W. N. Hemphill New Head of Association

To Hold Picnic In Old Home Town In Summer—New Ocicers Elected

The annual meeting of Flesherton Old Boys & Girls Association was held at the office of Burton E. Field & Co., 53 Yonge St., on Friday evening, March 16th, President C. E. McTavish occupying the chair.

Mr. McTavish retired from the Presidency of the Association in favor of Mr. W. N. Hemphill, who was unanimously elected to succeed him in the above capacity. Messrs. A. M. Gibson, W. B. Petch and R. Maddocks were elected First, Second and Third Vice-Presidents respectively, and Messrs. F. W. Murray and Burton E. Field were again elected Treasurer and Secretary respectively, and Miss Jean Hemphill as Assistant Secretary.

On motion of Burton E. Field, it was unanimously decided to present Mr. W. H. Fenwick with a Life Membership in the Association. Unfortunately, Mr. Fenwick has not been enjoying good health for some time and has not been able to take an active part in the affairs of the Association as his enthusiasm for the work impels him to do, but he has always been a tower of strength to the Association and it was deemed fitting that some mark of our esteem be shown by the members for his able assistance in the past, and it is the sincere wish of the members of the Association that he may recover his health promptly and again take his place side by side with those who are endeavoring to foster good fellowship amongst their old friends of Flesherton.

Dr. F. W. Murray presented a very concise report of the financial affair of the Association, and was duly congratulated thereon and a vote of thanks extended for his able services during the past year. Mr. C. E. McTavish was also extended a vote of thanks in appreciation of his untiring services on behalf of the Association since its formation in the year 1929 and replied fittingly. It is good to know that while Charlie is retiring from the Presidency, he has no intention of severing his connection with the Association, and can be depended upon to be with us on every possible occasion and continue his assistance and advice which has been so helpful in the past.

We were pleased to welcome Ex-Alderman, W. J. Wadsworth, who attended the meeting and became a member of the Association at the same time, and was also elected to membership on the Executive Committee, which committee was reelected to serve for another year with some additions. The motion adopted at our meeting of a year ago with regard to the holding of the Annual Picnic in Flesherton on Civic Holiday August 6th., 1934, was reaffirmed and we are looking forward with much pleasure to another joyful reunion with our old friends and neighbors in the good old home town we just can't forget. No doubt in the near future a committee will be appointed to arrange a meeting with the Flesherton committee with a view to making the necesasry arrangements for the staging of the Picnic, in order that everything may be carried out smoothly as in the past, and it is hoped that the attendance this year will exceed that of the two previous picnics, and with some hard work on the part of the members to this end this can be easily accomplished.—Burton E. Field, Sec.

A STRANGER'S OBSERVATION

A visitor to Flesherton noticed that one of the inhabitants of this place was treated with deep respect by the others. "I observe," said the visitor to an aged inhabitant, "That you all treat this man with marked deference:

"Yes, he's one of our early settlers."

"Early settlers," asked the other "Why he can't be much above thirty?"

"That may be," replied the old man. "But he pays all his bills promptly on the first of every month."

High School Concert

A concert will be held in the auditorium of the high school in Flesherton, on Thursday, March 29, 1934 under the auspices of the F. H. S A two act play will be presented "The Bluffers." More particulars later.

Senator Lynch-Staunton of Hamilton said he favored the addition of a deparment where character should be taught. He was, by the way giving an address to a number of lawyers.

County Road Foremen

G. E. Henry and W. Gordon Look After Valley and Singhampton Roads

Appointments of road foremen for the south-east corner of the Grey County Road system have been made. Mr. G. E. Henry of Flesherton has charge of the road east from Flesherton to Singhampton, south to Maple Valley and west through Badjeros to the Dufferin-Grey County line. Mr. W. A. Gordon of Eugenia has charge of the road from the Betts' corner, east of Flesherton, to Clarksburg, known as the Valley Road. Both these men were foremen last year, but their territory is now extended, conforming to the recent retrenchment policy of the road committee in cutting to seven men the number of road formen in Grey. Their duties will comprise almost entirely work on their respective beats and not road dragging, as this will now be done by the heavy road maintainers purchased last year. The Durham-Flesherton highway has been taken from the county system and will be kept in shape by the province as part of the provincial system.

Lawson Whitehead Sr. Died at Toronto Home

Was Brother of Mrs. G. Clark of Flesherton—Ill For Long Period

Following a long illness, Lawson Whitehead, a former lacrosse star and hockey referee, died yesterday at his home, 16 Pryor Avenue, in his fifty-eighth year. Mr. Whitehead started paying lacrosse at the age of fifteen and continued playing until he was over thirty. In 1906 he was a member of the Tecumseh city championship team. For many seasons he played on the home division of the Indians with such well-known stars as "Dolly" Durkin, Charlie Querrie, Archie Adamson, and Harry Murton for his partners. The record of his starry attacking division stands out in lacrosse history. In his later years with the "Tecs." he was shifted back to the defence. He retired from lacrosse shortly after this, but continued to help along the younger fellows, and in this connection coached many teams. He was appointed to the O.H.A.'s staff of referees and when Teddy Oke organized his Millionaires Mr. Whitehead was given the coaching assignment. He was a tailor by trade, and a member of Victoria Presbyterian church. Surviving are his widow, Catherine Whitehead; one son, Grant; three sisters, Mrs. Geo. Clarke of Flesherton, Mrs. Edith Schweitart of Detroit, Mrs. Stanley Hoskett of Brampton, and two brothers, Thomas and Wilfred, living at Lambton and Chicago respectively.

