The Works will be let in sections, some of which are situated on the new line between Port Dalhousie and Thorold, and others, about one mile in length each, consist principally of deepening and widening the present Canal at places between Thorold and Port Colborne.

The cheque or money thus sent in will be returned to the respective contractors whose Tenders are not accepted.
For the due fulfilment of the contract, satisfactory security will be required on real estate or by deposit of money, public or municipal securities or bank stocks to an amount of five per cent on the bulk sum of the Contract, of which the sum sent in with the Tender will be considered a part.
Ninety per cent. only of the progress estimates will be paid until the completion of the work.
To each Tender must be attached the actual signatures of two responsible and solvent persons, residents of the Dominion, willing to become sureties for the carrying out of these conditions, as well as the due performance of the works embraced in the contract.

SIT DOWN, SAD SOUL.

BY HARRY CORNWALL.

Sit down, sad soul, and count
The moments flying;
Come tell the sweet amount
That's lost by sighing!
How many smiles!—a score!
Then laugh, and count no more
For day is dying!

Lie down, sad soul, and sleep,
And no more measure
The flight of time, nor weep
The loss of leisure;
But here, by this lone stream,
Lie down with us, and dream
Of starry treasure!

We dream; do thou the same;
We love,—forever;
We laugh, yet few we shame,—
The gentle never.
Say, then, till sorrow dies;
Then—hope and happy skies
Are thine forever!

Dr Oliver Wendell Holmes sent the following with his autograph to a bazaar and fancy fair at Manchester, England, in aid of the Sick Children's Home:

Hugged in the clinging billows' grasp,
From seaweed fringe to mountain heather,
The British oak, with rooted grasp,
Her slender handful holds together;
With cliffs of white and bowers of green,
And ocean narrowing to caress her,
And hills and threaded streams between—
Our little Mother isle, God bless her!

Bears.—Since Messrs. Perry Davis & Son commenced the manufacture of Bearine, the Canada trapper has found a lucrative business in capturing old Bruin. Messrs. Davis & Son pay a good price for the grease, and the skins are always sought after. Messrs Davis & Son have a mode of refining the grease, perfuming it, &c., making it superior to any others we have ever seen.

The Great Curse of the Country.

According to the report of the Police Justices of New York for the year ending October, 1874, there were 40,777 arrests for being drunk or drunk and disorderly. Of those arrested 27,203 were men and 13,574 women. Arising out of the arrests were 14,186 convictions of men and 8,927 of women. This drunkenness among women is the most frightful feature in the return, because it means so much—children going to perdition, a ruined home; everything, in a word, which is most hateful and repugnant to the right-minded. According to a return of April, 1873, the number of cases of drunkenness in New York was 638 for every 10,000, and there were 8 403 liquor saloons, being just one to every 119 men, women and children of all ages.

In a portion of the city of London, selected for its specially drunken character, there were 264 convictions for drunkenness in 10,000; in Liverpool, 329; in Cork, 382; and in Dublin, 416. It really seems that nothing can be done, and yet after all drunkenness is with most merely a habit, not a passion. Nothing can prove this more than the extent in which (except in Philadelphia, where it is reported that very hard drinking is still common) it has gone out of fashion among the higher class both here and in Europe. So soon as it became mauvais ton to be drunk, people ceased to exceed. But although in dress and in most other respects the lower level follows the higher, it seems distinctly to cling to its own way in the matter of drink.—N. Y. World.

A Vast Country.

Canada now is becoming a word to command respect wherever it is heard. A vast Dominion extending from ocean to ocean, with undreamed-of possibilities of expansion and enlargement before it, is something worth legislating about; and it is striking to notice how thoroughly alive to this the rising young men of our country are. They who have been born and educated here, who have felt the full force of our free institutions, and our rapid expansion, while no less loyal to the mother land have yet a most peculiar love for their native Canada, and vast confidence in her future. All that has long characterized the people of the United States in their boundless faith in the possibilities of their land is characterizing the young Canadian statesman of the present day; and it is a healthy sign that it should be so. There is "ample verge and room enough" for a large ambition here. We have legislated this session for the government of territories on the North-West almost as large as the whole of Europe. We have concluded a treaty by which quiet possession of lands is secured to the settlers therein, at the same time that justice is done to the Indian tribes that have hitherto been the only lords of the plains. We have taken steps for the prosecution of that vast railway work which is to bind together all the links in our great chain of Provinces and open up the way for millions of free people to spread themselves over the centre of the continent; and, although the Senate in the exercise of its wisdom, rejected a measure binding Canada to a specific yearly expenditure on the most distant link in this chain, yet the main work and the main object cannot and will not be lost sight of. We have, too, amended our Militia and Defence Acts—taking another step in the path of self-reliance and self-government. The mother country cannot now complain of Canada being a charge on her resources. —From Review of the Times in the New Dominion Monthly.

