PRESTO now available

Ontario's new fare card is now available at the Georgetown GO station.

The card called PRESTO allows commuters to travel between multiple transit systems using a single card. Users load it up with a dollar amount and "tap on" when boarding a bus or train.

The fare is automatically deducted from the card eliminating the need for passengers to have exact change, tickets or transfers to get on a bus, GO train or subway.

PRESTO is being rolled out in stages. The more than 620 people who use the Georgetown GO station daily are the latest to be introduced to the card.

It can already be used on Oakville and Burlington Transit, at GO stations along the Lakeshore West and Milton lines, Mount Pleasant, Bramalea, Etobicoke North, Malton, Weston, Bloor, Ajax, Danforth, Oshawa, Eglinton and Union GO stations and 11 TTC subway stations.

- Commuters will be able to use PRESTO cards in Guelph when GO Train service starts this fall.
- The next generation of PRESTO will accommodate credit card, debit and cell phone payments. These features could be piloted as early as this year.
