TRUST AND BE TRUE.

Look in your brother's eyes, man!
And bid him read your own:
One half the strife of human life
Is born from guile alone;
Deceit creates full half our hates,
And half our love it slays;
Look in each other's eyes, men!
And meet each other's gaze!

Pardon your brother's faults, man!
And ask that he forgive;
If human sin no mercy win,
No human soul shall live!
No need of heaven, were none forgiven;
For none reach its door!
Pardon your brother's faults, man!
That he may pardon yours.

Feel for your brother's grief, man!
No heart is safe from woe:
Though lips and eye may oft deny
The sorrowing weight below.
One gentle wife, one pitying smile,
May sweetest balm impart,
Feel for your brother's grief, man—
And you will win his heart!

Stand by your brother's side, man!
When worthy claim he shows;
To him be just, and yield your trust,
When he his faith bestows!
How plainly wise, with soul and eyes,
True friendship to impart,
Smile in your brother's face, man—
And you will warm his heart!

THE BEATEN PARTY.

Burlington Hawkeye:—"My son," said a pious father on South Hill to his hopeful son, "you did not saw any wood for the kitchen stove yesterday, as I told you to; you left the back gate open and let the cow get out; you cut off eighteen feet from the clothes line to make a lasso; you stoned Mr. Robinson's pet dog and lamed it; you put a hard shell turtle in the hired girl's bed, you tied a strange dog to Mr. Jacobson's door-bell, and painted red and green stripes on the legs of old Mrs. Polaby's white pony, and hung your sister's bustle out at the front window. Now what am I—what can I do to you for such conduct?"

Are all the counties heard from?' asked the candidate. The father replied sternly: "No trifling, sir, I have yet several reports to receive from others of the neighbors." "Then," replied the boy, "you will not be justified to proceed to extreme measures until the official count is in." Shortly afterwards the election was thrown into the house, and before half the votes were canvassed, it was evident, from the peculiar intonation of the applause, that the boy was badly beaten.

WHAT NEXT?

A CONSUMPTIVE CURED.—When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H James was experimenting, he accidentally made a preparation of Indian Hemp, which cured his only child of consumption. He now gives this recipe free on receipt of two stamps to pay expenses. Hemp also cures night sweat, nausea at the stomach, and will break a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address Craddock & Co., 1,033 Race Street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

WHERE THE SECRET LIES.—Very many diseases have their origin in a depraved condition of the blood. The terrible taint of Scrofula, which is of course hereditary, prevails to an alarming extent and the only way in which it can be cured, is by cleansing the blood, and restoring its vitality; to do this use WINGATE'S BLOOD PURIFIER.

☞ After war, pestilence and intemperance colds lead to destruction of human life, mainly because it is considered by many to be of no consequence and hence systematically neglected, until a simple, curable disease is converted into a fatal pulmonary one. Sold by all druggists and country dealers. Price 25c per box.

Wooly Horses.—Wooly horses are not so rare as many suppose, not such great curiosities either, there are many to be found in various parts of the country, but we doubt if they will ever prove as valuable to their owners as the one exhibited by Barnum; we imagine their owners would consider them more valuable to without the wool, for this rough and wooly state of the hair indicates that the horse is not in a healthy condition—probably hide-bound, or suffering from some disease which occasions this unnatural appearance; in such cases use "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy," it purifies the blood, corrects the appetite, removes all obstructions from the lungs and liver, and gives to the coat a sleek and shining appearance. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Sold by all medicine dealers.
