CATARRH.
The Constitutional Remedy.
The Constitutional Catarrh Remedy is the first article placed before the public that proposed to cure Catarrh by building up the Constitution. It struck at the root of the whole difficulty, and thousands upon thousands of letters have been received by the proprietors, setting forth the marvelous cures, and what is remarkable, curing not only the Catarrh, but all other ailments at the same time. This is what it always does. The following statements are only samples of what we are constantly receiving, from well known people to whom you can write, and not bogus ones. Catarrh and its attendant evils, cold in head, hacking cough, incipient consumption, headache, pain in the back and loins, dizziness, languidness, loss of appetite and general weakness, all leave together when the Constitutional Catarrh Remedy is taken as recommended.
Home Testimony in favor of Littlefield's Catarrh Remedy:
T. J. B. HARDING, Esq., Brockville, 12th Feb., 1876.
My Dear Sir,—I can carefully endorse from my own experience, the favorable account of the Constitutional Catarrh Remedy. It has afforded me relief from Catarrh and Cold every time I used it, and then when I could not take proper care of my self in bad weather.
Yours respectfully, C. W. VOLNEY.
T. J. B. Harding, Esq.:
Brockville, Feb. 9, 1872—Sir: Having had Catarrh for a number of years, and having tried nearly all the remedies advertised that promised relief or cure, without the desired result. I came to the conclusion that it was useless in trying to cure the disease. I was advised last fall to give the "Constitutional Catarrh Remedy" a trial, and did so, with very little faith as to the result. But I am happy now to say, that after using three bottles, I am entirely cured and do not feel as if I ever had Catarrh. I also cheerfully recommend it to all those that suffer from that disease, and am satisfied that if they will only try one bottle, it will need no other recommend, and will convince the most sceptical.
Yours Respectfully,

LIFE INSURANCE THEORIES, TESTED BY HARD TIMES, HAVE PROVED TO BE TRUE.
1. During the last twenty-four months business men have been compelled to give most of their time and energy to save their business from ruin.
2. This proves that the value of money invested in commercial pursuits is, to a great degree, contingent upon the life of its possessor. Your estate, as a whole, deprives of your personal management, must shrink in value from the moment of your death.
3. Since therefore, your business and most of your investments, will be of less value to morrow if you are dead, than to-day while you are living, it is evident that your life should be fully insured. The hardness of the times, instead of furnishing an excuse for delay, should add weight to the arguments in favor of immediate insurance, for if it is hard for YOU to pay a premium now how much harder would it be for your family to support themselves, in these times, if you were dead.
4. Then before your health becomes impaired, discharge this duty which you know you owe to your family. The feeling that your family and old age are provided for,—no matter what may happen,—will afford you permanent comfort, which an equal amount of money laid out in any other way could not purchase.

BE CAREFUL,
When you have made up your mind to Insure, that you invest in none but a First-Class, Economical Company. That there are first rate, and second rate, and third rate Companies, and Companies not worth rating, seeking business in Canada, must be apparent to all. The British Board of Trade have established the following rule: "TAKING INSURANCE AS IT EXISTS, THE PUBLIC CANNOT BE MISLED IF, WHEN SEEKING AN OFFICE IN WHICH TO EFFECT AN INSURANCE, THEY SELECT ONE WHICH TRANSACTS ITS BUSINESS AT A SMALL PERCENTAGE OF WORKING COST."
The following figures shew the "per centage of working cost," or working expenses per $100 of income, on the part of 15 of the Companies doing business in Canada, compared with the ÆTNA LIFE:—

Five largest Canada Companies....	$35.36
" of the American "	27.50
" largest American "	10.78
The ÆTNA LIFE Ins. Company	8.58

The above figures shew the real cost of being insured in the different Companies. ☞ When you are asked to Insure by any Agent, see that he writes your application on the form of the Ætna Life.
If he has none, write for a set of papers to

TO SUMMER.

Summer, summer, lovely summer,
List, O list to what I say;
In thy reign so quickly ended?
Can'st thou, then, no longer stay?

Autumn cometh, crowned with glory;
What is that, I pray, to me?
All my soul the dearest loveth,
Summer is entwined with thee.

'Mid thy green leaves' shimmering glory,
Waving in the balmy air,
Hope peers forth, with smile entrancing,
Tells me life is passing fair.

And the roses' bloomy petals
Whisper softly in my ear
Breezy poems, sweet romances,
Tender songs I love to hear.

Velvet pansies, nodding near me,
Tell of happy golden hours.
And some useful, heaven-taught lesson
Do I learn from all the flowers.

Waving ferns, by brooklets springing,
Perfumed lilies, fair of face,
Whisper low of modest virtue,
Purity and joy and grace.

With the spring my fond hopes budded,
And in thy rich loveliness
Have they grown, and bloomed and blossomed
Into ripest perfectness.

And when autumn leaves are faded,
And the winds of winter blow
Shall they, like that peaceful beauty,
Hidden lie beneath the snow?

Summer, summer, lovely summer,
If thy parting hour is near,
Leave me peace and love and blessings,
Guardian angels for the year.

Summer, may thy memory linger
In my heart for evermore,
And, the dreary winter ended,
May I welcome thee once more.

Ballooning by a Lady.

A PERILOUS POSITION AND A NARROW ESCAPE.

