MUST PRODUCE QUALITY

Conditions are becoming better for the farmer! The hog has turned the trick. Some of our older readers will remember the depression of the nineties and at that time one of the signs of returning prosperity was the procession of wagons loaded with hogs on their way to the Collingwood packing house.

Unfortunately this spring farmers have lost heavily because of the death of young pigs. There are "wise men who claim this might have been avoided had sows been properly fed." Some of our old timers used to feed a little slaked lime, charcoal and hardwood ashes, but in our day almost every dealer has a panacea for all the ills of live stock. We read of wonderful results obtained by feeding these.

We read a poster recently where a number of advantages derived from feeding one of the preparations, were set forth. It is claimed that hogs can be made to grow much faster, consequently a better grade is produced, meaning of course, a larger percentage of selects. The amount of feed per hog is reduced so that the farmer can feed a greater number of hogs with the grain which he grows on his own farm which, of course, increases the income from that source. We read a lot these days about the British buyer; all that he wants is bacon of high quality. For years he has been getting this from Denmark and it is said that the Danes produce long even-streaked bacon with no waste and so uniform that one side of bacon cannot be distinguished from another. When we remember that Danish soil is among the poorest, yet these people produce 400,000 tons of bacon for export in 1932. Not only was the quality uniform but the supply was steady, varying only from 84 to 90 per cent of the total British supply every month in the year. Now, through the new British system of quotas, Canada is offered a slice of this great market, but to hold it farmers in this country must learn to produce a first class article of uniform quality. In the next three years we must multiply our exports of bacon four or five times or else surrender our preferred position to some other country which will agree to supply the British breakfast table.

CURRENT CROP REPORT

Continued drought during the month of May in most districts of the province has seriously affected the hay outlook. Fall wheat, strawberries, in fact the majority of crops have also suffered from lack of moisture. Frosts occurred in some parts of Ontario, with Grey County reporting a loss of 70,000 tomato plants in the Meaford area from this cause. Peel County reports sales of baby chicks by chick hatcheries well up to the average of recent years, also a pronounced drop in chick disease inquiries. 90 per cent. of the baby chicks sold there were from blood-tested flocks. Essex has thousands of acres of good alfalfa and red clover, standing thick in the ground, but frosts and dry weather have held these crops back, too. York County estimates a loss of two-thirds of its hay crop. Crops of peas, oats, soy beans and millet are being sown to replace the lost hay crop. Prescott and Russell in Eastern Ontario reports that most of the shrubs, vines and fruit trees were seriously affected by cold weather last winter.

PRICEVILLE

The Tory political meeting was held here on Thursday evening last to a somewhat small audience. Mr. Shouldice of Chatsworth, Mr. Akins of Flesherton, Frank Irwin, Durham and Major Morrison of Fergus kept the pot boiling till the candidate himself arrived when he proved to be very fair, having a good word (as they all had) for Mr. Oliver as a fine fellow. The objection they had was, he was only one of a party. That, to us, is the beauty of the case, not subject to the dictum, "Your Leader is your policy," and will not "lose his individuality" by voting with his conscience. Miss Whittaker, Ceylon, gave two fine selections and Mr. and Mrs. Long each sang a solo and duetted together. Our popular station agent, Mr. Wm. G. McBride, acted as chairman.

The U.F.O. meeting followed on Saturday night, when, pending the arrival of Mr. Oliver the time was filled in with a fine address by Mr. Slack, late member for Dufferin, Mr. Peter Ramage and Harold McKechnie of Durham, when a mass of debt figures were given that were truly alarming. The thousands of dollars were boiled down to the amount per day received by several officials. In some instances $34, $26, $28 and so on. This was by Mr. Slack. Mr. J. McGillivray was chairman. Mr. Oliver proved a veritable whirlwind. A splendid speaker, no hums, nor haws, or ah yaws, a good counterpoint of G. W. Ross of olden time. He gave a good account of the successes he had achieved, particularly in regard to the Union Stock Yard exorbitant charges for feed, etc. This item alone to farmers was a worth while success.

