THE RAILROAD.

Through the mould and through the clay,
Through the corn and through the hay,
By the margin of the lake,
O'er the river, through the brake,
On we hie with screech and roar,
Splashing! flashing!
Crashing! dashing!
Over the ridges, gullies, bridges,
By the bubbling rill and mill,
Highways, byways, hollow hill,
Jumping, bumping, rocking, roaring,
Like forty thousand giants snoring!

O'er the aqueduct and bog
On we fly with ceaseless jog;
Every instant something new,
Every moment lost to view;
Now a tavern, now a steeple,
Now a crowd of gaping people,
Now a hollow, now a ridge,
Now a crossway, now a bridge,
Grumble, stumble, rumble, tumble,
Fretting, getting in a stew!
Church and steeple, gaping people
Quick as thought are lost to view;
Everything we can survey,
Turns hurly burly, topsy turvy.

Glimpse of lonely hut and mansion,
Glimpse of ocean's wide expansion,
Glimpse of foundry and of forge,
Glimpse of pain and mountain gorge—
Dash along! slash along! dash along!
On! on with a jump, and a bump, and roll,
Flies the fire-fiend to its destined goal.

—London Mail.

Bears.—Since Messrs. Perry Davis & Son commenced the manufacture of Bearine, the Canada trapper has found a lucrative business in capturing old Bruin. Messrs. Davis & Son pay a good price for the grease, and the skins are always sought after. Messrs Davis & Son have a mode of refining the grease, purifying it, &c., making it superior to any others we have ever seen.

Some of our exchanges are poisoning the community with spurious pictures of Miss Bessie Turner, of scandal fame, in nearly every case utilizing patent medicine cuts. We come to the rescue with the above beautiful likeness, a most striking one, of the young lady. Its elaborate design is beyond criticism, and as a work of art challenges the naked eye. Our artist has since died. His remains and the sketch reached us simultaneously. We make no extra charge for this issue because it presents the above portrait, but extra copies will be sent to any address on the receipt of $40—proceeds to be given to the widow of the dead genius. N. B.—The cut is copyrighted. P. P. S.—We must apologize for the crooked position of the picture within the column—the subject moved.—Danburian.

Expensive Hymen.

Says a writer in the Cincinnati Gazette: It is not at all surprising that young men, even with comfortable incomes, fear to marry fashionably educated girls when the immense amount necessary to dress them is taken into consideration. "Why," said one young man, "to be sure I have an income of $20,000 a year, but what is that when a first-class establishment and an expensive wife is in question? I live at the club, have my horse and a variety of equipages, can travel where and when I please, and have my pick of the girls to whom I can pay my devoirs, always careful, of course, not to be too pointed in my attentions to any particular star. If I married in my walk of life I must take my wife to an establishment corresponding to the one under whose roof she has always been luxuriantly sheltered. Her father will give her a magnificent trousseau, every dress in which will cost hundreds of dollars and I will be expected to maintain this extravagant style of living or, if possible, to surpass it. Why, for instance, Miss —— Well, I admire her intensely; think she is beautiful, accomplished, and unspoiled by the world, but she is one of the most extravagant little creatures I ever came across. She has been luxuriantly reared, really thinks that money is of more value than so much paper, except as a medium where with to gratify one's, various whims and fancies. She never purchases anything, even to perfumeries, without paying the most exorbitant prices therefor. I accompanied her on a shopping expedition one day. She gave $5 for a button-hook; $10 for as many drops of attar of roses; $20 for some silk stockings; $25 for a fan; $45 for a pretty handkerchief, and there was $100 expended in a parcel so small that I readily carried everything in one of my inner coat pockets and these expenditures are an every day occurrence. Her dresses all came from Paris—a black grenadine and an evening dress ordered from Worth's cost over $600, exclusive of duties. How could I maintain such a princess on $20,000 a year? I danced a German with the dear creature (dear in every sense of the word) the other evening, and I commented upon the beauty of her dress—beautiful, because of its simplicity—a pure white tulle, with white lilacs almost buried amid its softness. "Yes," she replied, with animation, "is it not lovely, and so inexpensive; only $125 for this exquisite fluffy tulle. I had the white silk, and thought I would turn over a leaf in domestic economy and have an old dress rejuvenated! Am I not getting to be quite a manager?" she added, while her face was suffused with a smile of satisfaction.

