THE ASSASSIN OF MR. SEWARD.

Washington, April 17.

George F. Robinson, a soldier and nurse who was in attendance on Secretary Seward on Friday night, has related circumstantially the proceedings in the chamber, from which it appears that it was through his brave and determined endeavor that the consumation of the murderous designs of the fiend were frustrated. According to Robinson's account Frederick W. Seward, Major Seward and Mr. Hansell were all wounded, on the stairway, as heretofore mentioned in this correspondence. As Robinson opened the door to learn the cause of the disturbance without, the man struck at his breast.—In his hand he had a long knife, the blade of which appeared to be about twelve inches in length, and one inch in width. Robinson, determined to oppose his progress, raised his arm to parry the blow. The consequence was that a wound was inflicted on the centre of his forehead, close to the hair, which he wears turned back. The knife glanced, and the clenched hand in which the man held the dagger, came down upon Mr. Robinson's face, and felled him to the floor. Miss Seward, at this juncture, escaped from the room, and ran to the front window, screaming murder. The assassin leaped to the bed where Mr. Seward lay still, apparently in a helpless condition, and gave a tremendous blow at his face. He missed his mark, however, and almost fell across Mr. Seward's body. By this time Robinson had recovered, jumped on the bed and caught hold of the assassin's arms. While he was thus attempting to hold the assassin, the latter struck Mr. Seward on the left side of the face and then on the right side. The assassin then raised up, and he and Robinson came to the floor together. They both got on their feet, Robinson keeping a firm hold of him. The assassin reached his left arm over Robinson's shoulder and endeavored to force him to the floor. Finding he could not handle Robinson in this position, he dropped his pistol, which had been forced against Robinson's face, in the hand which was around his neck, caught hold of Robinson's right arm with his left hand and struck behind Robinson with the knife. They still continued struggling for a few moments, Robinson forcing towards the door, which was open, with the intention of throwing him over the bannister. When they had nearly reached the door, Major Augustus Seward entered the room. Robinson called on him to take the knife out of the assassin's hand. Major Seward immediately clutched the assassin. The latter then struck Robinson in the stomach, knocking him down, broke away from Maj. Seward and rushed down stairs. During the scuffle, when, he cannot say, Robinson received a wound quite serious, some two inches in breadth, on the upper part of the right shoulder blade, also another a little lower down on the same side, and a slight one on the left shoulder. While struggling with the man near the bedside, he seized the wrist of his right hand, in which was the dagger, and did not release his hold until knocked down by the assassin. Near the door and after Maj. Seward had come to his assistance, he returned to the room after he had found that the assassin had escaped, and found that the Secretary had got off the bed on the floor, dragging with him the bedclothes and was lying in a pool of blood. Upon going to the Secretary he found no pulse in his wrist, and started to Miss Seward, who had re-entered the room and asked if her father was dead, that he believed he was, but upon a second examination Robinson ascertained that his heart was still beating. The Secretary then said, "I am not dead. Send for the police and a surgeon and close the house." He then placed the Secretary on the bed, telling him he must not talk. Mr. Seward did not speak after that. Mr. Robinson remained with Mr. Seward untill eleven o'clock the next morning, when he was removed to the Douglass hospital. Every attention is being paid to this brave man by the attendants of this institution, and his condition is very favorable.

THE CAUSE OF MR. LINCOLN'S ASSASSINATION.

Lengthy though the reports connected with the assassination of Mr. Lincoln have been, there has not been a word stated, either by way of suggestion or as a matter of fact, as to the motive which could have impelled John Wilkes Booth to brace himself to the fearful work of striking down, in the height of his exultation over the victories of the past few months, the President of the United States. Surely something must have been known of the man by the authorities at Washington, where he had spent so much of his life. Was there no act of the Government whose effect could be traced in any way to Booth? The reports hint not a word; but the deficiency is supplied by the Buffalo Courier of yesterday It says:—"The motives which impelled the assassin to his infernal work seem to lie chiefly on the surface. We are assured by a gentleman who claims to have positive knowledge on the subject, that Booth is an own cousin of the rebel Captain Beall, who was executed, a few weeks since, on Governor's Island." And it adds—Most clearly, we think, the inspiration of the murder came not from the conquered and prostrate South, but was wrought up in the secret chambers of a mind partially prepared for the evil work by its reckless, desperate nature and its bitter hatred, and finally impelled to the act by the mad promptings of personal revenge."

