Agnes Macphail Is Again Candidate

Will Run As U.F.O.-Labor Candidate In Riding Of Grey-Bruce

VOTE UNANIMOUS

Will Hold Series Of Thirty Meetings in Riding

Miss A. C. Macphail, M.P., was the unanimous choice of the U.F.O.-Labor convention held in Hanover on Friday afternoon, as their candidate for the newly-formed riding of Grey Bruce at the next federal election. This was the fifth unanimous nomination received by Miss Macphail, no other name being mentioned as a possible candidate.

The Hanover town hall was well filled with delegates from all over the riding, which is about 50 miles long and 3 miles wide and contains some 35,000 voters.

W. H. Hunter, reeve of Egremont and president of the U.F.O. of Grey-Bruce, presided over the meeting. Mr. Scott, president of the United Farmers of Ontario, spoke and declared that at no time since Confederation has independent thought and action been needed as at the present time, since neither of the major parties will fight for what the masses need. If things go on, the speaker declared, hundreds of farmers will be forced to abandon their farms. The day is coming when Canadians will pay higher for farm produce, whether they like it or not.

W. Nicholson, vice-president of the U.F.O. thought the condition of agriculture will be the greatest problem to come before the House at the next Parliament. He declared that the old two-party system is falling down and independent action is needed.

Alex. Sims of Holstein, ex-Premier of the Boys' Parliament, stated that he was not in favor of either the U.F.O.-Labor or either of the major parties, as he was devoting his life to organizing a Christian Social party, as he feels there is not enough religion in politics. Mr. H. H. Hannam, secretary of the U.F.O., also spoke, as did Farquhar Oliver, M.P.P., who stated that more important legislation will pass through the next Parliament than for the past 20 years. Included in the legislation will be monetary reforms and mass reforms that have been advocated by U.F.O. and Labor groups for years.

In her nomination speech Miss Macphail stated that when first elected in 1921 she was one of a group of 65 which formed the first group of any size that had ever attended Parliament outside of the two major parties. She thought that Mackenzie King was lucky to have been the Prime Minister between 1924 and 1929, when times were good. Now there is just as great a swing against Bennett as there was against King in 1930. She decleared that Premier Bennett will have cause to remember a speech of his some time ago, when he said "Tis good to be purified by the fires of adversity." She also declared that Mackenzie King could "do nothing with more style" than any person she ever saw.

The condition of labor affects the farmers, Miss Macphail continued, for if the labor class are on relief who is to buy the bulk of the farm products? The fight for the common people must come from outside the major parties. If she thought that she could have done as good work for the common class in either of the major parties, she would have joined them.

In closing Miss Macphail declared that she did not belong to the C.C.F., but was strictly independent, with no leaning towards the Liberal party, and she certainly was not Conservative. She did not know when the election would come, but she intended to give a series of 30 addresses throughout the riding within the next few months.

A STORY FOR A TORY

I have a brother-in-law in North York, a North of Ireland Orangeman. Politically he runs true to breed, is the bitterest of all Tories. He visited me last week. Just now he is as sore as a boiled owl over the result of the election. I bantered him considerably and would keep talking on election matters, much to his chagrin. Finally he landed me, literally, a kick in the ribs.

We were driving along over the Mar section, where the crop of hay is fairly good. We got talking hay for the moment. Finally he remarked that he heard that Hepburn had commenced purchasing an awful lot of hay this year. This remark excited my curiosity and I bit readily and enquired what in the world Hep. wanted hay for and this was his answer: "To feed all the jackasses who voted for him last month."

Then for a long time I thought and thought of how I could get back at him. But I'll get even with him yet. —Ex.

New Inspector Is Grey County Boy

Inspector Geo. E. Pentland of Hanover, newly appointed for South Grey, called on friends in town on Friday while on business concerning the teachers' convention. Inspector Pentland is a native of Grey County, having been born at Thornbury, and now returns to the County where hes spent his boyhood days, his father's people having taken up land in Artemesia township in 1865, later moving to Collingwood township. He is an honor graduate of Queen's University, Kingston. He was principal of the Collegiate Institute at Vankleek Hill prior to 1920, when he was appointed inspector for Haliburton and East Muskoka. During the last year and a half he has been in North Frontenac. In his early teaching he was principal of the Kimberley public school.

Robertson--Pinder

A quiet wedding was solemnized in Toronto on Monday, September 3 when Gladys Lillian, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Fred Pinder of Flesherton was united in marriage to Mr. R. Morton Robertson, son of Mr. R. S. Robertson and Mrs. Robertson of Toronto, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Little, pastor of Central-Westminster United Church. The ceremony was performed at the home of the groom's parents, 52 Castle Frank Road, only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom being present. After the reception and dinner the young couple left on a trip to Bermuda, and on their return will reside in Galt. Friends of the bride in Flesherton wish them much happiness.

