AN ILLINOIS MIRACLE.

A CASE OF DEEP INTEREST TO ALL WOMEN.

Saved Through a Casual Glance at a Newspaper—Weak, Pale And in a Deplorable Condition When Relief Came—Another Remarkable Triumph For a Great Canadian Remedy.

Dubuque Times.

Among the peculiar conditions with which the people of the present age are endowed, is a remarkable capacity for doubting. A full belief only comes after a careful investigation, and after positive proofs have been presented. Current report said there had been a remarkable cure in the case of a lady of Savannah, Ill., but as current report is always accurate, and as the story told was one possessing deep interest for the public the "Times" determined upon a thorough investigation into the matter. The result of this investigation proved that not only was the story true, but that the case was even more remarkable than the public had been given to understand.

A. R. Keynon is the fortunate owner of a comfortable house, well kept and with pleasant surroundings, situated on Chicago avenue, Savanna, Ill., and it was there the reporter sought him to learn of the sickness of his wife, and the cure of which so much is being said. In answer to the bell a lady appeared at the door, and to an inquiry for Mr. Kenyon said, he was employed by the railroad company, worked at nights and was asleep. "Is Mrs. Keynon well enough to see me?" the reporter then asked. With a very suggestive smile she said: "There is no doubt of it," and inviting the reporter in, informed him that she was the lady in question. When told the reporter's mission she said: "The statement of facts as you have made it is quite true. I did not think my case was of special interest to anyone outside of my own family and friends, but if what information I can give you will be of use to anyone else you are welcome to it. I own my present good health to a casual glance at a newspaper, and as with me some other women may be fortunate." Mrs. Keynon is an intelligent lady-like woman, and her home bears evidence of her great capabilities as a house-wife. She told her story as follows:

"I was born in Warren county, New York, thirty-three years ago. I was married when I was nineteen and came to Savanna seven years ago. With the exception of being at times subject to violent sick headache, I considered myself a healthy woman up to five years ago. At that time I was very much run down and an easy prey to the ever-present malaria in and about the Mississippi bottom lands. I was taken violently ill and during the succeeding five or six months was, the greater part of the time, helpless. The local physicians said I had been affected by malarial and intermittent fevers. I continually grew weaker, and finally went to see Dr. McAvery, of Clinton, Ia., who is reputed to be one of the ablest physicians in the Mississippi valley. He treated me for a time without beneficial effects, and finally he told me he thought he could help me if I would absolutely abstain from work. That was not to be thought of. If able to go about I had to look after my household duties. I then consulted Dr. Johnston, of Savanna. My stomach would not retain the medicine he gave me and he came to the conclusion that my stomach was badly diseased. Occasionally I would choke down and nearly suffocate. I then went to Dr. Mahoney and he pronounced it a case of heart trouble. He helped me temporarily, but like the rest said I must stop all work or nothing could be done for me. All this time I had grown weaker and paler, until I was in a deplorable condition. I had a continual feeling of tiredness, my muscular power was nearly gone, and I could not go up half a dozen steps without resting, and often that much exercise would cause me to have a terrible pain in the side. Seemingly the blood had left my veins. I was pale as death; my lips were blue and cold and I had given up all hope of ever being better. About the first of April last a young man boarding with us received a Fulton, Ill., paper. It was his home paper sent him by his mother. I picked it up one day and in glancing casually over its columns came across an account of a marvellous cure through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Candidly, I did not believe the story, and when my husband suggested that it would do no harm for me to try the pills I laughed at the idea. He insisted and I submitted, but I had no faith whatever in the pills. My husband sent for two boxes and I took them. When I had used these I was somewhat improved in health. I continued their use and I felt that I was growing stronger; my sleep refreshed me, and it seems as if I could feel new blood coursing through my veins. I kept on taking Pink Pills until a short time ago, and I now consider myself a healthy, rugged woman. My house is full of boarders and I superintend all the work. In other words I work all the time and am happy all the time. I am positive that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People saved my life, and I believe there are thousands of women who would find great relief if they used them. The sick headaches I was subject to have disappeared, and have not had a single attack since I commenced taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

"Were there any disagreeable effects from the medicine?" asked the reporter.

