ALWAYS TWO SIDES IN ANY ARGUMENT

In commenting on the recent hockey game when Shelburne visited town and took the first of the play-off games from Flesherton 3-2, the Shelburne Free Press and Economist has the following to say:

"A very regrettable incident occurred towards the close of the game in the players' enclosure. Several hooligans, together, it is claimed, with two Flesherton players, attacked Harry Crawford, Senator defence-man, and tried hard to give him a good beating-up. Fortunately their zeal was overdone and Harry gave much more than he received. Apparently this was the 'revenge' a northerner was getting for the medicine received at Harry's hands when Referee Zinn was attacked during the game with Flesherton in Shelburne several weeks ago."

This account is very amusing to the people up here and the Shelburne editor is all wet on this battle. The above may be the victim's version of the affair, but we can assure the F. P. and E. that only one man took part in the scrap, even though the resulting damages may have appeared to lead one to suppose the opposite. No other players were embroiled in the one sided melee, although there were three or four Shelburne players in the timekeeper's box at the moment who could have helped, but didn't. One blow was all that was needed by the Flesherton assailant to make his Shelburne victim fold up, hide his face by leaning over the railing and fly to the dressing room to repair the damages inflicted by a smaller man. The Flesherton man gave plenty of warning of his attack, which was opposite to what Crawford meted out in Shelburne, according to the victim, when the first attack took place a few weeks ago which Crawford should have been penalized for and wasn't. The writer was an observer of the last little contretemps, while the Shelburne editor has his authority from reports presented to him.

presented to him. We would like to see the Shelburne paper give justice to their opponents, but the citizens cannot judge properly when such erroneous statements as the above are circulated.

Durham In C. G. League

Since hockey has been laid on the shelf in Durham sport fans in that town are now advocating the forming of a baseball team for competition this summer. The Review advocates the forming of a team to enter the Centre Grey Baseball League with Dundalk, Kimberley, Markdale and Flesherton as opponents, claiming that plenty of material is running around loose in and about that town. We are sure that Durham's entry in the League would be readily accepted and would make the Centre Grey League race more interesting. Softball, apparently, is falling flat in Durham as it has in other places and it is though that baseball would be given the glad hand by the sporting fraternity. Go ahead, Durham!

Writes From Florida

The following are excerpts from a letter received from our townsman, Mr. Geo. Mitchell, who is wintering in Lynn Haven, Florida:-

We left home on the 25th of November, 1933, when the road was very icy and it took one hour and a half to reach Shelburne; after which the road was excellent to Toronto.

We left Toronto at 9 o'clock a.m. on Saturday, going through all the large cities, Hamilton, Brantford, Woodstock, London, Chatham and Windsor. I was more than surprised at the size, importance and apparent wealth of those cities. The farms all the way are excellent, none better, with first class homes on every one, principally brick—I sure thought of a poem in the old fourth book (The stately homes of England how beautiful they stand.) You very likely would remember this poem. The road between Toronto and Windsor is excellent—well marked No. 2—no trouble going through the largest cities. We had given us by courtesy of the motor league the shortest route and the different numbers we were to use, also the best hotels.

We reached the wharf in good time and had not any trouble in getting across the border—asked us a few questions, no head tax, which pleased us immensely. We had a trunk and two large grips on the back of the car well strapped and tied on, which, I thought would have to be taken off, opened and examined. Not one thing was disturbed and the officials were just as courteous and efficient as possible. I worried on the way over, as I thought I would have to fix everything on again and it took Otto and a man he engaged two hours to strap them on.

Some days here are cool until about ten o'clock, then quite warm—to-day 72 in the shade but generally warm.

I do not think this city is growing as, it should, although there are two hundred tourists here from the northern parts. Panama City, only seven miles from here, is growing rapidly into a flourishing city and seems to be doing a real good business. Every time we go in I wonder where all the automobiles come from, as it is almost impossible to get parked in a good place. Yesterday we went golfing with the mayor of the city, Mrs. Clipperton, Mrs. McAleer and myself.

Will you please accept our sincere congratulations on your attaining the 50th anniversary of your wedded life. May you enjoy to the full, all good things in this the evening of your lives.

I would like to give you a description of the states and cities we drove through and perhaps I will, if my time is not fully taken up in other ways. We are all enjoying good health. With kindest regards to all I am

Yours truly,
—GEO. MITCHELL.

