BUSINESS FAILURES!

There were 7,740 business failures in the United States, last year, involving liabilities amounting to over $200,000,000. Messrs. Dun, Barlow & Co. report 5,334 in the first three months of 1876; liabilities, $131,172,000. Failures have averaged about 5,000 a year for several years past. In the face of such uncertainty and of the great and continued depression of the times, business men do well to make sure of one resource for their families in case of disaster. A life policy in a sound company is a sheet anchor that holds when all others drag, when strong financial cables part, when fortunes disappear in the waves of commercial revulsion, and everything else of value is swept by the board.

It is well known that a silver dime placed before the eye, will hide a dollar, at some distance from it. It is no uncommon thing for men to do this in business life—fix the vision on an immediate gain, to the exclusion of a far greater good, eclipsed by the near advantage. Nor is there any department of human interests in which this fatal economy is more frequently lamented, than in that only one which protects the producing power of the insurable life. "Can't spare the money now" too often hides and prevents the great good of an insurance policy, when most needed.

It is the duty of every man of moderate means, whose death may deprive a dependent family of a support which his daily efforts provided in life, to see that a substitute for his personal aid shall at least in part be afforded when he is gone, so that the double affliction of death and heavy financial loss shall not come by the same blow.

THE WAY OF THE WORLD.

There are bountiful songs that we never sing,
And names that are never spoken.
There are treasures guarded with jealous care
And kept as a sacred token.
There are faded flowers, and letters dim
With tears that have rained above them
For the fickle words and the faithless hearts
That taught us how to love them.

~~There are sighs that~~ come in our joyous hours
To chasten our dreams of gladness,
And tears that spring to our aching eyes
In hours of thoughtless sadness.
For the blightest bird that sings in spring
Will flit waning summer,
And lips that we kissed in fondest love
Will smile on the first new comer.

Over the breast where lilies rest
In white hands stilled forever,
The rose of June will nod and blow,
Unheeding the hearts that sever
And lips that quiver in silent grief,
All words of hope refusing,
Will lightly turn to the fleeting joys
That perish with the using.

Summer blossoms and winter snows,
Love and its sweet elysian;
Hope, like a siren dim and fair,
Quickening or fainting vision;
Drooping spirit and failing pulse
Where untold memories hover,
Eyelids touched with the seal of death
And the fitful dream is over.

THE LAST.—The death of the Honorable John Hilliard Cameron creates a black amongst our representative men which will not be filled up, as the party he represented is that of the irrevocable past. The Canadian Toryism he represented was that of Sir Allan MacNab in the days of Sydenham, in fact the grave is about to close over the last legislative representative of the principles of "The Old Family Compact." To this deceased added the principles of the party of "Protestant ascendency" in Ireland. The amiable and accomplished member survived the issues which he maintained on both sides of the Atlantic, and appears in his latter years to have been conscious of the fact which two unsuccessful missions to England in the interests of obsolete politics must have taught him with irresistible force.—Mercury.

HARD WORK.—The Queen's messengers, poor gentlemen of good family, who carry dispatches that can neither be intrusted to wire nor mail from the British government to its representatives abroad, have been worked of their legs lately. One of them went from London to Constantinople, had 12 hours' rest, arrived in London on Saturday, and had to start next day for Vienna. He was there one day, returned to London, and 24 hours later was on his way to St. Petersburg again.

BAD JUDGMENT.—It is rumoured in India that Lord Lytton, the Viceroy, is going to resign his post after the great Delhi pageant, not liking the country, nor the people, nor his life there. The expenditure of half a million, sterling, on the great show is regarded as a startling comment on the lessons of economy late impressed by the Government on its officers, and, what with the impending famine in Bombay and other parts, the expenditure is considered a great mistake.

ILL-STARRED.—A Mrs. Maria Smith, who recently died at Portland, Me., belonged to a singularly unfortunate family. In 1845 her husband died of sunstroke; in 1857 her son and son-in-law were murdered on shipboard; in 1857 her son died of ship fever; in 1865, two sons, a daughter in-law and three grandchildren were lost at sea; and the next year another son and his wife were lost in the same way. Two more sons and a daughter are living.

☞ Dr. Ralph Ogle, Veterinary Surgeon, 380 West 25th st., N.Y., says: "Your new discovery, Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia, surpasses anything for Splints, Strains, Lameness in the Limbs or Shoulders, etc., Wind Galls, and hard bony Swellings on the joints. It is marvellous." For Bunions, enlarged joints of the Feet, Neuralgia, Sore Throat, Paralysis, Rheumatism, and Pains of all kind, a sure cure is guaranteed.

WHAT NEXT?

A CONSUMPTIVE CURED.—When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H James was experimenting, he accidentally made a preparation of Indian Hemp, which cured his only child of consumption. He now gives this recipe free on receipt of two stamps to pay expenses. Hemp also cures night sweat, nausea at the stomach, and will break a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address Craddock & Co., 1,033 Race Street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

Don't Know What to Do.—We sometimes hear persons say, "my horse is sadly out of condition, and I cannot tell either what is the matter with him, or how to get him into better order;" they appear to be ignorant of the fact that there is in within their reach a remedy safe, sure and effectual in all cases. Many persons who deal in horses use large quantities of it, and testify that its effects are most satisfactory. One horse dealer informs us that his horse's condition and appearance are so much improved by its use that they sell more readily and for higher prices "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." Nothing else is equal to it for the same purpose. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Sold by all medicine dealers.
