A LONDON MIRACLE.

AN ODDFELLOWS LODGE PASSES A RESOLUTION OF THANKS.

The Extraordinary Case of E. F. Carrothers—Utterly Helpless For Three Years—Pronounced Permanently Disabled By His Lodge Doctor—Restored to Health And Strength And Again Working At His Trade—A Story Fraught With Hope For Others.

London Advertiser.

Canadian Order of Oddfellows.
Manchester Unity.
Loyal Perseverance Lodge, No. 118.
LONDON, Nov. 22, 1892.

To the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company:

GENTLEMEN.—I have much pleasure in forwarding you a vote of thanks passed by a resolution of the above lodge, thanking you for the good your valuable medicine, Pink Pills, has done for our brother E. F. Carrothers, who for three years and a half was almost helpless from locomotor ataxia and given up by our doctor as incurable, and who is now, we are happy to say, by the use of your Pink Pills, able to follow his employment.

Trusting that your valuable medicine may be the means of curing many sufferers and be a blessing to them as it was to our brother, I am yours truly, on behalf of the lodge,

ED. GILLETT, Secretary.
521 Phillip Street, London, Ont.

This is to certify that the above facts are a true statement.

E. F. CARROTHERS.

The above is self-explanatory, but in order to lay the facts of this extraordinary case more fully before the public an "Advertiser" reporter proceeded to investigate it. It was his pleasure and duty some time since to record the remarkable cure of Mr. E. J. Powell, of South London, wrought by the medicine known as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. It was a striking story of release from life-long affliction, but it was even surpassed by the miraculous experience of Mr. E. F. Carrothers of 103 William street. Mr. Carrothers is an uncle of Alderman R. A. Carrothers, and by virtue of long residence and personal qualities is well and favorably known throughout the city. He is a carpenter and joiner by trade, and a good workman. His friends and acquaintances are aware that a healthier and more robust man never walked the streets of London until a few years ago, when he was suddenly stricken with what is generally supposed to be paralysis. They heard with regret that he had been pronounced incurable, and as he was unable to leave the house, only occasional callers saw him again during his long spell of total disability. Within the last few months they have been agreeably surprised to see him around again plying his vocation and apparently as vigorous as of yore. Inquiry and explanation naturally followed, and it is now widely known in the city to what agency Mr. Carrothers owes his magical restoration to health and strength.

A TALK WITH MR. CARROTHERS.

The other evening the reporter called upon Mr. Carrothers and found him seated by the fireside in the bosom of his family, looking hale, hearty and happy. Upon learning his visitor's errand he said he was only too happy out of the depths of his gratitude, to relate the circumstances of his affliction and his wonderful cure.

"I had always been a strong, healthy man," he said, "until this stroke laid me low. I hardly knew what sickness meant. It was three years ago last April when the attack came. I went to bed apparently in my usual health one night and awoke about five o'clock in the morning, as my watch at the head of the bed told me. I dozed off again, and on waking the second time attempted to rise. I could not move. Every nerve and muscle of my body seemed to me paralyzed. I lay like a log. At first I was speechless, but managed, after a time, to articulate feebly, and not very audibly, my wish that a physician be sent for. Dr. Moorehouse came and placed a mustard plaster across my bowels, telling me to lie quiet for a few days. I did so because I could not do anything else.

"As I was entitled to the services of the lodge physician, Dr. Pingel, I sent for him. He gave me some medicine that relieved the excruciating pain in my head. He brought another doctor with him (I don't know his name) and they subjected me to a regular course of treatment, by which I was suspended from a support around my neck. I asked the doctor what the matter was, but as he evidently wished to spare my feelings he did not tell me directly, nor did Mr. Gillett, the secretary of the lodge, whom I also asked. I inferred that there was something they did not wish me to know.

"I had now been about a year in the same condition. Sometimes I was able to get out of bed, but never out of doors. At other times I was unable to feed myself. I had absolutely no control over my muscles. If I attempted to touch or pick up anything my arm would usually stray, apparently of its own volition, in an entirely different direction. I was more helpless than an infant, and I suffered a great deal. The doctor commenced the injection of some compound into my arm and leg, but a kind of abscess gathered in each and it had to be lanced. This was very painful. A quart of matter discharged from each. I seemed to get stronger in general health, but my paralysis remained the same. In December, 1891, after two years and eight months of this helplessness, I was given up by the doctors as hopeless. The grand master of the order, who had come to London to look into my case, and the secretary of Perseverance Lodge, called to see me and informed me of this. I had given up all hope of myself, so the blow fell lighter. The lodge had all this time been paying my weekly sick dues, and I understood that after the doctor's certificate of my hopelessness had been handed in they made arrangements to continue giving me permanent aid.

"And now as to the remedy which proved my earthly salvation: A next door neighbor one day sent me in a label of a Dr. Williams' Pink Pills box. I read it, and acting on a whim, and not with any real expectation of benefit, gave my little girl 50c. to buy a box. The very first box made me more cheerful; it seemed to brace me up and I began to feel a glimmer of hope. With the second and third box the improvement continued, and I felt more than delighted to find that I was commencing to recover the use of my limbs. Through a friend I got a dozen boxes and the lodge added half a dozen more. I kept on taking the Pink Pills, and I gained steadily; so that I am now what you see me to-day. Yes, I am capable of earning my living as before. I am working at my trade in London west at present and walk over there (a distance of nearly two miles from the house) and return every day."