If this should prove to be true, it will be a singular instance of the remarkable agreement of popular apprehension with established fact. Hardly had the news of the assassination become known here than those who endeavored to find a cause for the horrible deed, and there minds directed to the execution of Captain Beall. This brave man, before he died, declared that his death would be avenged, and Booth is reported, after uttering the words, "Sic semper tyrannis," to have also said "I am avenged"—or as some accounts have it "The South is avenged." Doubtless more will be known on this point by-and bye; and while nothing can justify a foul act of assassination, it will be satisfactory to know that Booth was actuated by no worse a motive than that of proving his devotion to a near relative, according to his idea of the way in which that devotion should be shown.

The attempt of a local cotemporary to connect the crime with the whole Southern Confederacy, and especially to bring into contempt the Southern people residing in this city, is as contemptible as it is unjust, and must be frowned down by every one who has a spark of honor or manliness in his bosom. Just now, at all events, there is nothing whatever to show that the concoction of the plot of assassination can be traced to any one in the South—and we may be sure no effort will be lost to form such a chain of evidence, if the task is at all possible—but it is hard to believe that any person who had the welfare of the Confederacy at heart could have counselled the commission of an act which must recoil with three-fold severity upon its people.—Leader.

FROM MONTREAL.

Montreal, April 1865.

James A. Watts has been tried for arson. He was defended by Mr. Kerr. Alfred Perry swore to finding a pile of sticks and matting in the store on the 30th of January, and believed that it was set on fire. Mr. Bertram, the Chief of the Fire Brigade, gave similar evidence. George Taylor, clerk to Mr. Watts, deposed that the prisoner left the store about half-past four o'clock, and witness an hour afterwards.—He kept a key. So also did Watts. The wood was not in the same position on the morning after the fire as he left it at night. It had been removed to shelves. Mr. Parker stated that Watts was insured in the Scottish Provincial for $1,000. A valuator made the inventory of the stock after the fire, and estimated the damage at $60. No claim had been made by the prisoner. The clerk who made the inventory testified that the hardware stock was only worth $203. He did not know the value of the photographic materials there. Mr. Johnson said he understood they were not insured.

A policeman testified to give the alarm about 9:20 p.m. He found the door locked. Perry was about the first at the fire. Benson, who sub-let the store to Watts, said he owed $30 for rent on the night of the fire; he was sued for $36 in February and paid it. James Notman swore to prisoner having been at his house from six to eleven o'clock on the night of the fire. Robert Notman testified to the prisoner being with him from 4:40 p.m. to about 6 o'clock, driving, and then he went to witness' father's house about 6:10; Watts remained there until about a quarter to eleven o'clock. The photographic materials were valued at $672. They were left with Watts for him to sell them on commission. Three witnesses spoke as to the good character of the prisoner.

After half an hour's retirement the jury returned with a verdict of "not guilty."

Judge Mondelet said—The Court cannot receive your verdict where evidence is so strong as in this case.

A Juror—We will be of the same opinion at the end of a week.

Judge Mondelet—You will retire to your room and deliberate further upon your verdict.

The jury was then locked up.

Montreal, April 18.

A requisition signed by about five hundred influential citizens of all parties has been presented to the Mayor, requesting a meeting to express the feeling of horror with which the assassination of Mr. Lincoln is regarded. The Mayor has fixed the meeting for to morrow, at 12 o'clock, in the Mechanics' Hall. At that hour all business is to be stopped—as a tribute, says the Mayor, of respect to the memory of the late President, of sympathy with the bereaved members of his family, and as an expression of the deep sorrow and horror felt at the atrocious crime.

Over 300 houses were destroyed by the late flood, and about 60 lives lost.

The jury returned again a verdict of "not guilty" in the Watts case, and was discharged. The Judge explained that he thought the jury too hasty in rendering the verdict yesterday.

