Till God called him home to suffer no more.

APPLE REGULATION

It is now compulsory that all apple and hawthorn trees within three hundred yards of an orchard, the owner of which has applied for certification, must be thoroughly sprayed for apple maggot or cut down prior to July 1st. All spraying must be effected in accordance with the recommendation set forth in the official spray calendar.

Opportunities are sometimes like fish. The big ones frequently get away.

We have experienced many acts of kindness from you in the past, and realize that you were one who always did-

Little acts of kindness,
Little deeds of love.

We ask you to accept this little gift as a token of our love for you. We wish you and your's health and happiness in your new home.

Not The Tragedy Supposed

(Hanover Post)

The Clinton News-Record doubts the wisdom of The Post mentioning the fact that Premier Henry and other prominent men got their names in school "black books" when they were little shavers. Small boys, it says, can "think of enough mischief without being openly encouraged by editors old enough to know better." Really, we don't feel at all guilty. We can hardly imagine small boys reading this column, but if there are any big boys who read it we figured they would look back on the days when they were also "tanned" at school, and, after contemplating that they have since grown up, married, bought a home and become solid citizens of the community, they will realize that getting their name in the school's "black-book" was not the tragedy or disaster it appeared to be at the time.

Chicken thieves are again active in the Mono Mills district. Reeve W. A Donaldson's pens were raided and 20 birds stolen, the same number were stolen from the pens of Wilson Duke. Both these farms are situated on the sixth of Mono.

Game Warden Stops The Stops "Jerking" Of Suckers

Inspector Rolston, game warden has stopped the "jerking" suckers at Meaford and other points on the Georgian Bay, by the unemployed and others of that town who take this means of providing food and spare cash. This manner of catching suckers and mullet has been in operation for years. The Meaford Express has the following to say:

The action taken by the fish inspector the other day in forbidding the fishing of suckers here or any other place is a question that should not stop there. By such action the Government is giving more protection to the species of fish that might easily be done away with altogether. They are a menace to game fish spawn and are anything but a marketable product. The law as explained by Inspector has been on the statutes for many years and efforts should be made to have it removed inasfar as coarse fish—such as suckers, mullets and carp—are concerned.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Russell and family visited at Mr. J. E. Williams on Sunday.

In reporting the amount made by the W. A of the United church during the contest for 3 months, there was a mistake made by the north unit omitting $2 of their money in their total, making $27.53 instead of $25.53, thus bringing the whole total to $69.28. The 8th Line who were the winners made over $30. The village unit did not do so well, as there were only 3 members in the village, and as it was such a severe winter it was hard to get out among them to arrange for quiltings, etc. In the other two units there were a greater number of members and all could be called by telephone. Nevertheless there were some good helpers in the village and we are thankful to all for the help they rendered.

Showered By Friends

On Thursday evening last, friends and neighbors numbering upwards to 100, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Freeman in honor of their daughter, Miss Myrtle, bride-to-be, one of the most popular girls in the district.

The evening's entertainment began with a program in which readings were given by Mrs. (Rev.) H. S. Warren, Mrs. Wm. Swanton and Miss M. McLoughry, a solo by Mrs. Jack Perkins; cornet solos by Mr. Jack Perkins; comic song by Mr. Norman Genoe; instrumental music by Mr. Mervin Walker, accompanied by Miss Pearl Sewell. A musical contest followed. The most interesting inrident of the evening however was the bountiful miscellaneous shower for which Mrs. Frank Davis read the address, the gifts being presented and unwrapped by Mrs. Victor Brodie, Mrs. George Shaw and Mr. Jack Taylor. A quantity of flat silverware the gift of the Ebenezer church Ladies' Aid was presented by Mrs Frank Taylor, Mrs. Harold Knight reading the address.

Following the shower games were enjoyed and a delicious lunch was served.

A despatch tells of two women summoned to court for hitting each other with brooms. A brush with the enemy.

An Evergreen Windbreak Can Be Made For Farm

A farmer who plants a windbreak and shade trees around the farm buildings shows foresight, as they will enhance the value and appearance of his farm, and improve living conditions. The foresight is indicated as small trees will have to be planted and a number of years will have to pass before they make an appreciable difference in surroundings. A fine and effective windbreak can be grown in ten years with trees that are supplied free by the Ontario Forestry Branch or with cedars taken from the woods.

Evergreens should be planted in permanent locations when small, as it is difficult to transplant successfully, trees larger than three to four feet. The trees that are supplied by the Forestry Branch may be planted permanently in the windbreak, or may be placed in nursery lines and cultivated for a few years. The labor of transplanting and the setback in growth that trees have when moved are eliminated if they are planted in the windbreak. They may either be placed in plowed ground and cultivated or spot planted in sod. Cultivation stimulates considerably the growth of small trees and an effective windbreak will be grown more quickly if the trees are cultivated. There is space and the trees are more liable to be cultivated if a hoe crop is grown with them the first two years. The advantages of a tree nursery are that the trees are cultivated and it is generally easier to protect the small trees in nursery lines.

Careful consideration should be given to the location of the windbreak, the number of rows, and the spacing of trees. More than one row makes a much better windbreak than a single row, and usually they will be protected better. Spruce or pine should not be planted closer than 8-12 feet in a single row, but if three or more rows are planted they may be placed 5-6 feet and managed the same as a forest plantation.

Early spring as soon as the frost is out of the ground is the best season to transplant trees in Ontario, and care should be taken to protect the roots from the sun and wind.

Application forms for trees and descriptive literature may be secured from the Forestry Branch, Parliament Bldgs., Toronto, the Provincial Tree Nurseries at St. Williams, Midhurst and Orono, or the County Agricultural Office.

At a village concert at which the local blacksmith was chairman, a vocalist was loudly encored after singing "The Village Blacksmith." As he was about to respond to the encore the chairman whispered: "When you sing that again put in a verse about me mending bicycles."

One School Gave Thanks

At one of their sessions last year the Grey county council decided to give to every school in the county a copy of the History of Grey County, which they have had published but the sales of which have not been very great. At their last session they received a letter of thanks from one section for their gift. The school that thought it worth-while to spend 3c. and a little time on acknowledging the gift was S. S. No. 1, Holland tp. It is a commentary on our general attitude. Of course, every section was glad to get the book for their library and no doubt all of them thought it was very decent of the county council to give them a copy, yet out of the hundred or so school sections only one sent a letter of acknowledgement.

WHERE THEY SUPPORT THEIR PRINTER

There is one thing for which the News-Record has always been grateful, and that is the loyalty of the merchants and business men towards our job printing department. Very little of their work goes out of town, in spite of the plausible stories told by city solicitors for printing, as they canvass here. We were told that one man worked the town yesterday, telling the merchants they were paying too much for their printing. One man was wise enough to get our prices, and found them less than half what the traveller stated they were, and naturally below his prices, as the News-Record has no traveller's expenses to pay. We again thank the merchants and business men for their loyalty to the local office.—Fergus News-Record.
