"...So that Our Visitors will be Sorry to Leave"

"If we are going to invite people to this country, we must be honest with them . . . Courtesy costs nothing and is one of our greatest tourist assets . . . Let us so treat strangers within our gates that it will be easy for them to come, pleasant for them to stay, and difficult for them to leave."

Rt. Hon. R. B. BENNETT, Prime Minister of Canada, to the Canadian Association of Tourist and Publicity Bureaus, November 6, 1934.

Canada's tourist activities represent more than a great industry from which everybody benefits. They provide an opportunity to create what the Prime Minister has described as "that feeling of neighbourliness" which is such a vital factor in building up cordial relations within the family of nations.

For both these reasons, may I urge upon the people of Canada the importance of showing consideration, courtesy and honesty to guests of our country? Let us all do those little acts of kindness which count for so much when one travels in a strange land.

We have a beautiful country. We must keep it so. We want our visitors to travel highways free from disfigurement, walk the streets of cities that are orderly and clean, and find at the end of every day's travel an inviting spot to rest. Canadians should turn their attention now to the important work of preparing for next year's tourist season.

As a nation, we are advertising abroad the attractions of Canada as a holiday land. We must see to it that our guests return home with only the happiest recollections—and the determination to come back again and again.

Nor should we forget, in planning our own vacations, that there are beauties to discover and friendships to be made in our neighbouring provinces. We live in one of the world's most glorious playgrounds—let us learn to know better the rich variety of its travel attractions.

FLOWERS BLOOMING

The fall of 1934 will be remembered as one of the most open in the history of this section. Cattle were on the grass until Saturday, December 1st, and plowing continued to the same date. Flowers were still growing and pansies were brought into The Advance office on Saturday grown in the garden of Mr. Thos. Taylor of town. The editoral garden also had a bed of pansies in bloom Dandelions were growing in the fields and rose bushes had well developed buds showing. Marigolds were also showing bloom in a few cases. Snow arrived in a storm on Monday afternoon and the ground was a blanket of white at night—the first snow in the past two weeks.

PLENTY OF TROUBLE

Last week we ran into a heap of trouble in endeavoring to get The Advance into the hands of its subscribers. With the papers only half printed a large wheel on our press took a sick spell and upon investigation a broken cog wheel was found. This put a stop to further printing. A few years ago a break of such dimensions would have meant several days delay before a new wheel could be secured, with its resultant high outlay. On this occasion a hurried call on a local acetylene welder had the break mended and the press in operation to complete the printing of the paper. We had missed the mail at noon for Feversham and Maxwell, but we kept faith with our subscribers at these points and delivered them to the post offices. The printing business has its ups and downs the same as others have. However if more of the subscribers had their subscriptions paid in advance there would be a silver lining to the clouds.

THE CANADIAN HONEY CROP

For the third successive year it would appear that the honey crop of Canada is going to fall below normal. The peak year was 1931 when 29,666,097 pounds were produced, but due to winter killing of clovers, drought conditions during the summer and insect damage in certain regions, the crop of 1932 fell short of the previous crop by 10,195,597 pounds. An increase of 73,000 pounds over 1932 was recorded in 1933 with another slight increase promised for 1934. Apparently every cloud has its silver lining, for in this case the short crops have permitted the producers to dispose of all cary-over from previous years at slightly advanced prices. The present crop is moving quite briskly on the domestic market at prices slightly in advance over last year, while a fair amount is advancing to the export markets. Although it is risky to forecast production, the condition, of main honey producing plants and of the bees themselves going into winter are promising, however these conditions are not the whole story.

A party of spirited pals was returning in the small hours of the morning from a highly successful banquet. They came to a standstill opposite a certain house and a lively discussion ensued. One of the revellers thumped on the door, until a window above was opened and a forbidding-looking woman looked out. "Pardon, are you Mrs. Smith?" he asked. "Yes, I am." "Good!" exclaimed the leader of the party. "Will you be so kind as to come down and pick out Mr. Smith? The rest of us want to go home."

Live Stock Report

A light 680-head run and persistence of salesmen holding for higher levels sent hog prices up 15c on the Toronto live stock market yesterday. The division opened and stayed unsettled until mid afternoon when buyers brought their bids from Monday's lower levels to the price finally reached.

It was the only price change recorded. Cattle trading was draggy, and the holdover remained unchanged at 1,100 head. Calves, sheep and lambs were firm and unchanged throughout the day.

Receipts as reported by the Dominion Live Stock Branch were: Cattle, 1,210; calves, 330; hogs, 680; sheep and lambs, 1,130.

Butcher steers closed at $2.25 to $4.40, while a few top heifers made $4.50. Butcher cows sold at $2.25 to $2.50 for good, with canners mostly at $1. Bull movement was slow at $2 to $2.50. Fed calves moved within a range of $4.50 for mediums to a top of $6.50 for choice. Away from the general trading trend, stores were fairly active at $2.30 to $3.60 cwt.

The calf division closed firm at $5.50 to $7 for the bulk of good and choice vealers. Extra choice supplies went to a high of $7.50.

Hogs settled and closed 15c higher at $7.15 f.o.b., for bacons, $7.50 off truck and $7.90 off car. These legels showed off cars up 5c for the week and off trucks up 15c.

Good ewes and wether lambs closed firm at $7 to $7.25, while culls, bucks and heavies brought $5 to $6.50. About 160 head of Western feeding lambs, averaging 60 pounds, sold at $6 cwt. Sheep were unchanged at $1 to $3 cwt.

Four hyenas from the zoo at Edinburgh are going to live in a zoo at Toronto. This is the animal whose howl is compared to fiendish laughter, so it looks as though the Scotts were having their little joke.
