DIVISION OF PROFITS
OF THE
CANADA LIFE
Assurance Company.

"WHO IS MY NEIGHBOUR?"

(Canada Law Journal.)

A poetical friend from the ancient capital sends to us the following parody suggested to a "First Intermediate," on reading Smith on Neighbouring Proprietors. It is so good that we do not apologise for its insertion in these days of legal pooticisms:

Thy neighbour? It is he whom thou
Of all men hatest most;
Who's ever anxious for a row,
Nor lets a chance be lost.

Thy neighbour? It is he whose cows
Grow fat upon your grass,
Whose horned cattle calmly browse
"With sweet unconscious grace."

In your potato patch, and feed
With no felonious bent,
But bona fide—clearly freed
From aught of ill intent.

Thy neighbour? It is he who digs
A well that draineth yours,
Lets loose his sed uprooting pigs,
And floods you with his sewers.

He, who to malice much prepense,
To wilful injury prone,
Refuses to put up his fence
Or keep his fowls at home.

Thy neighbour? Who purest spite,
At half-past nineteen years,
Obstructs your almost "ancient light"—
Gives victory to your fears.

When hope had almost won the day
Then makes unkindest sport,
And aggravates you by the way,
He insult adds to tort.

Who opens a window on your yard,
Your privacy invades,
And guards it with a light he's had
For ever two decades.

Thy neighbour? Ask me not again,
But ere this day be run,
Go mix among your fellow men,
And seek him—with your gun.

KINGSTON. J. B. M.

Mr. Anglin's Case.

The following are the principal points in the report of the Committee on Elections and Privileges

"That it appears from the evidence before the Committee that Hon. T. W. Anglin, since he has been elected a member of this House, has fulfilled various orders given by public officers for the insertion in his newspaper, the St. John Freeman, of advertisements in connection with the public service, and various orders given by the Post Office Inspector under the instructions of the Postmaster General for the printing of forms required for the Post Office Department, and has received public moneys for such advertisements and printing;

"That it appears from Mr. Anglin's evidence that his action was taken under the bona fide belief, founded on the precedent and practice hereinafter stated, that he was not thereby holding, enjoying, undertaking, or executing any contract or agreement within the second section of the Act 31 Vic., cap. 35, for securing the Independence of Parliament;

"That it appears from the evidence taken by the Committee and from the Public Accounts of the Dominion, and returns laid before Parliament, that between 1870 and 1873 numerous orders given by public officers for the insertion of advertisements connected with the public service were fulfilled, and various sums of public money were in respect thereof received by several persons then being members of Parliament, and that although these practices were notorious, it was never alleged in Parliament that the members concerned therein had entered into disqualifying contracts, but they held their seats unchallenged through two Parliaments;

"The Committee are of opinion that in point of law the same principle must govern the case referred to them, and the cases of the Russell election and the said other members;

"The Committee are, however, of opinion that said precedent and practice are erroneous, and that according to the true construction of the Act for securing the Independence of Parliament, the transactions in question did constitute disqualifying contracts.

"The investigations of the Committee have led them to the conclusion that the Act for securing the Independence of Parliament requires careful revision and amendment."

SMOKING is looked upon by many as a great evil, which it undoubtedly is, when carried to excess, and it is well known that nearly all smokers, smoke too much. This is certain sooner or later to cause much suffering, and the best way to counteract the bad effects of tobacco, in the system, is to keep the blood pure and healthy by using SMITH'S GREEN MOUNTAIN RENOVATOR.

No hotel in this country or Europe is more thoroughly comfortable for families and ladies travelling alone, than the well-known Colonnade Hotel in Philadelphia Pa.