The funeral of the late Mr. Whitehead took place on Monday from his late residence, with interment in Mount Pleasant Cemetery. His sister, Mrs. Geo. Clark, attended the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McMullen, Flesherton, wish to announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Doris Marjorie McMullen, to Norman Alexander Huctwith, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. Huctwith of Forest. The marriage is to take place shortly.

Too many persons learn from hindsight that they should have reasoned from foresight.

Two dogs were shot by farmers near Guelph when the animals were in the act of chasing sheep. It can only be hoped that a farmer with a gun and a good aim might be present on other such occasions.

Ice on the bay at Parry Sound is said to be over thirty-six inches thick. As warm weather does not usually set in until the lakes are cleared of ice we may be due for a late spring.

Frederick W. Armstrong, formerly of Flesherton, passed away in Wellesley Hospital, Toronto, on Saturday March 17th, after a short illness caused by an attack of appendicitis which later developed into peritonitis. A funeral service was held in Sherbourne St. United Church, Toronto, Sunday evening, and the remains were conveyed on Monday to the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. W. When quite a young man the late Mr. Armstrong was in the employ of the late M. K. Richardson, going to Toronto forty-one yars ago, where he secured a situation in the hardware store of Mr. Thos. Mr. Armstrong developed a fine Christian character, in his early youth kind, generous in a large degree to those who needed his help, a man who gave largely, through his church, of both money and time. At the time of his passing he was an elder in Sherbourne United Church, also an usher, and was secretary-treasurer of Sackville Mission Sabbath School, where he was always in his place. In quiet unobstrusive ways he served his church and his Saviour.

Those who attended the funeral were his brother and three sisters from Toronto, Mrs. Joseph Armstrong, Miss Ruth and Kenneth and Mr. J. Wesley Armstrong, Mrs. Alan Keith, Miss Ruby and Mr. Wilfred Aikenhead of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Armstrong, Miss Nellie Armstrong and Mrs. Jos. Armstrong of Markdale.

The profusion of beautiful flowers bore silent testimony of the love of a host of friends and expressed sympathy to the loved ones who are bereaved.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Thos. Clayton, F. H. W. Hickling, George Armstrong, W. J. W. Armstrong, Wilfred Aikenhead and Chas. Armstrong.

The service was conducted by his cousin, Rev. Bert Armstrong of Meaford, assisted by Rev. W. J. Scott, pastor of St. John's United Church, Fesherton.

War on Warble Fly

The meeting called in the town hall for Friday afternoon last by the county Department of Agriculture to discuss the warble fly, was well attended by a representative gathering of farmers from all sections of Artemesia township. Two representatives of each school section were appointed to place the matter before their ratepayers with a view to securing universal action throughout the country.

The warble fly does immense damage to herds, but it is claimed that it can be controlled and even eradicated if an united front is made to fight it.

HEALTH

by Frederick Tennyson M.D.

A HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION AND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES IN CANADA

OVER-PROTECTED

How often has it been said that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. How often have we pointed out to parents the importance of proper care for their child, in order to prevent disease and to secure for him robust health!

Undoubtedly, prevention is better than cure and, too, care is required but like all good things when carried to an extreme, they defeat their own purpose, and may cause actual harm In this connection, we think of the parents who display such undue concern over their children as not to allow them to play with other children for fear that they might contract some disease from their playmtaes.

This type of parent brings her young daughter in, and in the presence of the child, tells how she has been delicate from birth, remarks that the little girl is nervous like herself, and that she has to stay home from school frequently because of pains in her head and side.

Upon questioning the parent, the doctor finds that the child does not play with other children. She tires easily. She has no interest in school and is allowed to stay home when she compains of a pain. That the mother is worried is evident to the doctor and also to the child.

A thorough examination of the child fails to reveal any abnormal physical condition which would account for her pains and other complaints. The physician clearly sees that the child has drifted into this condition because of the over-protective attitude of the parent.

We all like to hold the limelight, and this child has been able to do so simply by appearing unwell or tired, or by complaining of pain. We all like to have our own way and to get out of doing unpleasant things or meeting difficult situations. This child has found an easy way; through her supposed ill-health, she has been able to stay away from school when she wished to do so, anl to escape any undesired work.

The situation is explained to the mother. She is encouraged to treat her daughter as a normal child, and when the little girl complains of not feeing well, to ignore it and not to display any worry or concern about her. The child is to be encourged to play with other children and helped to find an interest in life outside herself.

Quite simple when it is pointed out, but many children, particularly one who is an only child, pass into adult life unable to meet the problems of the world in which they must live, because over-protective parents, doing what they thought was best, have done what was fundamentally wrong for the children.

The child has a right to proper care. He has a right to protection from disease and to a fair chance to grow into a healthy adult. These rights are not secured from a parent who goes to the extreme ov over-protection.