"You are naturally thankful for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills then?" interpolated the reporter.

"Thankful!" echoed Mr. Carrothers. "I can't find words to express my gratitude. You can imagine a man in my position, always strong and healthy, before stricken down that way, with a family dependent upon him; and after giving up all hope of being anything but a useless burden, to be restored this way to health and happiness—haven't I reason to be thankful, and my family, too? And there was no mistaking the sincerity of the utterance. "I believe Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can cure anything that any medicine on earth can," he continued. "I know of other cases in this city where they have succeeded when doctors have failed. Well, good night." And the reporter left to call on Mr. Ed. Gillett, the secretary of Perseverance lodge, who lives a couple of blocks further south at 521 Philip street.

MR. GILLETT'S STATEMENT.

"There is nothing that can give me greater pleasure," said Bro. Gillett, "than to say a good word for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I tell you they saved the lodge a good deal of money in Bro. Carrother's case, and there is not a member of the Perseverance who won't say the same thing. We had paid out over $400 to our sick brother, and of course it was a big drain on our finances. We asked the lodge physician, Dr. Pingel, to examine him, so that we would know whether he was going to get better or not. The doctor informed us that he was incurable, and gave us a certificate to that effect."

Mr. Gillett opened his secretaire and extracted the document referred to from the lodge records. It read as follows:

Dr. Pingel, office 354 Dundas street,
LONDON, Dec. 2, 1892.

Bro. Gillett:

DEAR SIR,—At your request I carefully examined Bro Carrothers, of Perseverance C.O.O.F., M.U., who has been unable to perform any labor for several years, and find him suffering from the results of cerebral hemorrhage (extravasation of blood into brain). As no improvement has taken place for some eighteen months, I have no hesitation in pronouncing him permanently disabled.

Yours fraternally,
A. R. PINGEL.

"After that," said Mr. Gillett, "we sent for Grand Master Collins, to consider what we should do. We then learned that Bro. Carrothers had commenced taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they were doing him good. So we decided to furnish him with a supply and await developments. You know the result. He's better now and at work again. The lodge unanimously moved a vote of thanks to the proprietors of Pink Pills, and it was forwarded to them.

"I have known Bro. Carrothers for years. He was always, until his last illness, a strong, healthy man, and it seemed strange that he should be stricken down so. He had a terrible seige of it. You see the knife (pointing to one on the table), well if he tried to pick it up he couldn't do it to save his life. He was completely paralyzed.

Turning to the lodge records again Mr. Gillett produced a book and showed the reporter the entries made week after week for three years and over of the payments made to Bro. Carrothers as sick benefits. The worthy secretary intimated that any other information desired he would cheerfully furnish, but the reporter had had enough to convince him and left.

DR. PINGEL.

Dr. Pingel was next visited at his office. He remembered the case of Mr. Carrothers well, and had heard that he was better.

"You considered him beyond help, doctor?"

"Yes; any physician, under the circumstances, would have pronounced the same opinion. His recovery is certainly remarkable."

"Do you attribute it to the Pink Pills?"

"I do not doubt that they were the means of his cure, since Mr. Carrothers says it was by using them he became well again. Yes; there seems to be virtue in the medicine, judging by this case."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a perfect blood builder and nerve restorer, curing such diseases as rheumatism, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus dance, nervous headache, nervous prostration and the tired feeling therefrom, the after effects of la grippe, influenza, and severe colds, diseases depending on humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc., Pink Pills give a healthy glow to pale and sallow complexions, and are a specific for the troubles peculiar to the female system, and in the case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry.

These Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., Shenectady, N.Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firms' trade mark and wrapper, at 50 cts. a box or six boxes for $2.50. Bear in mind that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are never sold in bulk or by the dozen or hundred, and any dealer who offers substitutes in this form is trying to defraud you and should be avoided. The public are also cautioned against all other so-called blood builders and nerve tonics, no matter what name may be given them. They are all imitations whose makers hope to reap a pecuniary advantage from the wonderful reputation achieved by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and refuse all imitations and substitutes.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company from either address. The price at which these pills are sold make a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies or medical treatment.

Verona Varieties.

VERONA, Jan. 25.—A large crowd attended the assembly Friday night. Among the villages represented were Sydenham, Harrowsmith, Yarker, Colebrook, Petworth, Godfrey and some from Fredericksburgh. Prof. Gain, Kingston, won for himself a good reputation as prompter. The committee endeavored to make it pleasant for all those present, and were successful. The best of order prevailed. Mr. Daley, Sydenham, has rented rooms of Wm. Steadman, and intends starting a tailor shop. John Dawson, license inspector, called on the hotels, Tuesday, and reports business running smoothly.

