AN INDIAN COMPLAINT

The Advance was pleased to have a call one day last week from Mr. Charles Jones, Chief of the Cape Croker Indian colony. He was accompanied by his brother, Thomas P. who keeps store at the Cape and who stands high in the estimation of the community. With two other gentlemen they were returning from Toronto, where they had been to interview the Department of Game and Fisheries regarding the fishing rights off the Cape Croker shore, where they claim, they should be allowed to fish without license. The Department, it seems, has ruled that they have no such rights.

The members of the deputation seemed rather despondent over the treatment they have received. Both the Jones men are well educated, the Chief having had a good common school education and his brother, T P., having graduated from Belleville Business College and also Albert College. One of their number was recently fined for illegal fishing off shore and the visit to Toronto was made to find out exactly what their rights were in that regard.

The Cape Croker colony contains a population of the very finest citizens who did their full duty in wartime, a number of the enlisted men making the supreme sacrifice. We believe the colony earned more consideration at the hands of the government than it appears to be receiving, in this matter, at least.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Have we forgotten: No, never! yet the general public would be tempted to believe we had, judgng by the silence maintained in Flesherton on Memorial day. Surrounding towns and villages all vied with each other in putting up some sort of memorial service, but Flesherton was silent. To say the least it was missed by many people. Officialdom was just a little neglectful of duty this year.

Get Rid of the Barnyard Boarders

In preparing for housing the stock for winter, all surplus work horses, finished beef cattle, boarder dairy cows or decidedly poor type heifers, old ewes and old sows should be culled out and disposed of to the best advantage.

Nominations Being Held November 24

Artemesia Township and Flesherton Village nominations will be held on Friday of next week, November 24th. and if more than the required number are nominated and qualify the elections will be held on Monday, December 4th, the advertisement of which appears on another page.

There is not much talk at the present time as to what positions will be contested or whether any new men will attempt election to the councils, but this will likely be remedied before nomination day. Both councils have gone through the year with the minimum of criticism of their actions. They have lowered the tax rate considerably, which will be welcomed by the taxpayers this year. Nomination day will finally tell what is doing in municipal politics.

NOT WHAT THEY USTER BE!

Nomination night is in the offing. "Ah," says the old timer, "they ain't what they uster be. In them days we had the times. Why, I've seen a hot-headed feller peel off his coat and threaten t'lick anyone what said what he said weren't the truth. I've seen a feller have t' crawl out the back winter t' keep from being thrown out. Word fights, fist fights, shoutin', cussin', pleadin', prayin'; whoops! What a time we had. Them nom'nations give us something t' talk about fer days. Then when 'lection day come round, they was plenty of fussin' and fumin' then. Hosses nigh wore out at the day's end, what with gallopin' here and there t' bring all the misfit and the unfit to vote. And then when the fight was finished and the winner was 'nounced what a cheerin' and back slappin', what a jeerin' and teasin'—man, what a celebration.

"Now things is diff'rent somehow. 'Taint like it uster be. Them fellers goes to the meetin' and stands up wan after t'other and says what fine fellers t'other feller is. Then they say what fine fellers they is an' what they done fer town 'n kentry and everybody says Hurray an' puts 'em all back in by 'clamation."—Exchange

Tobacco To Minors

Complaints have recently been made of minors coming into posession of cigarettes, either by buying them or having them bought or given to them by other persons. Section 3 of the Minors' Protection Act states that "no person shall furnish to a child under eighteen years of age cigarettes, cigars or tobacco in any form. Sub-section two of the same section provides that such sub-section one does not apply to a sale to a child for his parent or guardian under a written request or order of the parent or guardian. This means that any person giving or selling tobacco to persons under 18 years of age are liable to a fine of not less than $2 nor more than $50.

"Memories"

By A. S. THURSTON

RICHARDSON: William E., born in Culgaith, Cumberland County, England, December 24, 1837. Died in Flesherton November 16th, 1921.

He was married to Miss Graham who died about 1865 leaving one daughter, Margaret, who married Joseph Wilkinson, and resides in Culgaith.