St. John's W.M.S.

The W.M.S. met in the United Church on Thursday of last week, with Mrs. Geo. Mitchell's group taking the program. Mrs. O. W. Thompson read the Scripture lesson and Mrs. Boyd the devotional leaflet "Among the Multitudes." Mrs. W. J. CAN VOTE IF TAXES ARE NOT PAID

Maxwell, February 14, 1934

The Advance:

Dear Sir,- Please publish the following letter, which is a reply to a letter on request to the Minister of Education from a ratepayer of S. S. No. 8, Artemesia, referring to a meeting of ratepayers called at the school house of the said section for January 20th, which was called off by the chairman of the Trustee Board and pronounced illegal.

—RATEPAYER.

Toronto, Feb. 5th, 1934.

Dear Sir,- I am directed by the Minister of Education to acknowledge your letter of recent date, and in reply to state, that in the case of a ratepayer in a Rural Public School Section, whose taxes for school purposes are not paid, there is no clause in the Public Schools Act which would debar him from voting at the annual meeting of the school electors. Further, his eligibility to attach his signature to a notice of the ratepayers is not affected by the Act, nor is there a clause in the Act which gives Trustees power to prevent a meeting of the ratepayers.

I have the honor to be
Your obedient servant
A. H. V. COLQUHOUN,
Deputy Minister of Education.

THE MUTTON SHEEP

The production of mutton has become largely a question of furnishing lambs to the markets. As in beef or pork, the demands of the market call for young meat and comparatively light weights in carcass. The premium paid for baby beef and bacon hogs applies with even greater force to sheep. Thick, fleshy, but rather light joints are what the cook calls for whether for the home table or the restaurant. The tastes of the consumer have been cultivated to discriminate in favor of the tasty, tender lamb until we find that from 70 to 80 per cent. of the sheep that reach the market are less than one year old. The age of heavy mutton is past—a condition most favorable to the sheep raiser, who is thus enabled to reap quick returns from his flock. The increasing demand for lamb mutton this season augurs well for the future of the industry, provided care is taken to keep up and improve the grade of the product.

Planting Early Cabbage

Early cabbage is a very good money crop. More value may be obtained from an acre of it than from the same area devoted to many other crops. Seed sowing should be done early in March and the plants grown in flats or thumb pots and later put in four inch pots. Hardening off before planting in the field is very important. This will make the plants frost hardy. As soon as the plants show signs of growth in the open field, apply a side dressing of nitrate of soda.

Road Committe Meets Minister Of Highways

On Tuesday of this week the Grey County Roads Commission had an appointment to meet the Minister of Highways at the Parliament buildings in regard to the projected expenditures this summer on the King's Highways in Grey County. The County has been forced in the past to issue debentures to pay for construction with which they were not acquainted with early enough and it is to remedy this policy that the interview has been desired. In the past the County Council has requested that highway work be discontinued in the County and the Department went ahead with work they had contemplated within the County. The Roads Commission was then forced to pay their share of the expenditures without having made previous financial arrangements for the money and they desire to have all proposed expenditures at hand to prepare for the 1934 construction program in the spring and to present it at the June meeting of the County Council. Reeve H. A. McCauley is a member of the Commission and left on Monday for Toronto, where he will also attend the convention of the Ontario Good Roads Association which convenes Wednesday and to last three days.

CUT HOG COSTS

While hogs have been climbing to the best price reached since 1931, Clark Young of Milliken, Ontario has been busy establishing a world's record for cheap production. He reports a hundred pounds of gain for every 281 pounds of feed used, which is eight pounds better than the record of the Indian State College previous holder of the record. Authorities at the Ontario Agricultural College consider one poud of pork gain for every four and one half pounds of feed decidedly above the average. Mr. Young gives his total cost per hundred pound of pork for the entire six months feeding period as $4.78 which represents more than $13.00 net profit per 200 pound hog at present prices. Not only have Mr. Young's hogs been fed cheaply and quickly (they were marketed at six months) but the quality according to the grading at Toronto and the bacon reports from Great Britain, where the pork was marketed, has been the best. Mr. Young figures his costs from weaning to six months as follows: 2,050 pounds of mixed home grain, 400 pounds of shorts, 1,650 pounds of special concentrated feed, total cost $69.57 for one lot of eight hogs.
