SHOE FACTORY PLANT SOLD AND MOVED

A deal which quickly changed the shoe factory situation in Alliston was completed last week, evidently the end of the week, whereby the machinery and all the stock in trade of the factory on the upper floor of the Brown building was sold by Lewis Smith to Laird Thompson who is associated with Clayton E. Hurlbut, who a year ago brought the Beaufoot shoe manufacturing outfit to town. The Beaufoot closed down late last spring because of lack of finances and the company was supposed to be completing arrangements of refinancing. It had even been rumored that the officers of the company were meeting with success and that the factory was very likely to be in full operation again. Instead of the Beaufoot factory reopening the machinery in the old University factory was all taken out Monday and that evening was taken out of town to be located at 310 Spadina Avenue in Toronto. Thus Clayton E. Hurlbut who brought the Beaufoot factory to town moves out with the plant of another concern and a number of individuals are left holding the bag.—Alliston Herald.

Colonel Kennedy announces that cattle shipments to Great Britain will be met on arrival in the Old Country and every thing done to promote sales to best advantage, reports being made back to the shippers by the Agent General's office in London. Enquiries for space should be addressed to the Ontario Marketing Board, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

THE COMMON COLD

We have come to the time of year when we hear a sneeze here and a cough there, and see people with running noses and reddened eyes. The common cold, that persistent enemy of the human family, is again with us, making many miserable and, all too often, leading to serious and fatal trouble.

The name "cold" suggests that the temperature is responsible for this disease, but such is not the case. The common cold is most prevalent when the temperature drops; it is not the cold air which is responsible for this, but rather the things which the drop in temperature leads up to.

Instead of living and working in the open air, or in rooms with open windows, as we do in summer, we begin, with the coming of cooler weather, to shut ourselves into overheated and badly ventilated rooms. Fresh fruits and vegetables are not so readily obtainable, and diets are, therefore, apt to be poorly balanced With fewer games and less physical activity, the body soon suffers from lack of proper use.

These are the conditions then which apparently favor the occurrence of the common cold. But look around you, and see as well as hear those who seem to be doing their best to scatter widely the cold which is theirs. These people seem sincere in their desire to share! They cannot get rid of their cold by passing it on to others, but to show that they are not selfish, they are willing to share it!

Even though we are not in favor of laws as the means to gain an end, it does seem to us that the example that would be made by locking up a few careless coughers and sneezers and spitters might furnish a valuable lesson. A little consideration on the part of those who have colds towards those who are not similarly afflicted would save a great deal of suffering There is no particluar reason why the common cold should destroy common sense.

Persons who have colds should be in bed. This may seem an ertreme measure, but if it were practised it would save many lives which are now being lost, would shorten the duration of the attack of the cold, and would above all, protect others. At least, coughs and sneezes can be covered with handkerchiefs—preferably paper ones—the hands can be kept clean by repeated washing, and the individual who has a cold can refrain from kissing the children of the family.

It is regrettable that no specific means for the prevention or cure of the common cold is available. We are left to fight it by maintaining the general health and by avoiding contact with cases.

MacDONALD—MacCANNELL

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized in Fairlawn church, Toronto, on Saturday, September 23rd, when Mary Isobel, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Angus MacCannell, Proton Station, became the bride of Mr. Angus Murray MacDonald. son of Mrs. MacDonald and the late James MacDonald of Stornoway, Scotland. The Rev. C. C. Washington officiated.

The bride looked charming in a graceful gown of Marachino chiffon velvet with matching hat and carried a bouquet of Briarcliffe roses and baby's breath. The music was played by Miss Helen Kennedy of Toronto, and during the signing of the register Miss Seurst sang "Beloved, it is morn."

A reception was held later at 195 Snowden Ave., the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. D. MacDonald, where a buffet luncheon was served to about 30 guests. Mrs. Angus McCannell, mother of the bride wore a gown of blue triple crepe, blue hat and a corsage of roses and lily of the valley and received with the bridal couple. Later Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald left amid showers of confetti and good wishes for Montreal and other points. The bride travelled in a French blue ensemble with matching accessories. On their return they will reside in Toronto.

Friends from a distance who attended the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. George MacDonald of Stratford, Miss Rhoda Shute of Chatsworth, Mr and Mrs. Wm. Hay, Mrs. Angus McCannell and daughter, Effie, of Proton. The bride is a sister of Mrs. A. L. Hincks of Priceville.

Bride Elect Honored

The staff of the Industrial Refuge, Toronto, where the bride has been a matron for the past 6 years, presented her with a beautiful tea service. She also received many lovely gifts given to her at different showers. The groom, who is employed in the McLean Magazine Publishing Co., was presented with an electric lamp electric clock and electric automatic toaster.

GRUMMETT—GOTT

In St. Paul's Anglican church, Melancthon Township, on Saturday, Sept. 30, at 12 o'clock noon were married by Rector M. F. Oldham, Robert Roy Grummett, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grummett of Osprey, to Verna Mae Gott, daughter of Mrs. W. Gott and the late William Gott of Proton township. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Patton. A sumptuous and tasty wedding dinner was served at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Emerson Grey, of South Line, Osprey. After a wedding trip to Cooksville they will reside on the groom's farm at Hatherton in Osprey Township.

PARK—BELLAMY

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Wednesday afternoon last at the United church parsonage, when Rev. W. J. Scott united in marriage Miss Reta Agnes Bellamy, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bellamy, to Mr. G. Russel Park, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Park of Eugenia. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left on a motor trip to Quebec and on their return will reside in Flesherton.

Cat Adopts Rat Family

Believe it or not, as you like, but a Fergus cat has appointed itself as the guardian of a family of white rats and seems determined to find them a good home, where they can live in the comfort to which cats are accustomed. The rats belong to some of the Fletcher boys, but they got out of their pen and were roaming around loose in the business section of the town. Constable McDougall's cat, probably on patrol duty, found the rats, and proceeded to round them up one at a time, but those who saw the performance were surprised to find the cat purring a welcome, and when it caught a rat, it would lift it gently by the neck and carry it away, instead of executing it or playing with it. Miss Grace Stewart, the clerk of the Utilities Commission was rather unpleasantly surprised to find that the office had suddenly become occupied by white rats and she sent for help. Even the fact that the rat was under the care of a cat, which having deposited it, was away to hunt for more, didn't altogether assure her as she doesn't like rats. Among those who responded was the Chief of Police, who owns the cat. He soon assured Miss Stewart that she was not being specially favored because, so far, his cat has carried in no less than eight uninjured white rats to his home upstairs. The rats are back in their cages now, and the cat is lonesome.—Fergus News-Record.
