SHALL THE FRILLS GO?

When the British North America Act was passed, section 58 declared that there shall be an officer called the Lientenant-Governor for each province, appointed by the Dominion Government and that he shall hold office during the pleasure of the Federal authorities, but shall not be removable within five years from his appointment, except for cause assigned. There is nothing in law, however, providing that this official is to have, at public expense, any grant from the public purse in addition to a salary, which is paid to him by the Government of the Dominion.

On several occasions, when Liberal governments were in power at Toronto, Conservative members raised the question of abolition of Government House on account of expense. The records show that they objected to the residence, which had been erected on a corner of the old provincial grounds at King and Simcoe streets, at a cost of $78,300, and there were the annual expenditures for repairs and ornamentation of grounds. The motion to dispense with the residence was supported by Mr. Meridith, the Conservative leader, but it was opposed by the Mowat Government, and defeated. At a later date, when Government House had to be vacated to make way for railway improvements, Sir James Whitney declared that there was no necessity for providing a Toronto residence for the Lientenant-Governor. Sir James got into power, however, and was prevailed upon to erect the present building at a cost exceeding a million dollars, and to provide it with furnishings that added many thousands of dollars to the original outlay. For this, the Whitney Government was severely criticized, especially when the cost of maintenance went up. This did not prevent the Drury Government later on from increasing the expenditure, despite pre-election denounciation of the "gross extravagance."

Recent events have revived the question. It has been felt by very many that the cost of the office to the Province has been altogether too great in these times of difficulty to make ends meet and suffering of many from lack of employment and high taxes. And it was argued by the new Prime Minister and many others, in the recent campaign, that the present respected incumbent of the office might greatly aid in effecting improvements if he were to resign the office and allow Sir William Mulock, the Chief Justice of the Province, to resume duties of the office, which he was called upon to perform when there was no appointed Lieutenant-Governor in 1931 and 1932, the then holder of the position being away on leave of absence and the Government at Ottawa not seeing fit to make a new appointment.

The new Prime Minister apparently has nothing but kindly feeling towards Dr. Bruce, the present holder of the office, but he has pledged himself to effect reduction in the cost to the taxpayers of the highy ornamental office, and indeed taxpayers generally will be inclined to hold him to his promise in this regard, even though strongly urged by Toronto "upperdom" to change his mind.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Some of the "Notices" exposed at the highway camps, prior to the recent Provincial election, were unique. Here is one that can hardly be described as tactful:

MEN WORKING
DEAD SLOW

* * *

Some of those new Ministers in the Provincial government will be apt to lose themselves in the new palatial offices that have recently been opened up, just as the late Sir Oliver Mowat lost his way in the East Block when he left Toronto and took up work as Minister of Justice at Ottawa.

The Prince of Wales celebrated his fortieth birthday last week. He is a very busy man nowadays, and is said to be taking life fully as seriously as his male predecessors were accustomed to do. What his inquisitive subjects—especially of the female type—would like to know is when he is likely to take a wife.

Amateur fisherman haven been eagerly looking forward to the open season for black bass and muskallonge. In recent years these fish have become more and more difficult to catch. The belief now is that they are being scared away by the growing disturbances of their haunts by motor boats and noises arising from the establishment of summer residences. Like the trout, they court solitude. No advertising for them!

During the next couple of months the young people of this district will spend considerable time in the old swimming hole. So far this year two little folk have had close calls from drowning, and parents are warned to urge continued vigilance on the part of the older swimmers for the smaller brothers and also to curb rowdyism which becomes prevalent at times. One source of great danger is the use of tires by those unable to swim. Only last week a youngster fell off one of these when it tipped and was rescued by one of the bigger boys close by. What would have occurred if lad had been by himself or with those of his own age is not hard to picture. We have been quite free of drowning accidents here and we wish to keep our record clean.

Robt. Wright Dies Suddenly At Hanover

Robt. Wright of Hanover, one of Flesherton's most prominent "old boys," died suddenly at his home early Thursday morning last from a heart attack. He had been in ill health for some months and, although confined to his bed, appeared in excellent spirits when his brother, John, visited him on Wednesday afternoon.

