What Motorists Pay

More than 27 per cent of the total revenues collected by the governments of the different provinces of Canada is contributed by owners of automobiles in the form of taxes on gasoline and license fees. The report states that the total amount paid by automobile owners to the provincial treasuries in the fiscal year, 1932-33, was $45,499,458, of which gasoline taxes accounted for $24,948,280 and $20,551,173 was in license fees. In the Province of Ontario 35.9 per cent of the total government revenue is paid by motorists; in Quebec, 32 per cent; in Nova Scotia, 27.2 per cent; in New Brunswick, 27.3 per cent; in Alberta, 23.1 per cent; in Prince Edward Island 22.7 per cent; in Saskatchewan, 19.8 per cent; in British Columbia, 17 per cent and in Manitoba 15.45 per cent.

COUCH GRASS ERADICATION

After harvest cultivation is one of the most effective methods of controlling couch grass. This method consists of plowing the infested area immediately after the first cut of hay has been harvested, thorougly working the land during the remainder of the season and replowing in the late fall. In the following spring this treatment must be followed by an intertilled crop or a smoother crop such as buckwheat.

Couch grass is a most persistent weed and its growth must be kept down for at least six months in order to secure complete eradication. This requires treatment during two seasons where crops are being harvested each year.

STARTING CHICKS

Supply water with chili taken off in suitable vessels, charcoal, shell and grit or river sand. Feed the youngsters immediately on their entry to brooding quarters. A good starting mash consists of: middlings, ground yellow corn, ground oat groats, each one part; shorts, alfalfa leaf meal and animal feed mixture, each ½ part; bone meal 2 per cent.; cod liver oil 1 to 2 per cent.; and salt ½ per cent.

Farm Relief Bill

oppose," asked Mr. Irvine, "a proposal to issue currency and credit for internal use on a basis of aggregate wealth of the country from year to year?" Yes, I do," answered Mr. Dodds. Mr. Irvine leading the attack for the radicals, was charged with being " theoretical" when he asked Mr. Dodds, as a banker, to define "money" and the "function of money." His question if there was enough money in Canada to-day to move the goods which are in the country and which people could consume elicited the sarcastic remark of R. B. Hanson, Conservative chairman of the Committee, "Aren't we getting into the realm of metaphysics?" Mr. Irvine replied heatedly that he did not consider it theoretical to find out how to move the goods now lying unused on the shelves of people who need them; to put money into consumers' pockets so they can buy them.

Mr. Dodds didn't get by so easily on all counts. There was a sudden banding together of Conservatives, Liberals and C.C.F.s when the general manager tried to wave aside the accusation that the banks had restricted credit in distress areas and thereby accentuated the evil effects of the depression. Bankers were not infallible; they were only human, Mr. Dodds said, and the young branch managers were likely to make mistakes. His statement that there was no demand for credit, raised the ire of Dr. Morand, Conservative, from Windsor. "It is rediculous," he exclaimed, "to say that there is no demand for credit, when hundreds of thousands of people in this country are going without things they want and need." S. W. Jacobs, Liberal, Montreal, pointed out that in the years 1927 to 1929, when Mr. Dodds asserted the banks were sounding warnings against over-speculation, large issues had been put out by companies, the directors of which were, in many cases, directors of the banks.

The treasurer of a Ladies' Aid Society went to the bank to deposit some money, remarking to the banker, "Here is some Aid money." The teller thought she said "egg" money and responded enthusiastically, "Well the old hens did pretty good."

The tapping of the maple tree for the manufacture of syrup is now becoming general. Many sugar bushes that have been idle for years are being made to produce this season, so there should be plenty of syrup available this year.

Spring opened up suddenly on Saturday last and the snow disappeared fast. Still there is plenty of snow and ice yet on the roads, but is being reduced fast. The robins and blackbirds came back in force on Monday and apparently the stiff back of winter has at last been broken.

The final event in the Flesherton Curling Club's season was a bonspiel between the President's and Vice-President's rinks. Five rinks on each side played five games and the winner in the total points are to receive a banquet from the losers, but in return will have to provide the program. J. O. Dargavel's side won over G. A. McTavish's by nine points. With games Good Friday afternoon and evening curling came to a close, after the most successful season in the short history of the club.

PORTLAW

Mr. John McLennan continnes in a precarions state, the result of his recent paralytic stroke.

A baby girl arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McMaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Plummer have taken possession of the Harold Thompson farm. We welcome this young couple to our neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McLennan of Toronto are visiting with the former's sick brother and other relatives.

The writer received an interesting letter recently from Rev. Wm. Dinwiddie of Willits, California, which revives happy memories of our earlier days. He enquires about his many old friends.

The electors of this community that gave a ninety-seven per cent vote in favor of a dry Ontario are justly incensed at the recent action of our legislators in violating the expressed wish of the people by foisting upon them an act that we deem contrary to the highest and best interests of our citizens. All honor to the faithful nine who "would not bow the knee to Baal." A reckoning time is not far off, and swift and sure retribution should be meted out to those legislators who so ruthlessly betrayed their trust, and our confidence. What will the youth of the Sunday schools think of Mr. Henry whom they chose as their leader in spiritual things? Will they claim him as their superintendent? Surely not.

HUCTWITH—McMULLEN

The marriage service for Doris, Marjorie, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam McMullen and Norman Alexander, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A.
