Geo. Shannon Passes

Mr. Geo. Shannon, prominent and life-long resident of the Vandeleur district, passed away on Monday afternoon, after an extended illness, at the age of 74 years. After leaving the farm some years ago he moved to Flesherton where he resided until three years ago, when he moved to Markdale. His many sterling qualities won him many friends who are sorry to hear of his death. The late Mr. Shannon was unmarried and leaves two brothers, Thomas at Vandeleur and John in British Columbia.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon with service at the home of his brother, Thomas, at Vandeleur at 2 p.m. Interment will take place in the family plot in the Irwin Cemetery, Toronto Line North.

HIGHER PRICES INDICATED AS RESULT OF SHORT CROP

A considerable increase in the price of potatoes is indicated for later in the season, according to reports to the Department, due to a distinct shortage in both Canadian and American crops.

The later Ontario crop is now arriving on the market and, while the supply of Dooley potatoes will show a decrease as compared with that of 1932, the quality is particularly good.

During the time of harvesting, supplies of potatoes reaching the market will, in all probability, exceed consumptive demand. So far as the consumer is concerned, therefore, this will be the most advantageous period for the purchase of potatoes for winter use.

Mrs. Rubright asked a divorce because her husband dropped snakes down her back. Queer how some people want to wriggle out of matrimony.

Other Paper's Opinions

Unless something is done to curb the tendency of traffic coming toward Stayner to "hog" the newly-laid "sidewalk" accidents are going to be far too plentiful. Many motorists seem to think they are entitled to half the pavement and, as consequence refuse to take to their own side until the last moment. Signs, advising traffic of the right-of-way should be placed at prominent points to help offset this menace.—Stayner Sun.

COMMUNITY THAT PROSPERS

The community that prospers is always the friendly community. Today the world is seeking out such places. There is so much of travail and harshness in the everyday affairs of life that friendlu havens beckon from afar. If you want Noorwood to be prosperous, to be known as a friendly spot, then you must be friendly too. It is a good message to carry with you—and it pays big dividends in happiness and prosperity. —Norwood Register.

SERVICE APPRECIATED

An Ontario editor died recently and many of the weekly newspapers commented on the fact that he was gone and some of them added that he had twice been mayor of his town. "We can," adds the Fergus News-Record, "think of many detter ways in which an editor can serve his town than that." Come along old top, with your "better ways". Speaking from experience and from long association with municipal affairs the thought is that after all a fulfillment of the duties of the office of mayor is a service of one's fellow citizens, who, while sometimes appearing unappreciative, in the main, recognize honest and faithful effort, not only, it should be added, of mayors, but reeves, councillors and trustees.

LIMITATION TO FUNDS

The idea that the public savings in Canada's banks is a fund that can be drawn upon for all and sundry purposes, including the flotation of new government loans, is exploded in the monthly commercial letter to the Canadian Bank of Commerce, which declares there are limitations to the use of these funds for such a purpose. This is made clear by an analysis of the deposits and loans of the Bank of Commerce which, it is pointed out, can be accepted as representative of the relative figures for the whole banking system. The 426 millions of total public deposits held by the Bank of Commerce on May 31st were distributed through about 1,100,000 accounts, which means an average balance of less than $400. If saving accounts alone were taken into consideration the average balance was still lower, namely $327, while about 850,000 of these accounts were of $500 or less. There were only 112,000 accounts showing balances between $500 and 5,000 and 5,500 accounts of over $5,500. The larger balances, it should be noted mere generally held by the manufacturing and large trading concerns and represented in the main their surplus working funds to be used for buying raw materials and paying wages once there is a further revival in the demand for goods.—Alliston Herald.

NEGLIGENT WITH CAR

A decision of much interest to motorists was given in a Hamilton court last week when a driver was ordered to pay $120 and costs for negligence. Last January, during a snowstorm, he stopped his car on a main highway in order to clear his windshield. Another motorist coming along ran into the rear of his car, saying he did not notice the red tail light. The plaintiff claimed that the defendant could have gone fifty yards further to a service station to clear his windshield, and that he had no right to stop on the highway so as to endanger traffic. It is a decision that motorists should respect. Too often drivers seem to think they have a right to stop when and where they like. Even when there is an accident motorists do wrong to flock to the scene and block the road so badly that it is almost impossible for anybody else to pass. Driving in a negligent manner is bad, but you can also park on the road in a negligent manner.—Hanover Post.