J. A. Crowston Injured By Horse

J. A. Crowston of Markdale, barber and also well-known as a race horse owner, was severely bruised and cut when he was trampled by a horse which had been thrown out of a truck while he was transporting the animal to its Markdale stable. The accident occurred at the Alcox curve, three and a half miles north of Flesherton, when the truck skidded on the slippery road and upset into the ditch. The horse escaped injury in the spill, but became mired in the heavy clay at the side of the road. While assisting the animal Mr. Crowston was knocked down and received injuries when the horse fell and trampeled on him. He was taken to Owen Sound for treatment, but later returned to his home.

The get-rich-quick are busy at it and may get poor even quicker.

He was at a fountain-pen counter making a purchase. "You see," he said, "I am buying this for my wife." "A surprise, eh?" "I'll say so. She is expecting a Packard."

Grey County Teams Win At Exhibition

Last Wednesday three boys, Harold Atkins of Heathcote, Carl Fulford of Clarksburg and Geo. Ward of Clarksburg, all members of the Beaver Valley Calf Club, in competition with three boys from 11 beef calf clubs exhibiting their calves at the C.N.E. won 1st, 2nd and 3rd awards. It was a remarkable win. No other county duplicated this success. This gave the Calf Club first place in the county series.

In showmanship, Carl Fulford won first, Harold Atkins was sixth and Geo. Ward took seventh place. Thus the boys were high again.

Harold Atkins had a calf from his father's herd, Carl Fulford had one from the herd of T. P. Armstrong and Geo. Ward had one from the herd of Burton Carefoot. The exhibit reflected great credit upon the owners' herds, as well as upon the young men whose ages vary from 14 to 18 years The boys looked after their calves from birth until they won honors.

In the judging competition Harvey Fligg, Woodford, past President of the Meaford Junior Farmers, won first in the judging of swine. Last year this same young man won first in judging sheep.

Orville Skippen, Heathcote, won 12th place in judging beef cattle.

The girls were also represented. Mary Johnston, Meaford, won eighth place in judging clothing. The Grey County Girls' Team, comprised of Madge Abercrombie and Mildred Paterson of Meaford and Lyla Gillies of Bognor did well in competition with 28 teams.

The Grey County Department of Agriculture, Markdale, congratulates the boys and girls on their wonderful success. The only regret is that more boys and girls do not participate in the Junior Farmer work of which the Calf Clubs are but one part of the program.

Kimberley Takes Durham In First

Kimberley took the first of the play-off games from Durham 3-1 in the Centre Grey League Tuesday afternoon on the valley diamond after an exciting pitcher's battle between Alonzo Smith of Kimberley and McLean of Durham, a port-sider.

Kimberley opened the scoring in the first inning when Len Haines was shoved across the plate on a hit by Hatch, but the lead was of short duration and Durham tied up the game in the second. The score remained in this condition until the seventh, the lucky seventh, when Kimberley again took the lead on three hits and an error off Smith, scoring Smith and Dillon to make the final count 3-1. Durham had no answer for this brace of runs, as their batters were ineffective against Smith, who enjoyed one of his good days on the mound.

This win for Kimberley put the Durham team on the spot, as they have to win the next two games if they wish to meet Collingwood. On the other hand Kimberley is sitting on top nicely and should have no trouble reaching the finals. The first game of the semi-finals was to have been played in Durham last Thursday when rain interfered, as it did again on Saturday when the fixture was postponed.

The second game between Durham and Kimberley will likely be played at Durham this Saturday afternoon.

Southampton Fishermen continued their march toward a championship in O.B.A.A. intermediate "A", when they took the third game from Strathroy at Guelph on Monday Goldsmith was in control of the game in every inning and retired 18 batters by the strike-out route.

FARMERS MUST PRODUCE

To the man in the street, any attempts to increase production in these days of depressing world surpluses seem a waste of time, or even worse. He forgets, says Mr. L. H. Neman Dominion cerealist, that the problem of the individual farmer differs vastly from that of the nation as a whole, in that the capacity of the farmer to carry on and pay his way is measured in no small degree by the yields he realizes per acre. To the farmer, the acre is his unit of production. If his average yields per acre, whether converted into milk, mutton or beef, or disposed of in their raw state, are not sufficiently high to enable him to meet his obligations, he must either succumb entirely or be forced to adopt a standard of living which removes him as an important factor in the problem of keeping the wheels of industry moving.

Five By-elections In Ontario September 24

A miniature general election will take place in Ontario on Monday, September 24, when by-elections will be held to fill five vacancies in the House of Commons. In North York made vacant by the death of Col. Herbert Lennox, Col. W. P. Mulock will be the standard-bearer for the Liberals, while Capt. Harold Bruels will represent the Conservatives.

Baker Made To See Error Of His Ways

OTHERS BRINB PRESSURE ON CHAP WHO REFUSES TO RAISE PRICES

We have heard of business men being "balled cut" because they raised prices, but here's a new one from the Southampton Beacon:

"About two weeks ago Southampton citizens were informed that due to the advance in flour prices the cost of bread would increase one cent per loaf. Local and outside bakeries, with one exception, held to the higher price. One local baker, however, John Schultz, continued to sell at the lower figure, and as the direct result, did considerably more business than formerly. But Joseph has at last been made to see the error of his ways. Almost daily since the advanced price went into effect he has been called upon by bakers from Port Elgin, Wiarton, Tara, and from elsewhere, who, by arguments, sometimes spirited, have tried to convince him that he should raise the price to the new level. The final bout was held on Monday night, when no less than five competitors put Joseph in the corner and finally got him to consent to raise the price. Now all is quiet on the bread front again, but the whole matter leaves Mr. Public in somewhat of a belligerent mood Surely it is the right of every business man to run his own business without being antagonized by outsiders who might well attend to their own affairs. But that's how it was done in this case."