FAILURES. — Rowell's forthcoming Newspaper Directory shows the failure of one thousand newspapers in the United States during the past year, the loss to publishers, subscribers and advertisers amounting to over eight million dollars, the Republican of New York alone losing half a million. Among those who went into the paper business, and lost heavily thereby, were two hundred and seventy-five merchants and adventurers, three hundred and fifteen school teachers, fifty-seven lawyers, four blacksmiths, thirty-three plasters, ten farmers, two hundred fanatics of various classes, afflicted with literary lesion, one hundred ambitious but visionary young men who drew upon their fathers, and thus suddenly exhausted large margins of the paternal capital, and six lottery men.

EL-E-GY.—When are stockings like dead men? When they are men-ded; when their soles are departed; when they are in holes; when they are no longer on their last legs.—Boston Advertiser.

In short, you might have said, when they're not worth a darn.—N. Y. Commercial.

Or when they were worst ed.—N. Y. Star.

Or, indeed, when they are gone-sockers.

Or when they turn up their toes.

Or when they are hung up to dry.

Or when they are past boiling.—Whig.

A HUMAN MEDICAL OPERATION.—An incident reflecting credit upon the humanity of medical students lately came to light during an inquest held on the body of a policeman, in Birmingham, England. The man had been stabbed in the neck during a street riot, and was taken to the Queen's Hospital. The wound had punctured the internal carotid artery, causing a perilous effusion of blood. After consultation, the surgeons decided to try to reduce and regulate the flow of blood by digital compression of the common carotid artery, instead of resorting to a dangerous operation. The hospital students volunteered to perform the delicate and arduous duty. A word was cleared, for the patient, and for thirty three hours the students took turns in holding the artery close with their fingers. The work of compression was then discontinued for a time, as the patient demanded rest. It was afterward resumed for a period of seventeen hours. The effort proved unavailing; it became necessary to tie the artery, and after the operation the patient died.

Hemorrhoids (or Piles) are permanently cured by Mathieu's Pile Ointment, or money refunded. Price $1 per Pot, or 6 Pots for $5. Iron in the Blood.—When the blood is well supplied with its iron element, we feel vigorous and full of animation. It is an insufficiency of this vital element that makes us feel weak and low-spirited; in such cases, the Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of iron) can supply this deficiency, and its use will invigorate us wonderfully.

Burnett's Flavoring Extracts.—The superiority of these extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength. They are warranted free from their poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many of the fictitious fruit flavors now in the market. They are not only true to their names, but are prepared from fruits of the latest quality and are so highly concentrated that a comparatively small quantity only need be used.

☞ Thousands of people are now carelessly allowing themselves to drift through the preliminary symptoms of consumption, under the fatal delusion that they are troubled with nothing but a slight cold. How necessary is it then, that a cold should be cared for from its incipiency, and every exertion used to get rid of it. Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers will stop the hacking cough in a few minutes, and by their influence on the bronchial and pulmonary organs all fears of dangerous results will soon be dissipated—but they must be taken in time. Sold by all druggists and country dealers. Price 25 cents per box.

How to Make Money.—A horse dealer residing in the vicinity of Keyport, N.J., and who buys up horses for the New York market, purchases "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy" by the dozen and feeds it to his horses; he says it is superior to anything that he has ever used as a condition medicine, that the horses are so much more improved by its use as to sell more readily and command higher prices. Two other horse dealers, one residing at Huntingdon, the other at Glen Cove, L.I., also purchase it by the dozen and for the same purpose; these men, as well as many others similarly engaged, know too well the value and importance of this medicine ever to be without it. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P.Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all." —J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally as good for horse as for man."—A. Maybee, merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, 'one of the best medicines they have never used;' it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine."