The late Robt. Wright was for many years a high school principal and on the death of N. W. Campbell of Durham 18 years ago, succeeded him as Inspector of Public Schools in South Grey. He was active in his work until a couple of weeks before his death. He was highly respected as a citizen and in his school work held the confidence and esteem of all the scholars.

Besides his sorrowing wife the late Mr. Wright leaves two brothers, David, principal of Dundalk high school and John of Flesherton. He was an active member of Trinity United church, Hanover.

The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon with service at his late residence at 2 p.m., Rev. A. N. Cooper officiating. Interment took place in Hanover cemetery.

EDITOR DIDN'T GET A VOTE THIS TIME

The recent election was a bit hard on the pride of the editor of this journal. At the election five years ago, he received one vote, not very heavy support we admit, out of some twenty thousand ballots, but still something. This year we did not receive even that, so we were down at least one hundred per cent. Of course we were not a candidate on either occasions, but this is how it happened. At the last election the ballots were printed at this office and thatrequired our name being placed on the back of each. A voter in one of the West Luther polls was given his ballot. He saw our name, decided that he needed to look no further, placed a neat X in front of it, folded the paper up and handed it in. We have not yet learned who favored us with this one vote of confidence—Arthur Enterprise.

ADAMS—McFADDEN

A wedding of local interest took place at the United church, Dryden, Ont., when Annie Florence May, eldest daughter of Mrs. J. E. McFadden of Flesherton, became the bride of Mr. John Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Adams of Oxdrift, the ceremony being performed by Rev. John Howes of Dryden.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams arrived Tuesday noon on their honeymoon trip to visit her mother.

SHEPHERD—WRIGHT

The marriage took place quietly at the College St. United church of Jean Holland Ruthven Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas Wright of Markdale, to Dr. Francis Harold Shepherd, son of Mrs. Shepherd and the late Mr. Frank Shepherd. Dr. R. J. Wilson officiated. The bride, given away by Mr. Stuart Gilray, wore a gown of turquoise blue silk net with a matching mohair hat, shoes and mittens, and carried butterfly roses and baby's breath. There were no attendants. The bridal pair left immediately for the north, the bride travelling in a smart navy triple sheer suit with navy taffeta hat. They will reside in Toronto.

"LAMBS OF QUALITY"

An important statement entitled "Lambs of Quality," has just been issued by the Industrial and Development Council of Canadian Meat Packers, as follows:

The production of good quality wether and ewe lambs of suitable weight and finish will continue to be encouraged this year.

Commencing on July 2nd in Ontario and the west, buyers will pay two cents a pound more for ewe and wether lambs than for bucks.

The marnets will pay up to a cent a pound more for lambs of good quality up to 90 lbs. at the stockyards and plants, than for lambs from 90 to 110 lbs., and up to two cents per pound more than for lambs over 110 lbs.

Farmers have for years been urged to meet the simple requirements of the market in order to secure top prices by castrating all male lambs and finishing and marketing lambs within the desired weights.

The manner in which the producer has responded to the market requirements is well exemplified by the decrease in the offerings of buck lambs during the season when they are most objectionable. The appreciation of the value of quality by farmers has resulted in a decrease in the marketings of buck lambs at Toronto from 10.6 per cent from August to December in 1926, to 1.8 per cent for the same period in 1933. At Montreal the improvement in quality by the elimination of the "buck" has been slower but was reduced to 8 per cent. in 1933 compared with 33 per cent. in 1926.

It is further urged that all producers should make money by: 1. Docking all lambs early in the spring. 2. Castrating all male lambs when from ten days to three weeks old. 3. Feeding all lambs so that they will finish at weights from 75 to 85 lbs., not over 90 lbs. 4. Picking out of the flock the earliest and fastest growing lambs and marketing them. 5. Marketing lambs as soon as they are ready as the price will probably be higher early in the season than in the late fall. 6. Avoid all losses on buck lambs and on lambs either too light or too heavy.