Fall Rains Bring Needed Moisture

Last week we were lamenting the fact that the country was in need of rain to renew the grass for fall grazing. Whether that had any weight or not we are not prepared to say, but we have had plenty of rain since that time, although not a heavy downpour at any time. The rain came when most needed, as has been the case all summer, being effective in producing one of the best grain crops in the district that has been enjoyed for years. The rainy weather has also caused mushrooms to grow, and those who relish this appetizing dish have been able to enjoy them again.

HIGH SCHOOL EXAMS EARLIER

Examinations in subjects taught in the middle and upper schools and collegiate institutes will be held a week earlier in 1935, Hon. Dr. L. J. Simpson, Minister of Education, said in Toronto.

The Minister also announced he has under consideration plans for reduction of the cost of examinations and likewise for simplifications of the of the system.

J. O. Dargavel Is Justice of The Peace

Hunters Want Dogs For Deer Hunting

Many deer hunters in this district are up in arms against the resolution reported in last week's Advance as being adopted by the Centre Grey Game and Fish Protective Association. They claim that the resolution to be sent to the Department of Game and Fisheries is not the wish of a majority of the members. They claim that the meeting, if there was one, did not correctly express the desire even of the officers of the Association.

Mr. J. O. Dargavel, vice-president of the Association, was not at the meeeting and says that he did not have any notification of one being held. He was decidedly in favor of the use of dogs for deer hunting, as they were a protection for the game and reduced the useless waste of the deer that could have been located when tracked by dogs. Mr. Dargavel is pleased that the season for hunting deer will be open in Grey County this fall.

Mr. W. J. Chard of Rock Mills has gone hunting for deer in the north for many years and is in favor of dogs being uesd in hunting, as also is G. B. Welton of town, who is chairman of the executive committee of the Association. Mr. Welton was also in favor of the local open season for bucks only and the use of dogs here as well as in the northern districts. There will likely be another meeting held at which everyone will be allowed to voice his opinion on game and fish matters.

Ontario Farmers To Receive Relief

Ontario farmers will have relief of very promising proportions immediately, Hon. Duncan Marshal, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, declared in the opening ceremonies of the Western Fair at London.

"We can't fiddle away while Rome burns," declared Hon. Mr. Marshall. "If the farmer is to have relief he must have it right away—or it will be no use to him."

"There are three things I am desirous of accomplishing," he said. "One is agricultural education for all the young of farming areas; the second is lower interest rates, and the third is more and better markets for the farmer. The farmer must have lower interest rates, and right away. It is time the money lender took a share of the loss, and he's going to have to take it within a few months."

Mr. Marshall, speaking of proposed development of markets, said England would be one of the best of markets not only for beef and dairy cattle, but for other products. He condemned men who have exploited the farmer, paying $50 to $75 for cattle for export.

WORLD'S BIGGEST GAMBLER

Who is the world's biggest gambler? We'd say the farmer. He gambles with the weather, with the soil, with grasshoppers, with army worms, with grubs and a score of other plagues. Every spring he takes a chance—a desperate chance. If he wins, as he does occasionally, he comes off with a good stake; if he loses, as he does more frequently, he has a chance to try again. Happily he is a good loser, or the world would starve.

CONSCIENCE

Mose was having a hard time trying to explain to Rastus what his conscience was.

"'Hit is somethinglak dis," Mose elucidated. "When you all do something wrong, dere's a small voice whut tells you not to do it."

"Oh, yassah, Ah knows what dat is," Rastus broke in. "Jes zacktly what happened to me de yuther night when Ah was reachin' up for a chicken off de roost an' got hold of a little banty rooster. His small voice sounded so sad Ah put him back an' reached up an' got a big fat hen."

Paving Contract Nears Completion

Great progress is being made on paving the 10-foot strip of highway from Victoria Corners to Flesherton. Wednesday noon the King Paving Co. had completed the paving of the road to a piont opposite the farm of Mr. Fred Barber, which leaves about a mile and a half to be finished before they reach the end of the 20-foot road south of Flesherton. North of Flesherton the pavement is open for traffic between Markdale and Thos. Lever's corner, and the remainder will shortly be ready.

An attempt has been made to induce the Department of Highways to let the contract for the completion of the full twenty foot road from below the Dundalk corner to Markdale, but as yet no word has been received that it will be done. Another week will find the present paving program completed and by that time we should have definite information of some kind to announce.

HISTORY OF GREY COUNTY NOW SELLING AT $2.00

The price of the official History of Grey County by Miss E. L. Marsh is now $2. The price was reduced by the County Council at the June session, the original price having been $4. This new rate should mean an increase in the sale of the books and the history should find its way into many additional homes of the county.
