhart, M.A., of Dundalk was heard as he stated some of the facts relating specifically to his call to the Christian ministry. Mr. Lockhart has had a very successful course at Emmanuel College. He has First Class standing in Theology, and has won the Glenn Wilkins Memorial Scholarship, the Post-Graduate Fellowship of $750, and shares equally with another student the Michael Fawcett Prize in Oratory. Presbytery cordially recommended Mr. Lockhart to the Toronto Conference for Ordination in June. Scholarship above mentioned makes it possible for Mr. Lockhart to spend a year abroad in the study of Theology and he expects to spend the year at one of Scotland's celebrated Universities.

The following ministers have asked for a change in Pastoral Relations, Dr. Smith of Meaford, J. W. Johnston of Kilsyth, S. Martin of Chatsworth, R. G. Halbert of Owen Sound, J. R. Wilkinson of Temple Hill and A. D. Cornett of Owen Sound. Mr. Martin has accepted a call to the pastorate of Trinity United Church, Meaford, and Mr. Cornett has accepted a call to the United Church of Smith's Falls. Resolutions of appreciation to him, and to all the ministers who will be changing pastorates, were very cordially passed.

Rev. W. H. Smith presented certain matters regarding the Missionary and Maintenance Fund. Presbytery adopted the recommendations of his committee in regard to the use of a family meal thankoffering box, the holding of three group meetings, and that share in balancing the budget that is suggested for each pastoral charge.

The report of the committee on Evangelism and Social Service recommended all our church leaders to seriously consider the gambling spirit in the House of Commons at Ottawa, of the bill to legalize sweepsakes in behalf of hospitals and charity institutions and protested against the breach of the Lord's Day Act by those who sell merchandise illegally in roadside stands and other places on the Lord's Day.

Rev. S. Martin and Mr. John McQuaker of Owen Sound were elected as the Presbytery nominees to Conference as members of the Settlement Committee. It was arranged that the next regular meeting be held in Central United Church, Owen Sound, on Tuesday, September 19th.

Presbytery adjourned to meet in Carlton Street United Church on Friday, June 9, at an hour to be fixed by the Chairman.

The ladies of he church generously provided a splendid dinner and supper and they, and the minister and officials of Annesley, received the thanks of the court for all the courtesies extended during its session.

Baby Chard Passes

Death came suddenly to Phyllis Evelyn, six weeks old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Chard of the 4th line, while in the Hospital for Sick Children at Toronto on Wednesday evening of last week. The little girl was not doing very well and was taken to the hospital to receive trained care. The funeral took place on Friday afternoon with Rev. M. F. Oldham conducting the services, interment taking place in Flesherton cemetery. The pallbearers were Gordon Shier, Chester Shier, Ted Croft and Arthur Betts. Sympathy of a host of friends are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Chard.

Wife: "That child doesn't get his temper from fe." Husband: "No, there's none of yours missing."

"Memories"

By A. S. THURSTON

FIELD — John J. Field came to Flesherton in the early sixties, and was connected with "No. 6 Company" of the Grey Regiment from its earliest days. A cooper by trade, he helped build the patriotic sentiments that budded their richest in a wonderful record for the community during the Great War. His children William N., Joseph H., Mary A., John Wesley, James E., Elizabeth and Burton E.

Toronto is home to Wm. N., James E., Elizabeth and Burton E.; Joseph H. is village constable at home; and Mary A. and John W. deceased in 1904 and 1905 respectively.

Burton E. Field — "Burt" is customs broker at 53 Yonge St., Toronto, and one of the moving spirits of the Flesherton Old Boys' and Girls' Association, of which he has been the efficient secretary since its inception for the "Old Home Week" in 1929. His life partner is Rachel Spence, a Flesherton "Old Girl," this business deal being put through on June 14th, 1905, and never regretted. Burt's hobby is roses; his fraternal society interest confined to the biggest thing in sight: the Flesherton Association; favorite motto: "Be sure you're right, then go ahead." Proudest of his family; regrets inability to secure a thorough education.

DINWOODIE — John came to Flesherton in 1848, farmer; their family: Eliza (Mrs. Joseph Smith); Mariah (Mrs. Andrew Wickens); Sarah (Mrs. James Wilkinson); Joseph, Tulare, Calif., and William of Willits, Calif William Dinwoodie—Born Flesherton, not married, clergyman, carpenter, painter and landlord. Activities: preaching and teaching Bible Class. Motto: "What a man, a family, a community, or a nation sows, they all largely reap." Proudest of trying to be a Christian, never drinking a glass of liquor, nor smoking or swearing, nor gambling during his life." And then, his main regret is voiced as being "that I have not lived better than I have."

McTAVISH — We overlooked in last week's write up on C. E. McTavish direct reference to his wife, formerly Margaret Ethel Cornish of Toronto, who has done her "bit" and has given unstintingly of her loyalty and support at all times.

Missionary Rally And Fellowship Gathering

A Leaders' Fellowship and Group Gathering was held on Monday afternoon last in St. John's United church. Officials representing eleven Pastoral Charges of the southern part of the Presbytery of Grey, together with their ministers, listened with pleasure and profit to an address by Rev. S. W. Dean D.D., secretary of the Pension Fund of the United church, on the uses to which the Missionary and Maintenance Fund is put. Opportunity was given for the asking of any questions pertaining to the management and distribution of this Fund and it was very clearly pointed out that the utmost economy is practised in the matter. Possibly no other organization administers the amount of money handled by the Mission Boards of the United church at as small a cost for administration. An interesting item was the statement that since church union the United church had raised nearly $22,000,000 for Missions.

The Lord's Portion Plan and the "Cent-a-Meal per Family" has caught the fancy and fired the imagination of many, for in both of these there is afforded an unusual opportunity for the acknowledgement of God as the Giver of all things. The value of giving as an aid to worship was stressed.

In the evening of the same day a Rally of all interested in the Missionary cause was held. Rev. A. E. Armstrong, D.D., secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, was the chief speaker. Dr. Armstrong gave a most informing lecture on the work of the church in India. He used slides to illustrate it, from pictures taken by himself on his last visit to that field. These were of an unusually beautiful character and stimulated interest in the work of the church in that far-off land, itself a part of the Empire.

Rev. W. J. Scott opened the meetings and on behalf of the Official Board of his church extended a most hearty welcome. He then called on Rev. W. H. Smith of Durham, the chairman of the M. and M. Fund of the Grey Presbytery under whose auspices the meetings are being held, to say a few words and to introduce the speakers.

At the evening meeting Miss Aleda Mitchell rendered a much appreciated solo and a male quartette composed of Messrs. Robertson, Murray, Cairns and Scott, with Mrs. Blackburn as accompanist, helped to make the program bright and attractive.

All who attended were loud in their appreciation of the helpfulness of both meetings and felt that real encouragement had been given to all Missionary effort.

Similar gatherings are being held in Owen Sound on Tuesday and in Meaford on Wednesday for the other sections of the Presbytery of Grey.