The funeral of the late Dan McInnis, colloquially and kindly known as "Glory in the hollow," given by the late Rev. D. McLeod, many years ago, from a fine bunch of "Morning Glorys" which his mother had in her garden. The last obsequies took place on Wednesday of last week. the service being taken by the Rev. Norman McDonald. He died on Monday, May 28th, at the hospital in Durham, weakened as the result of a fall which broke his leg. Born in Vaughan township, York county, he was in his 84th year, his parents coming here over fifty years ago and settling on the small farm, where he lived till his death. In his younger days he was classed as a good worker and famed as a good plowman. Quiet in demeanor, yet ready with an answer. Pallbearers were Hector and Alex. McLean, Lou Frook, John Livingston, Malcolm McInnis and Walter Turnbull. He was buried in the old cemetery beside his father and mother.

The Gaelic service, Sunday, in the Presbyterian church proved to be quite a drawing card, some 106 being present, not counting babies. The great majority there, we were told knew no Gaelic (Hanicle a Gaelic). The hymns sung were "All people that on earth do dwell," Draw Me Nearer," "Onward Christian Soldiers" and "Faith of our Fathers", all in English which gave everyone a chance to join lustily in that part of devotional exercises. Several of our good Catholic friends were present and also Mr. C. McMillan, Holstein.

We were pleased to see Miss Delia Macphail here on a visit, after her recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McLean with his mother and daughter, visited with friends near Mt. Forest Sunday last.

Another trip is planned for the Y.P.S. of St. Columba by principal. Shackleton, efficient manager. This time to Tobermory on Bruce Peninsula, a fine trip. A few more names are wanted to make the 36.

The services at St. Columba United church on Sunday was taken by Mr. Eldridge Curry, a young man recently graduated. Mr. Moirs health does not warrant him to continue duties for a year, as he has been advised by his medical adviser.

Electors of South GREY

Win Kernahan

On Tuesday, June 19th; the people of this Province will determine into whose hands shall be entrusted the administration of its affairs for the next four or five years. In these difficult times it is even more particularly important that our business affairs should be under the guidance of men of experience and sound judgment, men of business capacity; reliable men above reproach.

THE ADMINISTRATION OF HON. GEO. S. HENRY IS WORTHY OF YOUR CONFIDENCE BECAUSE:

1. The members of the Cabinet are men tested, tried and proven.
2. Financial solvency has been maintained with a balanced budget.
3. Essential services have been maintained and extended without increased general taxation.
4. Social Welfare and Unemployment relief measures have been administered satisfactorily.
5. Provincial credit was never higher... It is comparable with the Dominion itself.
6. The development of a dependable British market for standardized farm products under the direction of the present Minister is already proving its worth to agriculture.
7. This is no time to consider the question of experimenting with a new administration under the direction of men without a background of achievement.

How Will You Vote

You can't vote Liberal.—There is no Liberal candidate.

You can hardly afford to vote "Independent".—There will be no Government of "Independents" and an Independent in the Legislature is, at best, but a lone voice crying in the wilderness.

You can vote - Kernahan—Because in so doing you will be supporting a candidate who on his election will be associated with a party in Government—whether they sit to the right or left of Mr. Speaker.

CONSCIENCE is torturing not one, but hundreds of careless Ontario motorists because of tragedies like this. Honest, decent citizens for the most part, perhaps neighbours of yours, but —somewhere in Ontario are the drivers who last year killed or injured 1,942 innocent children. For the rest of their lives these men and women will vainly regret having failed to obey the few simple driving rules which keep motorists out of trouble and save life, limb and property.

Because so many drivers ignored these rules 8,280 persons were killed or injured on our highways in 1933. Every death, every accident was caused by human negligence! Isn't it time for us to do a little thinking?

Do you drive carefully . . . always? You should, if only for your own protection. Remember that over 50 per cent of the victims of fatal accidents last year were occupants of motor vehicles.*