Thomas McKenzie, clerk with McKenzie & Co., tried last session for robbery, was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment.

Mr. Daoust, M. P. P., was tried on the second indictment for forgery, and acquitted.

THURSDAY MORNING, APRIL 20, 1865.

COMMERCIAL.

Welland Canal Tolls.—An Order in Council has been issued, specifying that on and after the 15th of April a toll of $4,50 per 1000 cubic feet, on all rafted square timber passing through the Welland Canal, will be levied and collected, in lieu of those specified in an Order in Council of the 15th of April, 1863. The toll is to be chargeable on the marketable square timber only, and not on the materials used for securing the timber and building up the cribs or rafts.

The First Raft.—A large raft of white pine left here on Monday, towed by the steamer "Sorel," on its way to Quebec, being the first raft of the season from the Ottawa. This raft is the property of Mr. William Mackie, and it is creditable to his enterprise that he should lead the way.—The raft wintered on the Hull side of the Ottawa, opposite the city. It is considered excellent timber and we hope will command a quick sale on its arrival at Quebec.

 Kingston is ahead of Ottawa, for a raft left Kingston shortly after the harbor was open.

Montreal, April 18.

MARINE.

Launch.—Mr. Berry's ship was not launched yesterday afternoon, as was intended. She will be launched this afternoon at four o'clock.

The Grecian.—The Grecian had 225 tons of freight for Toronto and Hamilton on her departure on Tuesday night. She makes another trip to Toronto and Hamilton on Friday evening at six o'clock. The Passport makes a trip next week.

Navigation.—The Richelieu is entirely free of ice, and boats for some time have been passing up and down the river. We understand that the Chambly Canal will be open for the season on the 24th inst.

The "St. Helen"—This favorite steamer, will again take her place on the Bay and River route, under the command of Capt. Smith. We understand she will commence her trips on Monday next, from Trenton.

The Osprey.—The St. John's Evening Telegraph of the 10th says:—The steamer Osprey has returned to St. John's, N. F., after less than a month's absence, with five thousand five hundred seals. She was to leave again immediately for a second voyage, which we hope will be equally successful. This is the only steam vessel engaged in that fishery.

Ship Building on the Lakes.—The tonnage of the Lakes, already over 600,000 tons, is rapidly increasing. There were built last year in all the districts on the lakes, eighty-seven steamers, and one hundred sail vessels, with an aggregate burthen of 47,854. The greatest number were built at Cleveland, viz: twenty-six steamers and forty-one sail vessels Chicago thirteen steamers and two sail vessels.

The Ice.—The ice-bridge may now be safely considered among the things of the past. On Saturday afternoon there ceased to be a continuous path between the landing places on either sides, and the Artic succeeded though not without a considerable amount of difficulty and no small degree of danger, in effecting a passage. Again yesterday, she crossed several times, but the batture ice was jammed against the wharves and the task was arduous in the extreme. The strong easterly wind jammed the ice along the shore.—Quebec Chronicle, 17th.

Police Court, Wednesday.—Jane Williamson, charged with drunkenness and vagrancy, was banished. Frederick Thompson was fined $4 for drunkenness. The case of Catharine Walker, charged with selling liquor without license, was dismissed.

Special Notice.

We are happy to learn that the important case of the ST. ALBAN'S RAIDERS is now in Press and shortly will be published, and equally pleased to know that it will be made strictly impartial and reliable in all its bearings, being supervised with great care by the Hon. J. Ashott.

We confidently bespeak its great success amongst the leading classes.

IN THE YEAR 1845

Mr. Mathews first prepared the VENETIAN HAIR DYE; since that time it has been used by thousands, and in no instance has it failed to give entire satisfaction.

The VENETIAN DYE is the cheapest in the world. Its price is only Fifty Cents, and each bottle contains double the quantity of dye in those usually sold for $1.

The VENETIAN DYE is warranted not to injure the hair or the scalp in the slightest degree.

The VENETIAN DYE works with rapidity and certainty, the hair requiring no preparation whatever.

The VENETIAN DYE produces any shade that may be desired—one that will not fade, crock or wash out—one that is as permanent as the hair itself. For sale by all druggists.—Price 50 cents.

