The character which this Magazine possesses for variety, enterprise, artistic wealth, and literary culture that has kept pace with, if it has not led the time, should cause its conductors to regard it with justifiable complacency. It also entitles them to a great claim upon the public gratitude. The Magazine has done good and not evil all the days of its life.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Some of the Testimonials
From Dr Duncan McCallum, Montreal:
I, the undersigned, have been suffering very much for the last two years from Rheumatism in the ankle joint, so much so that I was often prevented from attending to my calling, but three applications of Dr Birnbaum's Rheumatism and Gout Remedy gave me that relief from pain and stiffness which I did not experience for the last two years, and after eight days' use of this remedy I find myself entirely cured.
I owe this statement to the public, to the profession and to the merits of the genuine article. DUNCAN McCALLUM, M.D.
From Dr Munro, Prof Victoria University, Montreal:
From the trials I made in my practice with Dr Birnbaum's Rheumatism and Gout Remedy and from what I know about its composition, am convinced that its use will be highly beneficial for all the different purposes for which it is designed, even in such cases where internal medical treatment is required. It is well worthy the confidence of the profession, and I can strongly recommend it to the public, it being prompt, active and efficacious in exterminating pains and swellings.

TUESDAY EVEN'G, NOV. 16, 1875.

A LADY ON CALICO DRESS.

Alas for the days now by fashion so guided!
I scarce can keep pace with the changes that run
I review when with mother I fondly confided,
When my dress was of calico, skirts of home spun.

If I tore them no fortune was lost, 'twould not end them;
A needle and thread the misfortune would bless,
I could darn them so neatly, I loved, too, to mend them
Till I felt a new pride in my calico dress.

It was altered as often as e'er I required it,
I could dress as the seasons their change begun,
I could make it look new, too, when e'er I required it,
Could purchase ten patterns where now I get one.

And oft as I don my new silk or alpaca,
With flounces and ruffles and buttons profuse,
I sigh at my pomerous trappings—alack, ah! The dress of my sex is almost an abuse.

With all the new fixings, though made to the letter
I feel that of comfort I get less and less,
And I never looked neater, I never felt better, Than when I had on a new calico dress.

There's a charm in the old homely styles of my childhood,
When riches were measured by health, nothing less,
When a girl was a queen, though she lived near the wildwood,
And used but ten yards for a calico dress.

The Pacific Disaster.

A MYSTERY SOLVED—SEARCH FOR THE LOST ABANDONED.

San Francisco, November 12.—A dispatch reports that the return of the steamer Walcott. After finding O'Hanlon the quarter-master, previously noted, the cutter steamed for Neah Bay. Near Waddan Island, they picked up the body of the under steward of the Pacific.

On reaching Neah Bay, Indians in canoes, searched twenty miles south west of Cape Flattery, returning unsuccessful.

Steaming up Barclay Sound, a white man, came aboard, and introduced himself as the first mate of the ship Orpheus. He stated she had been run into on the Thursday night previous by a steamer, was wrecked on the following Saturday morning, on an island near by Copper Island. The Captain and crew had got ashore safely, and were encamped further up. Proceeding in the direction indicated, another canoe appeared, in which was Captain Sawyer of the Orphens. He gave the following account of the disaster:

On Thursday evening he was approaching a cape, by his reckoning, about 20 miles off, with a fresh south-east breeze, steering about north-west. The man at the wheel first saw a steamer's head light off the port bow, and immediately after, straight ahead; could see neither of her side lights; could not make out which direction she was coming, but put his helm to starboard; the light came nearer, and he continued to starboard his helm until his vessel had turned around sails flat a-back. The steamer by this time had got very near him and blew one whistle. In less than half a minute after her bow struck his ship, glancing her bow just aft the fore chains. The steamer surged alongside of her, carrying away all the starboard braces and rigging on that side, also the fore top mast. Captain Sawyer states that he hailed the steamer as she surged past, and called to them to lay by him and send a boat, as he then supposed his ship to be in a sinking condition; but no one answered the hail, neither did he see any one on deck. She drifted or sailed away. He was not certain which. He afterwards saw a dash of light which he took for a signal. He thought they had heard his hail and would stand by him. He saw her no more. Friday repairing the rigging, got under way again. He made for a light which he took for Capt. Flattery, about five o'clock on Saturday morning his ship scraped over a reef and immediately after struck her bow on a rock, stuck fast, and filled. The light he mistook for Flattery was Cape Beale. The ship will prove a total loss.