IMPORTED

If you have mares you want to breed,
The Clydesdale horse takes the lead,
Then come and see this famous sire,
And when you see him you will admire,
That Murray picked a real good sire.
This horse from Scotland Murray did import;
A real good Clydesdale Murray thought,
His sire a real good Clydesdale sort,
His dam the best that could be got,
One of the finest of the sort.
This horse is large and smooth and round,
His limbs the best that could be found;
His movement graceful and refined,
His disposition always kind.
Thirteen dollars is our price
To use a horse that looks so nice,
With silky hair and good flat bone,
That always stays in good show form.
If you part with mare before her time
The insurance money you must find,
Or if returning you neglect
The insurance money we collect.
And if the farmers take advice
And use a horse that looks so nice
And with experience and good care
We risk our horse, but not your mare.

Mrs. R. D. Meldrum Dies After Long Illness

PORTLAW

We are called upon to report the death of one of our most esteemed residents in the person of Mrs. Robt. D. Meldrum, which took place on Wednesday of last week, after a lengthy illness, often accompanied by intense pain, which she bore with marvelous fortitude and resignation.

In early years she yielded to the call to a higher life, and was a member of Mount Zion church. She was the third daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Clinton, pioneers of Osprey, and was born in that township on November 3, 1861, and was united in marriage to her now bereaved husband on November 3, 1886. They resided in Feversham for several years, later moving to their farm on the 4th Line, Artemesia. They moved to Toronto in 1913, returning to the farm in 1921. Mrs. Meldrum was a woman of genuine worth, and by her quiet, unobtrusive nature, she won a host of friends who vied with each other in extending to her tokens of affection. She was waited upon with the tenderest care during her long illness.

Besides her husband she leaves to mourn two sons, Cecil D., Deputy Reeve of Artemesia and Harry of Toronto, besides two brothers and one sister. The funeral on Saturday was largely attended. The service was conducted by Rev. Bushell, favorite hymns of deceased being sung.

The pallbearers were John W. McKee, Albert Blackburn, Ray and Laurie Pedlar, Harry Fisher and J. J. Little.

Among the many floral tokens was included a wreath from the family and sprays from Mount Zion W. A., Grey County Council, Rock Mills Ladies' Aid and the crew of S. S. "Dalhousie City." The flower bearers were the ladies of Mount Zion W. A.

Friends from a distance included Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Clinton and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Clinton and family, Mrs. J. W. Gamey, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Gamey, Mr. J. Brotherton, Mrs. W. C. Pedlar and daughter, Mrs Wright and Mrs. Fred LeGard, all of Toronto; Mr. D. J. Cunningham of Owen Sound, Mrs. J. Rathwell and son of Allenford; Mr. and Mrs. H. Bristow and Mr. H. Smith of Rob Roy, Mr. N. Palmer of Rosemount and Mrs. W. Parks of Banks.

Gordon Nichols was so much improved as to be able to be brought home on Sunday.

Miss Violet Taylor of Toronto spent the holiday at the parental home.

Rev. Bushell preached his first sermon in Mount Zion church on Sunday and his discourse was very much appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Jamieson of Toronto and Mr. Albert Jamieson of Detroit visited at the home of the former's brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Blakey of Alberta are spending their honeymoon with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Beard, Mr. and Mrs. McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Horn, with their families, of Toronto are visiting with friends here.

Marjorie Jamieson is visiting friends in Toronto.

Mrs. Robt. Coutts Dies

The funeral of Mrs. Robert Coutts, who died Friday night following a short illness, was held from her late home on Highway No. 10, two miles above the Dundalk corner, on Monday afternoon, July 2nd. Mrs. Coutts was a pioneer of Osprey township and was in her 83rd year. Interment was made in Dundalk Cemetery, numerous relatives and friends being present.

Mrs. Coutts is survived by three sons and four daughters, namely: John in Toronto; George in Osprey; James at home; Mrs. Wm. Gott, Proton Twp.; Mrs. George Rowley, Melancthon-Osprey townline; Mrs. Angus McAulay and Mrs. Dan McAulay, Berkeley. Mr. Coutts passed away about three years ago.

J. W. Carroll requests that his name be removed from the war memorial at Sault Ste. Marie as one of those who were killed in action. The fact that he made the application is good reason why it should be considered.