H. Reynolds lost a valuable colt, Friday, from inflammation. The Messrs. Roadhouse, Wolfe Island, and Antliff called on friends yesterday. Messrs. Brown at S. Walker's; Mrs. Waller at A. Graham's. While J. B. Gowdy and wife were driving down street, Saturday, a team of horses, owned by James Donoghue, ran away, the tongue of the sleigh going through the back of the cutter throwing Mrs. Gowdy and child violently out on the snow and demolishing the cutter. Fortunately no serious damages were done to the occupants. Donoghue and Nesbet are here to-day and are paying for repairs, which will amount to about $10.

Baby's Friend.

The helpless and innocent babe cannot have too many friends. As far as baby's welfare is concerned, family friends often err; indeed, we often find the loving mother making sad mistakes in the matter of her child's dieting.

Distressing troubles follow, when poor and badly prepared artificial foods are used for the baby. Just now, indigestion, constipation, diarrhoea and dysentery are common ailments. These terrible and often fatal troubles result from careless feeding.

Babies, when nourished and fed on Lactated Food, never experience any of the troubles just mentioned. Their digestive organs are always in perfect condition; they are strong and grow fast, and are always good-natured and happy.

A mother very recently wrote about the effects of Lactated Food as follows:

"My twin babies weighed but four pounds each when born, and were very delicate; but now, thanks to Lactated Food, they are plump and healthy as can be. They are just as happy and good-natured as they look, and fond of the Food."

A WONDERFUL STORY.

THOUGH ADVANCED IN YEARS SHE IS NOW STRONG AND WELL.

A Woodstock Lady Escapes Death—The Lady Tells of Her Deliverance—An Agent Mighty to Save.

A wonderful story! A mighty deliverance! Comforting and assuring words for every sickly and disease-burdened man and woman! Every word of the wonderful letter is full of hope and joy. Paine's Celery Compound is held up as the true and only life-giver for suffering humanity. Try it, poor, weary sufferer; it will make you glad and give you a new and happy life.

Mrs. Mary E. Lampman, of Woodstock, Ont., writes as follows:

MARY E. LAMPMAN.

WELLS & RICHARDSON CO.

Gentlemen,—After serious consideration, I think it my duty to acknowledge the great good that I have derived from Paine's Celery Compound. No living mortal can imagine the sufferings that I endured for four months. That demon "La Grippe" got a fast hold of me; I became nervous, and was so prostrated that I could not sleep night or day.

Life became a burden, and I was reduced to a mere skeleton. My appetite was very poor; and I was so extremely nervous that I could not bear to have any person in the room with me.

One Sabbath afternoon, I read one of your papers, "Our Album," and found that Paine's Celery Compound had cured many people. I thought I would try a bottle, and bought one that afternoon, and commenced to take it according to directions. The relief was almost instant. I continued the use of the Celery Compound, with the result, that I can now sleep well at night and feel rested when morning comes. My appetite is good, I am gaining in flesh, and I feel like a new person.

I cannot find words to express my gratitude for your great Paine's Celery Compound, and for the wonderful cure it has brought about. I am 73 years of age, and can now walk five miles without feeling very tired. I am telling my friends and neighbors who are sleepless and nervous and suffering as I was. Wishing you unbounded success, and hoping this may be read by some one who is afflicted and anxious for relief,

I remain yours truly,
MARY E. LAMPMAN.

HOW THEY TREATED HIM.

A Conflict in an Opera House Where an Ex-Priest Spoke.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 27.—Prof. George P. Rudolph, ex-priest, of Cleveland, Ohio, was delivering a lecture antagonistic to the Roman Catholic church, at the opera house, last night, before an audience of 3,000 people, when suddenly a mob broke down the stage doors and began shooting at him. Rudolph pulled a big pistol and began firing in rapid succession at the mob. Members of the A.P.A. hurried to the rescue of the ex-priest, and the firing soon became general. In their alarm the audience were panic stricken, and men and women were knocked down and trampled upon in their mad flight to escape. Women screamed and some fainted. The house was soon cleared of all excepting the A.P.A. advocates. After emptying his revolver the ex-priest jumped from the stage among the auditors, and an examination revealed that he had been shot in the hand. Prof. Rudolph returned to the stage and resumed his lecture. Before the ex-priest had proceeded far in the resume of his lecture a shower of rotten eggs were hurled from the gallery. He was forced to retire amid jeers and hisses. He made several more attempts to complete his lecture, with the same result. Sheriff Gaddis arrived with a corp of deputies just in time to prevent another outbreak of the mob. For over an hour the officer guarded the ex-priest, or he would undoubtedly have met violence. A carriage was driven up to the stage door, and into it the sheriff escorted the ex-priest, the deputies driving the mob ahead. No sooner was the cab door closed behind the lecturer than the lash was applied to the team and the hooting mob was left behind. Prof. Rudolph was driven to a private residence, where he spent the night. Peter J. Clark, street commissioner, and a prominent Catholic, had one of his eyes badly injured. Stephen J. Hannigan, city clerk, another prominent Catholic, received a slight injury about the face. But what part they took was not learned. Great excitement prevails and dire threats are made by both factions. The A.P.A. here numbers 1,000 men and they are greatly incensed over last night's disturbance.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for coughs and colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He invites all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and $1.00. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.
