IN MEMORIAM
FRY—In loving memory of our dear daughter (Sadie Bell), wife of the late Robert Fry, who passed away October 27th, 1936.
 The sweetest to remember a daughter so dear,
 Though absent from sight, ever so near;
 Unseen by the world, she stands by our side,
 And whispers dear ones, death cannot divide.
 Ever remembered by Mother, Dad, Sister and Brothers.

a hymn was sung. A very pleasing solo "What Return can He Make" was rendered by Mrs. F. Thompson. Guest speaker was Mrs. Nicoll, formerly of China. Mrs. Nicoll did wonderful missionary work there for 26 years, her husband likewise for 56 years, and her youngest daughter is now serving there. The address proved most interesting and inspiring. ## TERRA COTTA

The October meeting of the Terra Cotta U.F.O. and U.F.W.O. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Thompson with about fifty members present. The ladies' meeting was opened by singing the Maple Leaf, followed by all repeating the Lord's Prayer. The secretary, Mrs. Albert Dolson, then read the minutes of the September meeting which on motion were adopted.

A well prepared paper was given by Mrs. James McKane on the motto, "He who knows how little he knows is on the way to knowledge."
 A short address was then given by Mrs. Gordon Graydon, her subject being "Royalty and Loyalty," in which she paid a beautiful tribute to our King and Queen, pointing out their great loyalty to their King of Kings, as well as to their people. The joint meeting, with the president, Mr. T. L. Leslie in the chair, was opened with a well rendered piano duet by Nora Lyons and Jean Eccles, followed by a reading by Jean Dick.

A pleasing feature of the program was vocal selections by Ethel and Doris Hyatt, of Norval, accompanied by the piano. The subject of the evening was "The Government in these days of strain and stress." He also touched on the problems facing the farmer of the West, as he saw them in his recent visit to the Western country.
 After a vote of thanks and appreciation had been tendered to those taking part in the program, the meeting was closed by singing the National Anthem.

WAR TIME LIQUOR RESTRICTION

The Deputation of Church and Temperance representatives that visited Ottawa in July to ask for wartime restrictions on liquor made the following requests:
 1. That sale of alcoholic beverages in beer-rooms, wine shops, etc. be discontinued and that sale of such beverages be confined entirely to Government-owned Liquor Stores.
 2. That sale from Government Liquor Stores be permitted only between the hours of three o'clock in the afternoon and eight o'clock in the evening and on week-days only.
 3. That all advertising of liquor in Canada be forbidden except in the place of sale.
 4. That when the request in item 1 is implemented, an order issue from the Department of Defence closing all wet canteens in military establishments.

The names of the Deputation organized by The Canadian Temperance Federation to ask the Dominion Government for War-time Restrictions on Liquor are as follows:
 Rev. Canon Philippe Casgrain, C.M.G., representing His Eminence, Cardinal Villeneuve.

LOCAL WOMEN'S MOTHER DIED

The funeral took place on Monday, October 21st, of Mrs. Fanny M. Brooks, who passed away on Friday, October 18th, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. Costin, Gerrard Street, Toronto.
 Mrs. Brooks, who was 76 years old, was the beloved mother of Mrs. Wm. and Mrs. Allan Roney, Georgetown. She was well-known in Georgetown, where she visited with her daughters and had made many friends. Her cheery word and pleasant smile will be missed by all who knew her.
 The funeral was held from the funeral chapel of McDougall & Brown, Danforth Ave., Toronto, and the service was conducted by Rev. F. C. Overend, of Georgetown.
 Others left to mourn the loss of a beloved mother, are two sons and three daughters, Arthur, of Bridgeport, Ont.; Herbert, of Orangeville; Mrs. E. Costin, of H. Wilcox, of Toronto; and Mrs. G. Parker, Australia. One sister in Toronto and two brothers in Kent, England, also survive. Interment was in St. John's Cemetery, Norway.

