RABY THAT WAS NOT.

Acts of a Woman Crazed with Grief—A Pathetic Scene in a Crowded Railway Depot.

There was a tired-looking woman came into the Michigan Central depot the other day, says the Detroit Free Press, and sat down to wait for a train. Two small children clung to her skirts and in her arms she carried an infant, closely wrapped up, and with an old veil tied in a double fold across its small face. The mother had a satchel and some boxes, which she managed to carry at the same time, and she settled the children on each side of her and prepared for a long sitting, for the train was late.

The children were quiet little things and amused themselves. The mother sat and held the baby in a tight clasp and looked far off with eyes that seemed to be watching over a grave. Tears fell softly now and then, sometimes on one of the bright-haired children, again on the dress of the baby in her arms, and these the little ones would brush softly away. It was evident that they had seen their mother weep often.

But the other passengers who waited grew nervous over it. A good woman with a kind face offered seed-cake to the children, but they shrunk from her. People came and went, and something in the woman's face made them stop and look at her, but she did not see them. A white, drawn, quivering mouth and tearful eyes attested some deep sorrow.

At last a little fussy man, who had been jumping up and down and rubbing his hands and crying, "Bless me!" under his breath, went up to the stricken woman and executed a sort of war dance in front of her.

"Bless me, ma'am!" he exclaimed, rubbing his hands till they were ablaze with the friction; "but you'll smother that baby."

The woman looked at him as if she didn't comprehend what he meant.

"It can't possibly breathe, ma'am, with a double veil over its face. I say, you'll smother that child."

He thought her either deaf or crazed, and the rest of the passengers had the same fears. The woman laid her limp burden in her lap and began with trembling hands to undo the veil. "My baby is dead," she said in a low voice, but which all heard.

"Good gracious, ma'am," began the little man.

"These are her clothes," she continued in a broken voice: "I carried her in my arms and nest to my heart for two years, and now my heart and my arms are both empty; but I don't miss her so much when I have these, and the children forget that she is dead and buried away from us all."

She picked up her senseless burden and rocked herself to and fro, but kind hands led her away and kind voices whispered words of hope to her, and at last the poor half-crazed mother consented to lay aside the empty garments and take instead to her arms and heart the little ones she had well-nigh forgotten.

"Who called thee strong as Love—Ah Death! Stronger than want and art."

Nasal Respiration.

We should always breathe through the nostrils, as breathing through the mouth tends to weaken the lungs and produce sore throat and Bronchitis. Any one suffering from Laryngitis, bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Consumption or Catarrhal deafness should at once consult the Surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, who make a specialty of the above diseases, and who use the Spirometer, invented by Dr. Sarcenas, of Paris, ex-chief surgeon of the French army, the only instrument by which medicated air can be conveyed to the lungs through the nasal passages. Consultations free. Physicians and sufferers invited to try the Spirometer free. If unable to call personally, write for list of questions and copy of International News published monthly at 173 Church St., Toronto.

McGregor's Speedy Cure.

From the many remarkable cures wrought by using McGregor's Speedy Cure for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation and Affection of the Liver, and from the enormous sale of it without any advertising, we have concluded to place it extensively on the market, so that those who suffer may have a perfect cure. Go to Chown's Drug Store and get a trial bottle free, or the regular size at fifty cents and one dollar.

Holloway's Pills.—Health or Wealth.—No sane person would hesitate an instant in the choice between these two conditions. Now is the season to secure the former either by restoring or confirming it. These Pills expel all impurities from the system which fogs, foul vapors, and variable temperatures engender During winter; this medicine also acts most wholesomely upon the skin by disgorging the pores of its accumulated bile, and by exerting the kidneys to more energetic action; it increases the appetite for food and strengthens the digestive process. The stomach and liver, with which most disorders originate, are fully under the control of these regulative Pills, which act very kindly yet most efficiently on the weakest bowels.

W. J. Guppy, druggist, of Newbury writes:—"Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is just the thing for Summer Sickness. I sold out my stock three times last summer. There was a good demand for it." Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is infallible for Dysentery, Colic, Sick Stomach and Bowel Complaints.

Charlatans and Quacks.

Have long plied their vocation on the suffering pedals of the people. The knife has proved to the quick, caustic applications have tormented the victims of cocus until the convulsion shaped itself—there's no cure. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor proves on what a slender basis pubilic opinion often rests. If you suffer from corns get the Extractor and you will be satisfied. Sold everywhere. N. C.
