THE WHISTLE.

"You have heard, said a youth, to his sweet heart, who stood
While he sat on a corn sheaf, at daylight's decline,
"You have heard of the Danish boy's whistle of wood?
I wish that the Danish boy's whistle were mine.
"And what would you do with it?—tell me," she said,
While an arch smile played over her beautiful face,
"I would blow it," he answered; and then my fair maid
Would fly to my side, and would there take her place."
"Is that all you wish for?—Why that may be yours
Without any magic," the maiden cried.—
"A favor so slight one's good nature secures,
And she playfully seated herself by his side.
"I would blow it again," said the youth, "and the charm
Would work so, that not even modesty's cheek
Would be able to keep from my neck your white arm;
She smiled,—and she laid her white arm round his neck.
"Yet once more would I blow, and the music divine
Would bring me the third strain an exquisite bliss;
You would lay your fair cheek to this brown one of mine,
And your lips, stealing past it, would give me a kiss."
The maiden laughed out in her innocent glee
"What a fool of yourself with your whistle you'd make!
For only consider, how foolish 'twould be,
To sit there and whistle for—what you might take."

Bears.—Since Messrs. Perry Davis & Son commenced the manufacture of Bearine, the Canada trapper has found a lucrative business in capturing old Bruin. Messrs. Davis & Son pay a good price for the grease, and the skins are always sought after. Messrs Davis & Son have a mode of refining the grease, perfuming it, &c., making it superior to any others we have ever seen.

Court Life.

William, Emperor of Germany, lives in a house of no great pretensions, which one would never think of calling a palace were it not the dwelling of a monarch. Some curious details of his home life have been recently published. On entering his study the Emperor approaches a window where is suspended an almanac for his personal use. Every leaf has at the a verse from the bible, a proverb, or sentiment, extracted from some German poet or philosopher; then, underneath the date, in large print; are set down the leading events of the reign, the publications of certain ordinances, etc. The Emperor likes to add remarks in pencil on those pages, and often sum up his day in a line or phrase. His Majesty next receives his doctor. The cook then appears with two or three different menus which the Emperor William studies with as much care as a report from Prince Bismarck. Not that the Emperor's repasts are very exquisite; on the contrary, the dinners which he used to give as Prince Royal are of legendery fame: "People ate their beef and potatoes, and the guest blessed with good appetites never ventured to the princely table without having dined well beforehand.' The allowance always made to the Empress Augusta has always been very limited, and her meagre revenue is doled out to her every month. It is related of her Majesty that being desirous one day to give a memorial of regard to Madame Viardot, she handed to that lady her own brooch, adding in a gentle but saddened voice—
"You see that I have worn it."

HOW THE WOMEN LOOK AT IT.—A Buffalo exchange has the following in its correspondence from New York:—This is how the women look at it: Scene—Dining-room in a Madison avenue boarding house; time between dinner and dessert; dramatis personæ, "guests" of the establishment. Mr Jones to his friend Jenks—"Well, what do you think of the case now? Going rather hard on Beecher, isn't it?" Jenks—"Yes, pretty hard; but Plymouth will stand by him anyhow." To his friend's wife—"Don't you think so, Mrs. Jones?" Mrs. Jones—"Yes sir, as it should. Mr. Beecher is innocent. I heard him on Sunday, and I know he is innocent. It would be a shame if his church didn't believe in him and stand by him." The subject being opened several other ladies drop in with remarks all protesting against the base thought that so good a man as Mr. Beecher over could or should do such a thing as it charged against him. Presently the talk veers around to the testimony and then sheers off to Mrs. Tilton. Here the indignation of the ladies defies restrain. Mrs. Jones—"That wretched woman! Just see all the trouble she has made." Mrs. Macpert—"The most shameful thing I ever heard of. And to think of her wanting to testify before all those people!" Mrs. Naylett—"I don't see how she could have the face to do it. And with all that proof against her! It's perfectly awful." Mr. Jenks—"proof of what, Mrs. Naylett? You don't mean to" Mrs. N.—"Yes, I do. It's perfectly plain." Mrs. J.—"Why, nobody can deny that, I'm sure. It's as clear as day." Mrs. M.—"But she would not admit it, of course." Mr. Jones—"Admit it! if Mr. Beecher is innocent, what could she admit?" Mrs. Jones—"Mr. Jones, you shouldn't ask such questions." Mr. J.—"But you say Mr. Beecher is not guilty. How then, can"—Mrs. N.—"I don't care; it's perfectly plain." Mr. Jenks—"That Beecher is innocent?" Mrs. M.—"Of course." Mr. Jones—"And Mrs. Tilton isn't?" Mrs. J.—"Jones, stop; you're making yourself ridiculous;" and they all finish their coffee and go up to the parlour.

HEALTH AND SENSE.—In view of the approaching sickly season, the Toronto Sun has timely given warning. It says: Perfect cleanliness of person and premises; the eating of the food that is in season in moderation; whether vegetables, fruits or meat, care to see that the cooking of food be thorough; the securing of perfect ventilation in sleeping rooms, day and night, in a way to keep draughts from striking the system and the principle of regularity and industry in work, yielding neither to sloth nor haste, are cardinal rules which sensible people can easily carry out. Two thirds of the sickness of the season comes from overeating of food which is a welcome novelty in the market. Variety and moderation should be the rule. Eat heartily, not gluttonously, of well prepared food at meals. Abstain from stimulants, they pull down in reaction more than they supply, and they who take them must keep on taking them and more of them, constantly. Bathe daily, sleep long, rise early, and see to it that all garbage is deodorized or removed daily. A man with a fair constitution and good sense can keep as well as he needs to be in any season.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is a combination and a form indeed for healing and curing diseases of the throat, lungs and chest. It cures a cough by loosening and cleansing the lungs, and allaying irritation; thus removing the cause, instead of drying up the cough and leaving the disease behind.

Hemorrhoids (or Piles) are permanently cured by Mathieu's Pile Ointment, or money refunded. Price $1 per Pot, or 6 Pots for $5. Sold wholesale and retail by the Wingate Chemical Company, Montreal, and retail by all druggists, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by Dr. E. Mathieu, 198 Notre Dame Street, Montreal.

The Human Hair.—How many persons abuse this delicate and beautiful ornament, by burning it with alcoholic washes and plastering it with grease, which has no affinity for the skin, and is absorbed. Burnett's Cocoaine, a compound of Cocoa-nut Oil, etc., is unrivalled as a dressing for the hair—is readily absorbed, and is peculiarly adapted to its various conditions, preventing its falling off and promoting its healthy growth.

☞ Did you ever think that what is termed a common cold, when systematically neglected, often leads to that most fatal and distressing disease—consumption—but when attended to at once is generally easy of cure. If you are troubled with a cold or cough, Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers will be found most efficacious in removing it. They give immediate relief, and generally effect a cure when used in time. Sold by all druggists and country dealers. Price 25 cents per box.

Cure Your Horses.—It is to the interest of all who own horses to keep them in a healthy and sound condition; experience has proved that "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy" is the most efficacious, and has been used by thousands who will cheerfully confirm this statement. For heaves, coughs, colds, and all diseases which affect the wind of horses it has no equal, nor is it equalled as a condition medicine, it purifies the blood, corrects and improves the appetite, and softens the skin, in fact, so great is the improvement in the condition and appearance of the animal as to have led many to doubt if it could be the same horse. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P.Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all." —J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally as good for horse as for man."—A. Maybee, merchant, Warwarth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, 'one of the best medicines they have never used;' it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine." ☞ Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cents.