The Rev. C. W. Vining who has safely returned from a journey in the East, thoughtfully brings us, among other curiosities, some of the newspapers published in Egypt and Turkey. They are in four languages, French, Turkish, Armenian and Greek. We cannot read them, but he can, and through his patience we have been gratified to learn their contents, and the materials of which newspapers are made up in the land of the Osmanlis. Our American enterprise is well represented: stoves, wooden and tin-ware, ploughs, axes and tools are advertised from this country. In each of the four languages are heralded the virtues of the remedies made by our celebrated countryman, Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., of Lowell. They seem not to depend on their home reputation for confidence abroad, but publish the certificates of the Musselman rulers themselves, to the cures which those medicines have made in their midst. The Rev. gentleman informs us that the whole of remedial aid employed in those countries, comes from Europe or America, as they possess no medical colleges or schools in which they have any confidence themselves. There arose the religious ideas which pervade the human family, but almost all that is useful in art or invention must be carried back to these, the earlier settlements of mankind.—Lynn News.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

IS a concentrated extract of the choice root, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power, as to afford an effectual antidote for diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. Such a remedy is surely wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove, as this has, of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints: Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Sores, Skin Diseases, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Eruptions, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, &c.

Syphilis or Venerial Disease is expelled from the system by the prolonged use of this Sarsaparilla, and the patient is left in comparative health.

Female Diseases are caused by Scrofula in the blood, and are often soon cured by this Extract of Sarsaparilla.

Do not discard this invaluable medicine, because you have been imposed upon by something pretending to be Sarsaparilla, while it was not. When you have used Ayer's—then, and not till then, you will know the virtues of Sarsaparilla. For minute particulars of the diseases it cures, we refer you to Ayer's American Almanac, which the agent below named will furnish gratis to all who call for it.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills, for the cure of Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Heartburn, arising from Disordered Stomach, Pain or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, and for a Dinner Pill.

They are sugar coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best Aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by E. H. Parker, Kingston, and all Druggists. Northrup & Lyman, Newcastle, General Agents. 2moS6

The New York Tribune says, "the reason why Drake's Plantation Bitters are so universally used and have such an immense sale, is that they are always made up to the original standard, of highly invigorating material and of pure quality, although the prices have so largely advanced," &c.

The Tribune just hits the nail on the head. The Plantation Bitters are not only made of pure material, but the people are told what it is. The Recipe is published around each Bottle, and the bottles are not reduced in size.—At least twenty imitations and counterfeits have sprung up. They impose upon the people once and that's the last of them.

The Plantation Bitters are now used in all the Government Hospitals, are recommended by the best physicians, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. Facts are stubborn things.

Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted many years with severe prostrating cramps in my limbs, cold feet and hands, and a general disordered system. Physicians and medicine failed to relieve me. Some friends in New York, who were using Plantation Bitters, prevailed upon me to try them. I commenced with a small wine-glassful after dinner.—Feeling better by degrees, in a few days I was astonished to find the coldness and cramps had entirely left me, and I could sleep the night through, which I had not done for years. I feel like another being. My appetite and strength have also greatly improved by the use of the Plantation Bitters.

 The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and the urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.

C. C. MOORE,

If the ladies but knew what thousands of them are constantly relating to us, we cahdidly believe one half of the weakness, prostration and distress experienced by them would vanish. James Marsh, Esq., of 159 West 14th St. N. Y., says, "he has three children, the first two are weak and puny, his wife having been unable to nurse or attend them, but that she has taken Plantation Bitters for the last two years, and has a child now eighteen months old which she has nursed and reared herself and both are hearty, saucy and well. The article is invaluable to mothers," &c.

Such evidence might be continued for a volume. The best evidence is to try them.—They speak for themselves. Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, diabetes, &c., will find speedy relief through these Bitters.

Every bottle for exportation and sale out of the United States has a metal cap and green label around the neck.

Beware of refilled bottles. See that the cap has not been mutilated. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is an imposter. We sell it only in bottles.

Sold by principal dealers throughout the habitable globe.