Osprey Resident Dies At Age of 93 Years

Osprey township lost one of its oldest citizens in the death of Mrs. D. C. McDonald at the great age of 93 years. Death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Archie McInnes on Friday, October 6th, after an extended illness of some months.

The late Mrs. McDonald was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McDonald, original pioneers of Osprey township, who came with their family of five children from Tiree, Scotland, and settled on the 4th Line of Osprey, on a farm one mile west of McIntyre. Mrs. McDonald was then seven years of age and well remembered the six weeks spent in crossing the Atlantic Ocean in a sailing vessel. With the exception of one year spent in the West she had spent all her life on the farm where she went as a bride. By perseverance and courageous hearts the dense forest was cleared and a home established for themselves and their family of eight children: Hector at Peace River, Alta., Neil at Singhampton, Kate, (Mrs. John Taylor) Cayley, Alta., Flora (Mrs. Archie McInnes) McIntyre, Donald at Brant, Alta., Sara (Mrs. Neil McLean) died at Brownlee, Sask., in 1906, Bella (Mrs. John Empey) Brandon, Man., Maggie (Mrs. Lauchie Cameron) died at Glen Ewen, Man. With those of her family who survive and mourn her passing are 28 grandchildren and 41 great grandchildren. The late Mrs. McDonald lost her husband when she was 40 years of age and was left with her family of small children.

The funeral took place on Monday October 9th to McIntyre, with Rev. McPherson in charge of the services The pallbearers were Messrs. Neil Archie and B. McLean, Hector and Neil McDonald and Newell Robertson.

The many beautiful flowers testify to the high esteem in which the deceased was held. For the past year she has been bedfast, but bore her suffering patiently and with Christian fortitude. For some time she had been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Archie McInnes, who was a devoted attendant at the bedside of her mother.

Those who attended the funeral from a distance were: Miss Mary McArthur, Miss Margaret McArthur and Mr. Archie McArthur, Toronto; Mrs. C. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDonald and Mrs. Well White, Collingwood; Mr. and Mrs. Neil McLean and Mr. Roy McLean, Dornoch; Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Thompson, Flesherton; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Thompson, Mr. Neil McIntyre and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fisher, Portlaw.

AN ACTUAL FACT

For the business men who appear to think the public does not need to be constantly reminded of who they are, where they are, and what they have to sell, the well-known story of what happened to a product called Pyle's Pearline, will bear repeating. In the early days of the century Pearline, a cleansing material was used by most of the housewives of the country. In 1904 the company spent $500,000 in adverttsing. Then the advertising was greatly curtailed and about 1907 it was discontinued altogether, as the company thought the product was so well known that no further advertising was necessary. Sales fell oft rapidly, but the company's owners persisted in their non-advertising policy until 1915, when the whole concern was sold for $12,000. Pearline was dead. Many other products whose names were household words a few years ago, are no longer sold because the manufacturers failed to keep up their advertising and consequently the public forgot them. Business men should remember that new generations of potential customers are coming along all the time, and that these new buyers must be sold on a product or a store, as their fathers and mothers were before them. The only time it is safe to stop advertising is when one is ready to go out of business.

PAPER MAKING TREES

At the present time there are only a few species of trees that are used for paper making, says the American Tree Association. We are finding new ways of utilizing additional species, but two-thirds of our pulp comes from spruce, fir and hemlock. These three species supply practically all the raw materials from which the coarse paper used for newspapers is made. Pasteboard and coarse wrapping and packing papers are made from pinewood. Most of the finer grades of paper that are used for magazines and books are from poplar and other softwood trees.—Boston Transcript.

MAGISTRATES RENEW REQUEST FOR AUTHORITY TO ORDER STRAPPINGS

One of the matters dealt with at the meetings of the executive of the Magistrates' Association of Ontario in Toronto recently, was a further memorializing to the Govt. relative to corporal punishment for some offenders 21 years old and under.

They feel that if, in their descretion, they had power to order strappings, this would have a deterent effect of crime and to a considerable extent reduce the populations of jails and other penal institutions. If this authority were granted them, the Magistrates would exercise it judiciously and in no sense would it be abused, it is asserted by the Magistrates themselves.

The principal of a school may administer the strap for purposes of discipline and very often it is conductive of good discipline, but Magistrates have not this authority except in sex cases or kindred offences.

In asking the press of the Province to designate their courts Magistrates' Courts rather than Police Courts, the Magistrates aim at correcting the impression, seemingly held by many that a Magistrate's Court is exclusively a court where matters related to policemen's activities are dealt with.
