W.C.T.U. Convention

Grey and Dufferin W.C.T.U. held their fortieth annual convention in St. John's United church, Flesherton, on Friday of last week, representatives being present from Meaford, Markdale and Owen Sound Unions.

The president, Mrs. L. B. Danard of Owen Sound, presided at the afternoon session, which opened at 2 p.m. with devotional exercises led by Mrs. Clement and Mrs. S. A. Morrison of Meaford. Mrs. W. J. Scott gave the visitors a cordial welcome to Flesherton and to St. John's church and Mrs. Danard spoke briefly but earnestely upon the work of the Union and the needs of the hour.

The report of the secretary was given by Mrs. G. H. Bonnell of Owen Sound, while Mrs. Wolstencroft of Flesherton gave the financial report as follows, receipts for the year 76.-15, expenses 71.58, balance 4.87.

Mrs. Morrison gave an outstanding report dealing with the temperance work in the Sunday schools, the value of educational work among the younger generation is being stressed in the programs of the Unions. Mrs. Morrison reported that the different Unions conducting the national study temperance course in the Sunday school during the year; in addition many S. S. had special temperance days, pledges being signed by many S. S. studetns.

The special speaker of the afternoon session was Rev. T. O. Miller of Markdale who spoke on Temperance in the S. S., stressing the importance of pledge signing—the boys and the girls of today are voters of tomorrow, and it is only through them that the pendulum will swing the other way. Mrs. Scott conducted the quiet hour.

Rev. W. J. Scott presided at the evening session. Rev. W. Howey of Owen Sound delivered a stirring address, he urged the education of the youth as the only remedy. The following resolution was presented and was adapted. "Whereas the present government has entirely ignored all our appeals for better temperance legislation, but has, on the contrary brought before the country a law that will increase the consumption of alcoholic liquors, thus increasing the danger to life on the highways and misery in the home, we, as an organization consider that the money obtained by the traffic is no compensation for the degradation of both young and old in Ontario, and whereas the number of crimes of all kinds is increasing and this will call for increased taxation to care for the criminals, we, the Women's Christian Temperance Union in Flesherton assembled, consider that Christian common sense should teach us how to cast our ballot to chose the lesser of two evils."

Appreciation was expressed to the officials of St. John's church for the use of their beautiful auditorium; to the Flesherton Union for their kind hospitality; to the speakers who gave such inspiring addresses, to all who assisted in the musical part of the Convention and to all who contributed in any way to the success of the convention.

No stocker cattle were on the market.

Calves were unchanged, and closed at $6 to $6.50 for choice, and at $3.50 to $5.50 for common to medium kinds. The hog division closed with a gain of 5c, at $8.55, f.o.b., for bacons, $8.-90 off truck, and $9.30 off car.

SIGNIFICANT STAMP

Bermuda has just issued a new series of stamps picturing the sailing vessel "Sea Venture," aboard which Admiral Sir George Somers was wrecked on Bermuda shores centuries ago. Supposedly tales of the shipwreck inspired Shakespeare to write "The Tempest."

It was from the landing of Sir George that Bermuda drew one of its names, "The Somers Islands." And it was for Sir George's wife that the Canadian National liner, Lady Somers, was named. The Lady Somers plies between Canadian ports and the British West Indies, with Bermuda a place of calls both southbound and northbound.

Wellington county hog producers have formed an organization.

EXERCISE ON HEALTH

As long as exercise is play, which means as long as it gives pleasure, and it is carried on in moderation, then the exercise promotes health and tends to improve the quality of life

There are advantages in the out-of-doors play because it takes the player out into the fresh air and sunshine and usually into more attractive surroundings. There are many forms of exercise which may be taken; of these, walking is the simplest, requiring no special preparation and not costing a penny. For the average adult person, an hour's walk each day, or about three miles in length, provides a reasonable amount of physical exercise.

Younger people will enjoy the more strenuous skating and skiing during the winter and tennis or rowing in the summer. It is not that these games should be reserved for the young exclusively, but rather that they are better suited to the young person who can go at them vigorously. As we grow older, such games should be taken on quietly and never in a competitive sense. The last gasp may win, but no game is worth it, notwithstanding the applause it may earn.

Competitions may be very fine in most ways, but they have the unfortunate tendency to drive the competitor to overdo things. The time to stop is before you feel exhausted. The man who enjoys nine holes of golf and finds a longer game more fatiguing is more than foolish to play beyond the nine holes simply to oblige someone who wishes to play the eighteen holes, or to enter club competitions.

Exercise does not have to be play. Shovelling snow and digging the garden are excellent forms of exercise for the large muscles, whether the shoveller or the gardener enjoy it or not. What we mean is, that when certain physical exercises are taken to promote health, then we doubt how much value they have if they become a bit of irksome work, because the real benefits of play are not all physical. The mental exhilaration and the release from worries found in the fun of the game are important elements in the benefits of exercise.

Be moderate in your living and be moderate in your exercise. Play for the fun of it, and keep away from games or competitions that take too much out of you physically or which make you irritable.
