The hot supper and social evening at Inistioge church on Friday evening was a great success. The Irish stew and all good things tasted just right. The gentlemen of the congregation, assisted by Messrs. Shouldice, Fred Ross and Ren. Acheson of Maxwell showed great talent. Dressed in women's costume they depicted themselves as the "Inistioge Upleft Society", giving men's version of women's meetings and we think the greatest need for uplifting was right in the meeting; but it was indeed very humorous.

In the Master's garden there.