"None whatever," replied Mrs. Kenyon. "They are pleasant to take and the conditions imposed by the directions are easily complied with. In common parlance I took Pink Pills and they did the rest." Mrs. Kenyon stated that all her neighbors knew of her former condition and her restoration, and one of them was called in, and when asked of her knowledge of the case said: "I have been intimately acquainted with Mrs. Kenyon and know of her illness. I look upon her recovery as something marvellous. It is surely the unexpected that happened in her case. Of my own knowledge I cannot say what the nature of her ailment was, but I know that she was reduced to a mere shadow; was the palest and most ghost-like person I had ever seen. Hers was a remarkable case. She would be helpless one day and the next would be supervising the work of her house, but all the time there was a noticeable loss of strength, and the natural vivaciousness of her nature had disappeared. It was generally thought she must die, as none of the physicians who attended her seemed to understand her case or help her in the least. I was told of the sending for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and, of course, thought it the whim of a dying woman, or perhaps a sign that her husband still insisted in hoping against hope. But you can see the result for yourself, and if miracles are not performed in these days I would be pleased to know how to describe a case of this kind."

It is a remarkable case. There is no reason to doubt the sickness of Mrs. Kenyon, and in just the form she describes it. Hundreds of people in that immediate neighborhood are fully conversant with the facts of both sickness and cure, and discuss it with sympathizing earnestness. But few persons have gone so close to the dividing line between life and eternity and returned; and from the facts stated there is but a single conclusion to be drawn—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People did it.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a perfect blood builder and nerve restorer, curing such diseases as rheumatism, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St Vitus dance, nervous headache, nervous prostration and the tired feeling therefrom, the after effects of la grippe, influenza, and severe colds, diseases depending on humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc., Pink Pills give a healthy glow to pale and sallow complexions, and are a specific for the troubles peculiar to the female system, and in the case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of whatever nature. These pills are sold by all druggists or may be had by addressing direct to Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., Schenectady, N.Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper, at 50 cts. a box or six boxes for $2.50. Bear in mind that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are never sold in bulk or by the dozen or hundred, and any dealer who offers substitutes in this form is trying to defraud you and should be avoided. The public are also cautioned against all other so-called blood builders and nerve tonics, no matter what name may be given them. They are all imitations whose makers hope to reap a pecuniary advantage from the wonderful reputation achieved by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and refuse all imitations and substitutes.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company from either address. The price at which these pills are sold make a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies or medical treatment.

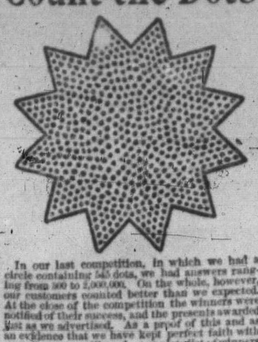
Count the Dots



In our last competition, in which we had a circle containing 565 dots, we had answers ranging from 500 to 1,000,000. On the whole, however, our customers counted better than we expected. At the close of the competition the winners were notified of their success, and the presents awarded just as we advertised. As a proof of this and as an evidence that we have kept perfect faith with our patrons, we will send a complete list of winners (excepting those objecting to publicity) to any address on receipt of a 2 cent stamp to pay postage. We do this instead of publishing them on account of the list being so very large. In our present competition we present the above star and ask our customers to count the dots as they did with those in the circle. With it we make this offer:

To the first three persons sending in the correct answer we will give each an elegant GOLD WATCH, with an ELGIN, WALTHAM, DUERRIE HAMPDEN, or other first-class movement. We will give the same to the senders of the three correct answers, who are equally far from the first and the last, while the person sending in the last three correct answers will each be given watches exactly similar to the other six. THIS MAKES NINE GOLD WATCHES, EACH OF WHICH IS VALUED AT $100, that will positively be given away. A sample watch is now on exhibition at our office, and can be seen by any person interested; solf cut sincerity is doubted the person they call, or have a friend do so, and see that they are all we claim. Remember each one is first-class and will be accompanied by a guarantee from the maker. WE PRESENT GOLD WATCHES in this competition in preference to PURSES OF GOLD because as a rule they last longer, and can, for years afterwards, be shown by the delighted possessors as an evidence that we do exactly as we promise. The watches will be presented in ladies' or gentlemen's sizes as desired. In addition we will give ONE HUNDRED EXTRA PRESENTS such as SILK DRESS PATTERNS, VALUABLE PIECES OF JEWELLERY, USEFUL AND PRETTY ARTICLES FOR THE TOILET, ETC., for intermediate correct answers. Should there be no correct answers, the presents will be distributed among those whose answers are nearest the correct number. Each answer must be accompanied by 50 cents in silver or stamps to pay for a box of Dr. Mara's Health Pills. We sell you the pills and give you the present. To any person who is dissatisfied and does not find the Pills exactly as we represent them, we will return their money. Our sole object in making this extraordinary offer is to introduce this excellent remedy into every home in America.

AS A TONIC Health Pills have no equal, per box. The tired brain-worker and worn-out business man finds them especially adapted to his case. They give new life and energy, and make hard work easy. DR. MARA'S HEALTH PILLS STRENGTHEN THE BODY AND BRIGHTEN THE BRAIN.

YOUNG MEN Who suffer from excesses of youth, nocturnal emissions, mental worry, over-work or sleeplessness, should use Health Pills. They will stop your troubles, give you energy and strength, and make you yourself again.

YOUNG WOMEN Pale and tired, who suffer from the effects of their sickness, weakness, suppression of their sickness, headache, whites, pain in the back and bearing down pains, should use Health Pills. They restore the menstrual flow in all cases, build up the system, enrich the blood and make the face plump, bright and rosy.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN Suffering from premature decay, kidney or bladder troubles, the results of youthful follies, loss of energy, mental worry or over-work, should use Health Pills. They act especially upon the bladder and kidneys, and restore the vigor of youth to all failing organs, both physical and mental.

MIDDLE AGED WOMEN Suffering from "change of life," headaches, pains in the womb, constipation, piles, irregularities and mental depression, should use Health Pills. They relieve all these symptoms, purify the blood, strengthen the nerves, regulate the bowels, and assist Nature in every way.

TO THE AGED Health Pills yield sound and refreshing sleep, give strength to the nerves, cheerfulness to the mind and ease to the body, so that the weight of years bears less heavily as the thread of life lengthens.

If the persons among whom we decide to distribute our presents object to publicity, and desire that no mention be made of their names, we will respect their wishes in the matter and forward presents to any address mentioned without the knowledge of even a third person. All communications addressed to us will be promptly answered and all correspondence regarded as sacredly confidential. ANOTHER LIFE SAVED.

ASTONISHING OCCURRENCE IN A LARGE INFLUENTIAL DISTRICT.

Particulars of The Rescue Already Known by Thousands—The Saved Man Tells the Story of His Wonderful Cure.

The story of the rescue from death of A. E. Hammond, the well-known carriage builder, of Mansonville, P.Q., needs no elaborate introduction. His own letter fully sets forth the value of the wonderful remedy that renewed his life. Mr. Hammond writes as follows:

"Some five years ago it was my sad misfortune to be afflicted with scrofula sores, of which I had five on one leg and three on the other. These were running sores for four years. In addition to this I was taken down with rheumatism in the small of my back so badly that I could not get off my bed, and, to further intensify my sufferings, I had sick headache in the worst form.

"While in this condition a friend of mine, Mr. Perkins, a merchant of this place, sold me a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, with the express understanding that if it did me no good I should pay nothing for it.

"In accepting this offer I had no idea of ever feeling under any obligation to pay for the Compound, as I had no faith in its doing me good. To my very great surprise, however, I grew better, and by the time I had used three bottles I was as well as ever, and what I never expected to see was realized, viz., the sores on my legs were entirely healed.

"It would mean the use of pages to tell one-half of what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. This marvellous cure has been in effect for nearly a year.

"There are many other cases of wonderful cures in this locality from the use of the same great agency, and no case of failure has ever been recorded, nor can there ever be one in my opinion after such tests as I have personally witnessed. I am thirty-six years of age, and have always lived in this place."

