SATURDAY EVEN'G, JAN'Y 13, 1877

THE SIEGE OF BELGRADE.

Now that Belgrade has again become a point of interest in the eyes of the world, so may a clever alliterative poem written a couple of centuries ago, but not familiar to all readers:

An Austrian army, awfully arrayed,
Boldly by battery besieged Belgrade.
Cossack commanders cannonading came,
Dealing destruction's devastating doom.
Every endeavor engineers essay,
For fame or fortune, fighting, furious fray!
Generals gainst generals grapple—gracious God!
How honors heaven heroic hardihood!
Infuriate, indiscriminate in all,
Kinsmen kill kindred, kindred kinsmen kill.
Labor low levels leftiest, longest lines,
Man, match 'mid mounds, 'mid moles, 'mid murderous mines;
Now noisy, noxious, noticed naught
Of onward obstacles opposing ought;
Poor patriots, partly purchased, partly press
Quite quaking, quickly quarter, quarter quest,
Rare ou returns, religious right redounds,
Suwarrow stops such sanguinary sounds.
True to thee, Turkey—triumphant to thy train
Unjust, unwise, unmerciful Ukrain;
Vanish vain victory, vanish victory vain!
Why wish we warfare? Wherefore welcome were Xerxes, Ximens, Xanthus, Xaviere?
Yield, ye youths, ye yeomen, yield your yell!
Zeno or Zapateer's, Zoroaster's zeal,
And all attracting—arms against acts appeal.

BENNETT MARRIAGES.

Notable Affairs—Like Father Like Son.

James G. Bennett has made himself notorious as a lover, and now it has recalled that the marriage of the elder Bennett was a notorious affair—made so by himself in a very unique manner. The following is the announcement of it in the Herald a few days prior to the event.

TO THE READERS OF THE NEW YORK HERALD—DECLARATION OF LOVE—CAUGHT AT LAST—GOING TO BE MARRIED.—NEW MOVEMENT IN CIVILIZATION.

I am going to be married in a few days. The weather is so beautiful; times are getting so good; the prospects of political and moral reform so conspicuous that I cannot resist the divine or honest nature any longer, so I am going to be married to one of the most splendid in intellect, in heart, in soul, in property, in person, in manner that I have yet seen in the course of my interesting pilgrimage through human life.

* * * I cannot stop in my career. I must fulfil that awful destiny which the Almighty Father has written against my name in the broad letters of life against the wall of heaven. I must give the world a pattern of happy wedded life, with all the charities that spring from a nuptial love. In a few days I shall be married according to the holy rites of the most holy Christian Church to one of the most remarkable, accomplished and beautiful young women of the age. She possesses a fortune. I sought and found a fortune—a large fortune. She has no Stonington shares or Manhattan stock, but in purity and uprightness she is worth half a million in pure coin. Can any swindling bank show as much? In good sense and elegance another half-million; in mind, soul and beauty millions on millions, equal to the whole specie of all the rotten banks in the world. Happily, the patronage of the public to the Herald is nearly $25,000 per annum, almost equal to a President's salary. But property in the world's goods was never my object. Fame, public good, usefulness in my day and generation, the religious associations of female excellence, the progress of true industry—these have been my dreams by night and my desire by day.

In the new and holy condition into which I am about to enter, and to enter with the same reverential feeling as I would heaven itself I anticipate some signal change in my feelings, in my views, in my purposes, in my pursuits. What they may be I know not—time alone can tell. My ardent desire has been through life to reach the highest order of human excellency by the shortest possible cut. Associated, night and day, in sickness and in health, in war and in peace with a woman of this highest order of excellence, must produce some curious results in my heart and feelings and these results the future will develope in due time, in the columns of the Herald.

Meantime, I return my heartfelt thanks for the enthusiastic patronage of the public, both Europe and America. The holy estate of wedlock will only increase my desire to be still more useful. God Almighty bless you all.

JAMES GORDON BENNETT.

THE BROAD SHOULDERED LISTON.—Chas. Liston, of London, was one of the most eminent Surgeons of modern times. Pulmonary consumption was hereditary in his constitution, but when the first symtoms showed themselves, did he shut himself up in his office? No, he knew, from his vast experience, that such a course meant speedy death, but he bought a boat, and every morning rowed for an hour on the Thames, and this exercise, in connection with WINGATE'S PULMONIC TROCHES, carried him to a ripe old age, with unimpaired vigor, and he was always known as, "the Broad Shouldered Liston." Yet after his death an examination showed a long deap scar in his left lung, where the foul disease first broke out, and was effectually cured.

CATARRH

Cannot be cured by Snuffs, Washes, or Local applications. Thousands have been cured some of 40 years standing, by using the CONSTITUTIONAL CATARRH REMEDY. Certificates and treatise on Catarrh mailed to any address on application to T. J. B. HARDING, Brockville, Ont. Sold by all Druggists. Price—$1.00 per bottle.

Hide Bound Horses.—A horse is said to be hide-bound when his skin will not slip under the pressure of the hand, but sticks as if it was glued, which condition is always dependent on a deranged state of the stomach and digestive organs—by correcting which, and giving to them a healthy tone and condition the disease or complaint will disappear. Experience has proved that the means best adapted to this end is "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." It has been used in numerous cases with complete success, generally effecting a cure in a few days. It is the best condition medicine known, and may be given with perfect safety at all times and does not require that the horse be kept from work. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Sold by all medicine dealers.
