No public character figures in the news oftener than Sir Harry Lauder, The Scottish Comedian has now disposed of a portion of his estate of Glenbranter, on the Clyde, for an experimental camp to recondition unemployed men. The territory has intimate associations for the noted funny singer; it was ordinarily purchased for his son who was killed in the Great War, and it contains the burial place of Lady Lauder. It is many years now since Sir Harry first sang his way into the affections of English-speaking people all over the world; but though he is now sixty-two years of age his voice still earns the admiration of audiences in great halls, in the wireless studio, and in the reception rooms of the great Harry will keep singing on and writing songs—not always poetry—to the end.

Teachers and persons applying for positions are strongly objecting to the provision "state salary" in the advertisements. They contend, and we think properly, that trustee boards and others who are advertising positions should state the position vacant, the nature of the qualifications and the salary they are prepared to give. Then, either by personal application or by correspondence, they can make their choice. When positions are filled by "Dutch auction," teachers allege they are placed in an anomalous position. They know that in recent years salaries have been decreasing, and they wish to meet trustees part way, but they urge that the trustees are really in a position to save time and trouble by setting the salary. The trustees know what they will pay before the vacant post is made known and the farmer knows what he can afford to pay. Let the anxieties of the unemployed be relieved as much as possible by announcing the job and the pay that will be given to the competent successful applicant.

Escaped Drowning

Friday evening last excitement reigned at the mill pond when two young women, Opel Weber and Mary Wilson, narrowly escaped drowning. The girls were on a raft not far from shore. Miss Weber is an expert swimmer, but Miss Wilson did not know how to swim. The latter sat on the edge of the raft while Miss Weber sported in the water near by. In some manner Miss Wilson accidentally slipped from the raft, and as Miss Weber attempted to assist her back on the raft she was grabbed around the neck and both girls went under. George McMaster and Everett Henry went to their assistance and pulled them ashore. Both girls were quite overcome, but not unconscious. It was a very close call. Had the girls been a little further from shore it would have been tragedy in place of drama.

Wound Up Activities

The Trail Rangers wound up the season's activities on Friday evening last with a soft ball game at the high school from 7 to 8 o'clock; then they went to the church where they met the invited guests of the evening. They played games such as crokinole, etc., then had lunch. A very pleasant evening was spent, which was the last of the season. During the winter the Rangers held regular weekly meetings, one feature being the study of Bible Heroes. At the close of the season a written examination was held when ten wrote and seven passed. Burton Bellamy, son of Mr. C. J. Bellamy, took the highest marks. Our popular public school principal, Mr. C. Chapple, was the examiner.

The climax of the efforts of the Flesherton Orange Lodge came on Tuesday evening, when the dedication ceremony of the new lodge rooms was performed by Grand Lodge officers. Leslie H. The ceremony was open to the public and quite a number of brethren nad others were present.

A banquet was served in the banquet hall of the building catered to by the L.O.B.A., and an excellent dinner was provided.

At the close of the banquet addresses were delivered by the above mentioned officers that were of a high order and the inner working of Orange Association and its ideals were the themes of the addresses.

Mr. Geo. Banks proposed the toast to King and Country and was responded to by Leslie L. Saunders, Past Grand Master. The toast to the Grand Lodge and the Association was proposed by W. J. Miller of Bognor, J. D.G.M., which was responded to by Rev. W. L. L. Lawrence, P.G.M. and Geo. McCombe, Deputy Grand Master in rousing addresses. The toast to the L.O.B.A. was proposed by Mr. Jos. Blakely, who gave reminiscences of early Orange activities and response was made by Mrs. H. Down, the first Worthy Mistress of the local L.O.B.A. Mr. Jas. Stewart, Master of the Flesherton Orange Lodge, proposed a toast to the visitors, response being made by Dr. L. G. Campbell of Markdale and Rev. M. M. Bennett of Flesherton. The National Anthem brought a very enjoyable and instruc- evening to a close.

The Late Mrs. T. Cooper

Another of Ospreys old residents was laid to rest in the Presbyterian cemetery in Feversham on Sunday afternoon at the age of 78 years. Rev. Mr. Shannon preached a comforting sermon in the church and officiated at the grave. A large gathering of people met to pay their last respects to an old neighbor and Mrs. Cooper was spoken of as being one of the best of neighbors. Those from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Bryce of Toronto (Mrs. Bryce is a sister), and Mrs. A. Hanley, a daughter of Port Credit and Mr. Carrol Hanley of Orangeville. The pallbearers were five of her neighbors, Messrs. James Thomson, W. Bewell, S. Park, Thos. Brown and W. Mullin and Dr. J. P. Ottewell of Flesherton.

APPRECIATES MEMORIES

Editor Advance:

Dear Sir; Your plan is excellent, and wish you abounding success. There are families that we knew in early childhood, there are earlier ones than those, who were of much importance, for instance: the Campbells, father of the late Col. A. G., who owned the south east quarter of the village; the other Campbells, who ran such an excellent woollen mill, and of whom five boys played in the Flesherton band, and one, Nathaniel, once was Methodist choir leader.

"The Cullen family lived about where the public library was, in the old Methodist church building on the hill, destroyed by fire a few years ago.

[We have not data regarding these families, and would appreciate information from some of our readers.—Editor.]

IDEAL RANGE FOR CHICKS

An ideal range for chicks is a clover field beside a corn field, or an orchard, where they can get all the succulent green feed they can eat and still have shade as required. Given those conditions, once the chicks go upon range they can be reared with very little labor, dependence being placed mainly on hopper feeding.