Nothing was heard of or seen in Barclay Sound of anything pertaining to the Pacific. Capt. Harwood and the pilot, Peter Thompson, went to the wreck of the Orpheus and examined it carefully. They say the ship was undoubtedly struck by a steamer abaft the forward rigging. The Orpheus registered 1,067 tons. There is no expectation of rescuing any more of those who were on the Pacific, as there has been heavy weather most of the time since the wreck, and after a thorough search no hopes are entertained of further discoveries.

"SPITOONEEL."

(From Grip.)

To Oliver:

I have waited patiently for overtures of placation; see to it that you delay no longer. From you per se I have nothing to expect, nor from Ontario's trumpery Municipal Council anything worth insulting effort. But why so dull man? write to him who leads the beasts of Ephesus; to Alick,—tell him to settle my little bill on which a balance still is due;—and say also that I fain would again perambulate the European continent in visits few and short, and burrow deep in London archives for a consideration; say I'm sick of "Mat," whose chill companionship I hate and the whole batch who look askance upon me as one among them but not of them; in short tell Alick, anything you please so that "Blackheath" may result.

—You know me, Alick knows me, I am as ever open—very open; secure me and you secure tranquility during the coming session; "Mat" will hold to his briefs and all will be peace.

Deposit your reply in the spitoon at the desk nearest the speaker's chair on the left, a trusty henchman has instructions to look for it.

A Household Remedy—No family should be without so efficacious remedy for the cure of affections so universally prevalent as coughs, colds, sore throats, whooping cough and croup—some remedy, too, which can be relied on as safe, sure and certain. Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry combines the desideratum

☞ Thousands of people are now carelessly allowing themselves to drift through the preliminary symptoms of consumption, under the fatal delusion that they are troubled with nothing but a slight cold. How necessary is it, then, that a cold should be cared for from its incipiency and every exertion used to get rid of it. "Bryan's Pulmonic Waters" will stop the hacking cough in a few minutes, and by their influence on the bronchial and pulmonary organs all fears of dangerous results will soon be dissipated—but they must be taken in time. Sold by all druggists and country dealers. Price 25c per box.

Hemorrhoids (or Piles) are permanently cured by Mathieu's Pile Ointment, or money refunded. Price $1 per Pot, or 6 Pots for $5. Sent wholesale and retail by the Wingate Chemical Company, Montreal, and retail by all druggists, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by Dr. E. Mathieu, 198 Notre Dame Street, Montreal.

Poor Horses.—There are thousands of poor horses dragging out a miserable existence, suffering from a variety of diseases, rendering them almost worthless, that would be restored to a healthy and sound condition, and a value given to them of which their owners never dreamed, would they but use the means within their reach. From one to three packages of "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy" will in all cases produce a satisfactory result; hundreds have testined to the fact. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors Ja. Sold by all medicine dealers.

No organ of thought or action can be employed without the assistance of the blood, and no organ can be employed safely or with impunity without a supply of healthy blood. With healthy blood the exercised organs become well developed, whether they be muscular or intellectual. By the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites the blood is speedily vitalized and purified, and so made capable of producing a sound mind and a sound body. Persons suffering from impure blood or whose health is giving away, either as ministers or those who study closely, will find the Syrup the material to build them up and the tonic to keep them there. What They Say of It! A Few Facts for the People.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P.Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all." —J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally as good for horse as for man."—A. Maybee, merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and are pronounced by the public, 'one of the best medicines they have ever used;' it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much, Mr. Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine." ☞ Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 50 cents.
