J. M. McGILLIVRAY PASSES

The sudden death of Mr. J. M. McGillivray, while seated in a chair, was quite a shock to the whole neighborhood. He had not been feeling well the last two months, but was slowly improving, it was thought, when death came. The funeral took place on Friday with Rev. J. W. Johnston of St. Columba United church, in charge, who spoke very feelingly of the deceased, and his acquaintance with him on the way overseas, and at the front. He will be missed here a great deal. He was always ready to give a helping hand and voice in the Y.P.S. and also in the choir, and every good work. Mr, Hodson of Owen Sound, J. O. Dargavel and Chas. Moore of Flesherton, brother fox men, were present, as was also a Major McRae of Feversham, a retired Salvation Army Officer, who, along with Rev. N. McDonald, took part in the services. His chair in the choir was draped for the occasion and on the Sunday following. Mr. Harold Karstedt and the three fox men, above mentioned, together with early neighbors, Henry and Archie Beaton, Dan McArthur and Malcolm McInnis, were pallbearers. A fine spray was given by the choir and Y.P.S., along with other fine flowers.

HELD SPLENDID BANQUET

The banquet put on by the Presbyterian church members proved to be a very enjoyable affair, with Mr. T. Nichol, toast master, who after partaking of the Haggis, called upon the Rev. N. McDonald, for the toast to St. Andrew, who he said laid the foundation stone for Scotch economy. Aberdonians despite the stories of them, are well known to be the most liberal. St. Andrew, was the most outstanding of all Christ's disciples.

At this stage W. Ramage, an invited guest, sang "Scotland Yet". Mr. Alex. McLean, with his recent bride of Toronto, proposed the health to the King, which was duly and loyally honored, and replied to by W. Ramage again with "God Bless the King, is the Nation's loving cry." Messrs. J. and D. Nichol sang "Bonnie Braes of Loch Lomond" and Miss A. C. Macphail gave the toast to Scotland, very cleverly quoting many interesting features, replied to by W. W. Ramage, with a summary of its great men and their deeds, finishing up with the last verse, vocally, of "Dark Loch-Na-Gar". It fell to Mr. Archie McCuaig to toast the ladies, who were lovingly toasted musically, as jolly good fellows. The proceeds amounted to $35.00.

CONCERT MUCH ENJOYED

The entertainment put on by Paddy and Mickey Brown all last week, came to a successful close on Saturday night. The entertainments were good and the purchase of voting tickets keen, to be filled with the name of the most popular lady of the neighborhood. There were four who were looked upon as such, Misses Catherine McVicar, Olive McMeekin, Margaret McArthur and Marjory McLean, the latter proving to be the winner, though all were good seconds. The troupe move to Feversham from here. The winner was treated to a prenuptial shower on Thursday evening by the young people, so the prize of the fine 35-piece dinner set of English manufacture will come in very handy.

Quite a few here listened to the Royal wedding ceremony on Thursday morning, as for ourselves we were blissfully unconscious in the arms of Morpheus, and, I am told, the ceremony went on without me!

Clifford Hincks had that of Canada which was also loyally received. J and D. Nichol sang "Flow Gently Sweet Afton", and an orchestra of Innis McLean and D. L. McArthur discoursed sweet music at intervals. A fine social pleasant time was had by all, with no ill effects left as a trace. The National Anthem closed a fine evening.

Mrs. John McWilliam of Ceylon won the nail driving contest at a recent concert held here—three nails in 13 seconds was her record.

A bountiful lunch was served at midnight.

Miss Alma McLean of Mimico spent a couple of days last week at her home.

FEVERSHAM

RE OSPREY TWP. POLITICS

As reported in the Flesherton Advance of November 28th, naming over a number of aspirants for the different offices of the township council the suggestion presents itself, "Why can't Osprey elect its officials by acclamation," thus saving the township a tidy sum of money. We have members of our present council who have municipal experience and well qualified to guide the Osprey ship of state, so why not follow the lead of our neighboring municipalities and elect our 1935 township council by acclamation? So mote it be.

When We're Up In The Air

The Montreal Witness sounds an optimistic (depending on what one's views are) note when it says that "Prohibition will come to stay. Universal prohibition of the use of alcoholic beverages is in sight. The combination of gas in the engine and whiskey at the wheel is bad enough on cement highways. But a decade or so hence when all the world's a-wing in the trackless air, the danger will be so increased both to those "alow and aloft" that the use of intoxicants will be our prediction and, sooner or later, time will prove it true. Besides this, all plagues that go to an extreme have ways of burning themselves out. meantime, what a vast amount of crime, suffering and shame is piling up to the debit of that useless, heartless and accursed traffic."
