Why Should Towns Only Pay Post Office Service

For some time the question has been discussed why towns and villages should be singled out and made to pay for post office service, while residents in the rural districts and the cities get mail delivered to their door free of charge, and we notice where Seaforth town council has petitioned the federal government to remove this discrimination. The trouble is that townsmen not only have to go to the post office to get their mail but they also have to pay rental for a box to put it in, though the convenience of boxes is just as great an aid to the post office staff as it is to the patrons. And, on top of this, we have to pay our share toward the delivery of mail in the cities and townships. In other words, they "get" us both coming and going. Of course, it would mean a large increase in expenditure for the post office department to deliver mail to everybody's door all over Canada, but this argument doesn't alter the fact that they are doing it for two large bodies of people now; though denying this service to the third class. It's time the towns joined in a united protest against the discrimination thus shown. The principle of mail delivery has been adopted and should be extended to include all classes. A start should be made in extending the service until it is uniformly carried out. But towns will never get it until they make their voices heard.—Hanover Post.

Patty Pitts of Courtland, Kan., opened a can of tomatoes and found a ring in it. After looking up the proper chapter in our book on "How To Be a Detective" we have concluded that some person must have dropped it when canning the tomatoes.

Time For Farmers To Take Stock

The important work of taking stock and making a plan for farming operations during the coming crop season should not be delayed any longer. The farmer who does this will be able to order his fertilizers, spraying material, insecticides, etc., in good time. It will enable him to cut out unprofitable cows, and hens, and other animals, and show him where by better farming methods more adequate fertilization, etc., he can cut the costs of production.

REDUCED FREIGHT RATE

An important reduction in freight rates on certain export cattle from feeder points in Eastern Canada to Montreal, St. John and Halifax, is announced in advices to the Ontario Marketing Board. The reduction applies only to cattle in transit, that is cattle to which the railways had previously carried to the feeder points. The rate will be cut in half and will mean a saving to the farmer shipping for example, from a point in Ontario to St. John or Halifax, of approximately $30 a carload.

Three hundred tons of sand will be taken from a pit near Brantford and placed on the icy highways. If it were all piled in one heap in the middle of the road it would not stop some of our drivers.

TELEPHONE AND MILL Co. ANNUAL MEETINGS

Feversham Correspondence

The annual meeting of the Osprey Farmers' Milling Co. Ltd., was held in the Orange hall on Tues., Jan. 23. The meeting passed off quietly, but of course the business of the chopping mill has fallen off considerably, owing to less feed being fed. The flour sales have increased and the directors were able to pay a 10% dividend on shares and have a small amount of cash on hand and a good stock in the mill. The credit book acrounts are still swelling and 1933 credit accounts have swelled several hundred dollars, now having around $2,500 of book accounts. The directors say that they have a good prospect of collecting about six or seven hundred dollars of the credit accounts in the near future. The old board of directors were reelected for 1934 vis., Messrs. F. Spofford, Ern. Hawton and John Hudson.

The annual meeting of the Osprey municipal telephone system was held here on Wed., Jan. 24. There was considerable discussion about the $2 extra the subscribers had to pay than their motion passed at the last annual meeting called for, but the commissioners of this system and the Railway Board of commissioners agreed, so we had to pay the $2.00 extra. Then there was quite a discussion over the delinquents in levies, tolls and rentals uncollected up to December 31, 1933, amounting to $602.92. The subscribers, or a number of them, could not fall in with the commissioners idea of carrying those delinquents, giving them free service and taking the chance of getting even when the delinquents real estate is sold by tax sale by the county. Of course, the collections are made by the Osprey council in with the taxes, so those delinquents possibly are not paying their taxes either, but it was thought that the commissioners could stop carrying those delinquent accounts from year to year as an asset of the system. A number of the subscribers had the idea that those subscribers who did not pay the levies for maintenance and tolls for messages were not an asset of the system, but a liability. Mr. Fred Pedlar was chairman of the meeting and Mr. C. N. Long, secretary.

Mr. Wm. Bewell's fine large barn was burned to the ground on Saturday, together with a large amount of grain, hay and straw. There will be a great loss to Mr. Bewell over and above his insurance. The stock was taken out of the stable at the time.

Very cold here; 20 below zero on Monday morning.

Choosing The Breeding Male

Where pedigree breeding of poultry is followed, the first choice male should be one that has passed through a breeding season and has shown by the production of his daughters that he has the ability to pass on the desired charcters for the high production of large sized eggs. The second choice should be a cockerel selected for vigour, size and breed type, from a heavy laying large egg dam and a sire similarly bred, whose daughters, the cockerels sisters, have shown their ability for high production.

Where pedigree breeding is not followed, it will pay to purchase males such as these.

United States has placed a tax of $2 per gallon on whiskey and expects a revenue of $600,000,000 a year. John Barleycorn has always been pictured in the dual role of the person who ruined homes and at the same time saved the national treasury.