AN INGENIOUS DEVICE.—A capillary correspondence was recently attempted between a notorious Parisian thief in durance vile and his comrades out side. The prisoner was sent a letter from his fiancee, containing nearly a look of hair wrapped in a leaf of a book. The jailor did not consider the souvenir important enough to be delivered, but a few days after came a similar enclosure, and yet an other. This aroused suspicion, and the governor took the matter in hand. He examined the leaf of the book, it was only that of a common novel, 26 lines on a page. Then he studied the hair, and noticed the small quantity of the gift. Counting the hairs he found the found them of unequal length, and twenty six in number, the same as the lines of the page. Struck with the coincidence, had laid the hairs along the line of the page which they respectively reached, beginning at the top with the smallest hair. After some trouble he found that the end of each hair pointed to a different letter, and that these letters combined formed a slang sentence, which informed the prisoner that his friends were on the watch, and that the next time he left the prison to be examined, an attempt would be made to rescue him. The governor laid his plans accordingly, the attempt at rescue was made, but the rescuers fell into their own trap.

—It seems that California is not to have the monopoly of big trees. A fallen tree recently found in Victoria, Australia, measures four hundred and eighty feet.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is a combination and a form indeed for healing and curing diseases of the throat, lungs and chest. It cures a cough by loosening and cleansing the lungs, and allaying irritation; thus removing the cause, instead of drying up the cough and leaving the disease behind.

Hemorrhoids or Piles are permanently cured by Mathieu's Pile Ointment, or money refunded. Price $1 per Pot, or 6 Pots for $5. Sold wholesale and retail by the Wingate Chemical Company, Montreal and retail by all druggists, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by Dr. E. ☞ After war, pestilence and intemperance—colds leap to the greatest destruction of human life, mainly, because it is considered by many to be of no consequence and hence systematically neglected, until a simple, curable disease, is converted into a fatal pulmonary one. Every one troubled with what is called a slight cold or cough, should immediately use Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers—they allay irritation at once, and exert a most beneficial influence on all the Bronchial and pulmonary organs. Sold by all druggists and country dealers. Price 25 cents per box.

Wooly Horses.—Wooly horses are not so rare as many suppose, not such great curiosity either, there are many to be found in various parts of the country, but we doubt if they will ever prove as valuable to their owners as the one exhibited by Barnum; we imagine their owners would consider them more valuable without the wool, for this rough and wooly state of the hair indicates that the horse is not in a healthy condition—probably hide-bound, or suffering from some disease which occasions this unnatural appearance; in such cases use "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy," it purifies the blood, corrects the appetite, removes all obstructions from the lungs and liver, and gives coto the at a sleek and shining appearance. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

Caution to Housekeepers.—Owing to the increasing cost of vanilla beans used in the manufacture of Extract Vanilla spurious compounds are being thrown upon the market purporting to be pure Vanilla, but prepared principally from Tonqua beans. This nonsearing substitute costs the manufacturer less than one-twentieth part as much as the genuine vanilla bean. It can readily be detected by itself. It is used principally by tobacconists for perfuming snuff and cigars, and was never intended to be used as a flavoring for the various compounds prepared for the human stomach. Burnett's Extract of Vanilla is prepared from selected vanilla beans, and is warranted entirely free from Tonqua or other deleterious substances.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of those Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil. Read the following, and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P.O., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with a very complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses for sprains and bruises, and think it is equally as good for man as for man."—A. Maybee, merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public one of the best medicines they have never used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rosum, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much, Mr. Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine."