A balloon was sent up from the Oswego Falls fair grounds the other day, and the Palladium tells how it came down. About 3 p.m. the balloon Victoria, which had been very successfully inflated, was ready for its trip. Miss Thurston stepped into the basket for her ascension, and she speedily shot almost directly upward, being a little north to an altitude of more than a mile when she disappeared in a cloud, presenting a spectacle which astonished and delighted a vast majority of the crowd, though it made some of the women nervous. In a few minutes the balloon was seen descending from the clouds, and too rapidly, it was known by those accustomed to see ascensions and acquainted with the habit, so to say, of the balloon, for safety. As the balloon rapidly dropped, it appeared to be in a semi-collapsed condition, and Miss Thurston could be seen throwing out the ballast and in effectually trying to rise. Prof. Squire viewed the affair with great apprehension and astonishment, as he knew the balloon to be well inflated and in good order at the start. Before it settled he set out for it, and after a foot race across lots came up to it after a run of about four miles. Miss Thurston had made a landing in a direction north-west of the Fair ground and about four miles distant, near Granby Centre. As the balloon dropped near the ground, it was caught by the wind and driven with great force across the fields, bumping against fences and threatening the safety of the passenger. A farmer finally caught it and determined to save the 'gal' anyhow. The Victoria unceremoniously snaked him over the lots and fences like the tail to a kite, but he hung on and finally weathered it out. Miss Thurston got out of the basket and together they made the balloon fast. The difficulty appeared to have been in the working of the valve. When Miss Thurston opened the valve, 30 feet above her and operated by a cord running down to the basket, she found she could not close it. Appreciating the danger she gave all her strength and finally wound the cord about her body and hung her whole weight upon it, but the valve would not yield. It must have been tampered with by some person on the ground before the start.

SEASONABLE TOPICS.

—"Shut the door!"

—Everybody says "a fire feels good such weather as this."

—Some men will open an office door and stand and hold it, talking with some one, while the wind blows one's papers all about the room.

—"Remember the days of thy youth." The "hookey" season has nearly closed. Oh! no, it hasn't either, the hickory nuts are not all gathered.

—Now doth the small boy sneak out of the back yard gate with the axe under his coat. Only going to cut skinny sticks, you know.

—Late rains have vastly improved the pastures, and mellowed the land, so that fall ploughing is now progressing very satisfactorily.

—Fashion now demands that ladies take off their hats and bonnets when at public entertainments, but the common sense of the demand will preclude all possibilities of its being complied with.

COOL PROCEEDING.—A particularly cool if not downright criminal proceeding is telegraphed from Mallorytown. It appears that the Ogdensburg authorities, wishing to get rid of a woman and child dangerously ill with small pox, gave orders that they should be ferried across the St. Lawrence River and taken to Maitland, a Canadian village. The authorities there very properly refused the charge of Yankee patients under such circumstances, whereupon the Ogdensburgers proceeded to Mallorytown, where they left them. If this be true it is evident that the people of that village were impelled alone by kindness and most generous motives, when they permitted themselves to be imposed upon by the heartless knaves of Ogdensburg. The proceeding is a most rascally one, and says very little for the boasted humanity of the Americans. We hope, for the credit of Ogdensburg, that the matter may be explained in some satisfactory manner. If it cannot be, the authorities of that town are guilty of a reprehensible and miserable piece of conduct, as well as a breach of international courtesy of the most flagrant sort.

INJURED.—In the Vice-Admiralty Court this morning, present:—Hon. G. O'K. Stuart, judgment was rendered in the case of the King of Algeria vs. the Charles Davenport, condemning the Charles Davenport in damage and costs, and dismissing with costs her cross action against the King of Algeria. The amount involved is $6,000. We understand that the owners of the Charles Davenport intend taking a appeal from the above judgment to Her Majesty's Privy Council. Andrews, Caron & Andrews were proctors for the Algeria, and Planchet and Pentland for the Davenport.

NEWFOUNDLAND.

It is a curious fact that in the whole of Newfoundland there is not a single grist mill of any description. Little grain is ripened in the country, though as fine oats and barley can be grown there as in any part of the world, and in the western region wheat ripens well. The people have been so accustomed to import everything that it is difficult to get them out of the old ruts. There can be no doubt that the erection of grist mills would lead to wider growth of grain. A move in the right direction has just been made in the erection of a flour mill. The last steamer from Montreal brought the first shipment of wheat to be ground in the mill. The mill stones and machinery have arrived, and the mill will shortly be in running order.

FALL SHOWS.

The following dates have been named for the holding of the undermentioned Fall Shows:

Central at Guelph, October 3rd to 6th.

Prince Edward County, at Picton, on Tuesday, Oct 10th.

Sophiasburg, at Demorestville, on Saturday, Oct. 14.

East Hastings at Roslin, on Wednesday, Oct. 18th.

THE DEAD NATION.—The Telegram contains a letter from Mr. Goldwin Smith anent the death of the Nation. Mr. Smith says his experience does not allow him to look forward with hope to the future of a native periodical literature in Canada. A literary periodical of a high kind requires a larger market than that afforded by the Province of Ontario. A Canadian periodical has to compete with the periodicals of England and the United States, and could only be sustained by the prevalence of a patriotic feeling of pride and interest in native productions. If such a feeling exists, Mr. Smith says neither he nor the publishers with whom he has been connected have been able to discern it. It seems to him that the production of native writers far from being specially prized are rather undervalued.

HALLETT'S POINT.—General Newton, in his official statement regarding the examination of Hallett's Point, says:—"The reef has been swept away. From 180 feet distant from the shore line to the line of buoys, the bottom slopes gradually from eight feet of the depth at near low water, to 28 feet outside the line of buoys. Nothing less than 20 feet of depth at mean low water was observed. Divers report a thorough break up."

THE DOCTOR SAYS:—A patient of mine who had been suffering from Piles for some time have began taking THE GREEN MOUNTAIN RENOVATOR. I watched its effect, and I do say, that I consider it an invaluable remedy for that most distressing complaint. In many forms also, of Dyspeptic difficulty, I have known it to be of infinite service.