An Editor in Prison.

The editor of the North Bay "Despatch" entertains his readers with experiences as a captive in the jail. He is in for forty days, because he prefers to be there rather than pay the fine, incurred for neglecting to register the partnership of the newspaper with which he is connected. He was formerly in partnership with the publisher of the North Bay "Times," and after withdrawing from it returned and became connected with the "Despatch." His diet consists of corn mush, black strap, and bread and tea, without milk or cream, for breakfast and supper. For dinner he and his companions are regaled with stewed beef, potatoes and other vegetables, bread and tea. As a consolation for confinement he enjoys the sympathy of his friends and newspaper readers.

A new kind of fakir has appeared near Campbellford. Accompanied by a man whom he represented as a money lender, the fakir visited a farm, informed the tenant that he had purchased the property, and proceeded to sell off the wood on the place to neighbors, accepting their notes therefor, which were cashed by the alleged money lender. Now the people who bought the wood have been warned not to trespass on the property as the farm was not sold at all, and the gulled folks are meeting their notes like men.

MEN'S STYLES FOR 1893.

Garments Which Will Soon be in Favor—A Dissertation on Styles.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—"What are the men going to wear next spring and summer? What are the tendencies in men's fashions?"

Editor Charles M. Connolly, of "Haberdasher and the Clothing Gazette," filled a fresh pipe before replying to so big a question. He is a bright, chatty young fellow.

"The necktie of the coming season is the smallknot four-in-hand. It is distinguished by a small knot, narrow, about an inch and a half long, while the ends are broad and full, spreading out well in loose folds. This tie will be a favorite with dressy men, because it cannot be cleverly imitated.

"A second popular tie will be a simple bow cut from one and a quarter to one and a half inches wide. This will be suitable either for white or negligee shirts. In the latter case it will be made of the same material as the shirt, but preferably not of the same pattern.

"Of course knots and bows will be made up in imitation of both these styles, but the former, at least, cannot be very successfully copied. As to colors, modest tints will prevail—light bodies, with small, neat designs. Loud colors must give way. The keynote to the coming costume throughout is quietness and simplicity. Blue is a standard and good for ten years. The old Mogador effects are reproduced in neckwear to some extent. English twills and all silk fabrics are favored for neck wear.

"As to collars. The favored style will be the poke, with protruding points; next will come the turnover, comfortable points. Turndown collars will be much worn. The band will be lower in the back and the points longer, so as not to flop out over the vest—both changes for the better.

"Negligee shirts will be made with detachable cuffs and collars, for those who require them that way. The double-breasted sack coat goes with negligee and a belt."

"Not a sash?"

"Emphatically, no. The sash was very popular at first among dressy men, because it added effect to their costume, but when every baker's boy began to wear one, something had to tumble—and it wasn't the boy.

"Another article of wearing apparel that was unmercifully abused was the yachting cap. It was a mistake to wear them, as so many did, in town. They will continue to be worn by swells who do yacht, however, for the club emblems are a sufficient distinction. With the yachting cap goes a double-breasted blue frock coat and duck trousers."

"Duck?"

"Duck. White flannel isn't in it for the ultra swells. It is the same old story. It was getting too common.

"In hats not much variety is possible. The high hat varies in shape a trifle from year to year, but is still substantially the same in effect. The derby is a standard, but the soft hat will crowd it close. I mean the soft hat with a narrow rolling brim and a creased top crown. There are various styles. The alpine is a good sample. One reason why this style of hat is liked is that its quality shows at a glance. You can put a $2 derby and a $5 derby side by side, and even an expert will be puzzled to tell them apart. But the soft hat shows for what it is. The cheap one cannot masquerade as better than it is."

"The swellest suit for dress occasions will be the new frock coat—a Prince Albert with long skirts and wide lapels, three-buttoned, in rough unfinished worsted or dark mixtures, with trousers to match. With this a high hat always goes. The cutaway will have a longer skirt than formerly, will be made of diagonal, and will take trousers of different material. Fancy vests are allowable with the cutaway, but should be of neat pattern.