G.H.S. COLUMN

Cold weather has caused our pupils to wail bitterly to school and how joyously they welcome the heat of the classrooms. Other reasons for hurrying to the little red school house are:— Say, did you find the History Assignment in your book? I searched in vain. Another complaint: "Oh dear, that's the Thomson. I forgot to take my book home. So I've started the day." Since Thursday morning, last, Mr. Heldmann has been filling Mr. Lambert's shoes. May we add, "quite capably." Due to illness Mr. Lambert has not been able to attend school. On behalf of all the pupils may I express regret for this illness and from all a speedy recovery. The latest is that Mr. Lambert returned to G.H.S. on Tuesday afternoon.

CADETS

The Cadets don their uniforms for a route march out to DeVries' Tuesday after four.
 No. 1 Platoon is under Lieut. Perry while No. 2 is under the direction of James Ruddell. The two groups are to divide and meet at a designated point, from here the cadets proceed to the camp site to mess.

 They then march to Gregory Theatre and those wishing to attend may do so.
 At last the basketball standards are in readiness for a game.
 Rugby: The campus of G.H.S. was again a trial place for a game. It was only a trial game and does not count.

REMINISCENCES OF GEORGETOWN

wife and their two eldest children, settled in the north-easterly portion of the township of Equestrating at the site of the present town of Georgetown. They were the earliest settlers in this part and their task was by no means an easy one as the country was practically virgin forest, with little or no means of communication with the outside centres. There was also present at all times, the danger of wild animals, necessitating constant care on the part of Mrs. Kennedy to guard her children's safety.
 Amid such surroundings, George Kennedy, built the first dwelling in what was to be known temporarily as "Hungry Hollow," but later, about 1837, was to be named Georgetown in honour of its founder. This home was a log cabin and was situated on the flats near the present site of the Guelph Street bridge. They chose this particular location because of its proximity to spring water. Seventeen years after George Kennedy had settled here, there were but three families comprising the settlement, and it was not until 1840 that the first store was opened.

Mr. Kennedy took up two hundred acres of land from the crown, bordering on the creek line on the south and extending from the ninth line on the east to the eighth line on the west. A portion of this land he cleared and farmed, but at the same time turned his energies towards a more definite means of establishing a community. He built a grist mill on Mill Street which was operated from a flume which at one time crossed the street. A grist mill was a necessity, hence settlers came from miles around, bringing their grain to be ground. As often the distance to this mill was more than a day's journey, the Kennedy's home was open to all, at all times. Then, too, in connection with the grist mill, Mr. Kennedy operated a saw-mill. Later he erected a foundry also. It was from Mr. Kennedy that the Barber Brothers purchased the land where they later built their mill.

Although George Kennedy was keenly alive to business, he did not neglect his wife's interests and built for her, as her future home, the first brick house in Georgetown, situated on the north side of Mill Street near Main. This cottage still stands, as does also the second brick house built by Mr. Kennedy, directly across the street on the south side, and occupied by his son.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Kennedy had a family of nine children, most of whom lived in or around Georgetown until their marriage, when they moved to other parts of Canada and the United States. Their daughter, Harriet, was the first white child born in Georgetown. There still stands in Greenwood Cemetery a monument erected to her memory by the town. She married John Higgins who kept the "Station Hotel" for a number of years.

Their youngest daughter, Barbara Elizabeth, married Lewis Hartwell. Their home stood immediately west and south of the present High School.

and was burned to the ground in December, 1893. There were eight children born to them, four of whom are still living, namely: George T., of Grimsby, Ont.; E. Lewis of Pittsburgh, Penn.; Mrs. L. Woodhall of Windsor, Man.; and Mrs. Harriet Oulits, of Calgary. Herbert died several years ago and was the first reeve of Georgetown, when it was incorporated as a town. Mrs. Hartwell resided in Georgetown, until her death in her eightieth year, her husband having died ten years previous.

Two great granddaughters of George Kennedy still live in Georgetown—Mrs. A. D. Toet and Mrs. J. B. Willson, nee Barbara E. and Francis G. Kennedy, daughters of Mrs. and the late William Cyrus Kennedy, who until his death in 1935, was the oldest living resident of Georgetown, born in Georgetown.
 George Kennedy was a member of the Church of England. He it was, who gave the land on which the present church stands and it was largely through his efforts that the first church was built. He died in 1870; his widow survived him by five years. A silent token still stands to his memory, a token of love and esteem which the town of Georgetown erected to mark his resting place.—his monument in Greenwood Cemetery.