William came to Canada about 1868, joining his brother, Matthew, in Flesherton, where they bought out the store of Mr. Boulster general and drug combined and secured a permit from the Government to operate a drug store. At that time it was not necessary to have a diploma. He also attended the Veterinary College in Toronto, 1869, and followed that work for some time in connection with the drug business. A few years later he returned to England and married Miss Sarah Newling of Melbourne, Cambridgeshire, who came to Flesheron as his bride and who took a great interest in all her husband's undertakings and also of her family's which consisted of one son and two daughters. She was also a very active member of the Baptist church which in those early years was in its infancy in Flesherton. As their business increased the old store was moved away to be replaced by a large brick one which is the present drug store, and has for years been operated by the son Charles (better known as Dick).

The family consists of two girls and one boy. Of the two girls in the family, Florence, the elder one lives in Los Angeles, where she has held a splendid position in a large business firm. Josephine, better known as "Josie" remained at home to give her invalid parents the care needed in their declining years, as they were both invalids for some time before they died especially the mother, who was very frail before her death on March 22, 1928. Josie married John Latimer of Edinburgh, Scotland. They are now living in Toronto and Charles N. of Flesherton.

Charles N. spent his early boyhood at the old public school when not playing "hookey" to fish or hunt which he sometimes does even yet. After absorbing all the knowledge to be had at public school (so he thought then) he went to Woodstock College for two years. Charles was very interested in boxing, and in his reminiscing some very exciting bouts took place at the college, but "Like father, like son," he then went to Toronto and attended Pharmacy a year, securing his diploma as druggist and chemist. After almost a quarter of a century of bachelor bliss he married Miss Zella Trimble, and seeming to have forgotten his earlier ambitions regarding boxing, has settled down to "Live happily ever afterward." He is a Tory, Mason, Forester, member of United church, also the town council on which he has served about fifteen years, being secretary for Hydro Commission the greater part of that time.

A Remarkable Tuber

In spite of a dry summer this year seems to have produced some record root crops. Last week a 20 lb. mangel on view at The Leader office caused considerable comment and now a parsnip measuring over three feet two inches has taken its place. Mr. Neil Dow is the proud producer of the lengthy tuber and claims to have some even lengthier specimens in his garden if he were able to excavate them in one piece.—Tara Leader.

THE GASOLINE INDICATOR

Significant is the fact that gasoline consumption in Canada is proceeding at an increasing rate. There is no single gasoline gauge to show consumption by motor vehicles, but a column of figures at Ottawa serves the purpose very well. Last year, Canada used 50 million gallons more gasoline than the previous year, although the total number of motor vehicle registrations decreased 7.2% and the new car registrations showed a drop of about 35%. This year, gasoline consumption is not only being maintained but new car registrations show no such decrease as there was in 1932. These two factors taken together, indicate no likelihood of a decline in motor vehicle mileage. Mileage, particularly in the case of five and ten-year-old cars, means inevitable replacement. On the strength of gasoline figures alone, the sales potential for 1934 is encouraging.

Talk about marble halls, but our preference is a farm kitchen, a really deep pumpkin pie, a pair of old slippers and a snooze of an evening on the old sofa behind the stove.

Anglican Rector To Tara Appointment

Rev. M. F. Oldham, Rector of Dundalk parish, comprising also Melancthon, Maxwell and Proton churches has been appointed by Right Rev. C. A. Oldham came from Atwood to Dundalk 5 years ago and has had a successful five years ministry in Dundalk parish. A successor will be appointed by the Bishop in a very short time. Tara is a one station parish, and a fine large brick church. It serves a large territory in the vicinity of Tara and Invermay.

Won Scholarship

Earl Johnston, a student of Flesherton high school, has been awarded the third Carter Scholarship in Grey County, which is a cash prize of $40. Earl is a brilliant student and is to be congratulated upon his success. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnston of Springhill. The winner of first prize of $100 was Clayton H. Bunt and second prize of $60 was Harry Sussman, both of the Owen Sound Collegiate Institute.
