PRICEVILLE

A Happy New Year is wished to the editor and staff and readers.

Another fine Christmas tree has been erected in the vicinity of the monument, which we think is the best yet with the vari-colored lights evenly spaced. Come over and see it, our readers, good bargains can be had too in our stores.

The hockey club boys are holding a dance in the hall on Friday, Dec 28th. Good music will be provided.

Mr. Andy Ford is not improving as much as we would like to hear, still very poorly. Mr. Lachie McArthur is gaining strength slowly we are told.

Appropriate Christmas music was given in St. Columba on Sunday in the morning and evening services. Rev. J. W. Johnston gave some fine suitable talks thereon, on the day and the wonderful significance attached to it, the birth of our Lord.

The Christmas celebrations in the school on Thursday and again in St. Columba United church on Friday evening passed off very pleasingly and satisfactorily in both instances. Names of performers in the first case are not at hand, and that of the latter are too many for the space available. This much I say, they all did well, showing the good training given by the teachers in the school, and that of the church. Rev. J. W. Johnston occupied the chair at both events. Rev. N. McDonald gave a speech at each. Mr. Shackleton of Arthur spoke at St. Columba and his wife recited Cornelias painful mental visit from a gloomy pessimistic friend. Reeve MacArthur spoke of the pleasure he had and Mr. H. B. McLean moved and W. G. McBride seconded, a vote of thanks to all who took part.

Seals were distributed to the winners, and gifts from the brilliantly lighted tree on the arrival of Santa Claus, who could not stay long. The ilttle girls' admonishing address to their little dolls, was performed realistically. The Brittania Drill was well given without a flaw. Mrs. J. C. Harrison presided at the piano very satisfactory. Dialogues were well acted. Miss Sadie Vause gave a lengthy recitation. Blessed be the tie that binds and God Save the King and benediction by the chairman, closed two fine entertainments.

Thieves have been busy here in taking one of Mr. H. B. McLean's sheep. Noticing blood on the snow, he searched further and came upon part of the entrails that had been slung away, landing on a tree, later finding the skin, with the carcass carried off. A despicable skulking act. We wonder if they feel any shame now; they are dead to that I fear.

Misses Marion Muir, Mary Belle McArthur, Sadie McKinnon, Eleanor Mather, Alex. McLean and wife, and sister, Mrs. McFarlane are visitors home for the holidays.

PROTON STATION

Happy New Year to the Advance editor, staff and readers.

Santa Claus arrived at Proton Station last Saturday afternoon in due time and in good form. The village children were out in full force to receive the treat he had for them. May the Santa Claus spirit be with us all the year round.

The Sunday school concert and Christmas tree last Thursday night was a decided success. The children did their parts well and made a splendid showing in the choruses, etc. The program was a lengthy one, varied and interesting, and reflects much credit on Mrs. Archibald, the Sunday school superintendent, and Mr. G. Littlejohns, the public school teacher, and their assistants. Besides the numbers by the children and the young people, a men's chorus from Inistioge gave two numbers. The Proton orchestra filled in with their snappy selections and Miss Ruth Sherson gave several piano selections in excellent style. Rev. Mr. Wilkinson occupied the chair.

One of our villagers had quite an experience on Monday last while siding his house. By accident he emptied a number of 25 calibre rifle cartridges into the stove and says that it was like a machine gun for a time and he had a busy time for awhile dodging around. However, they say a miss is as good as a mile and he was not injured.

Mrs. Nicholl and children spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ross, near Maxwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and family spent Christmas at Midland. Mr Taylor is the principal of our Continuation school.

A Toronto woman beat up a rival for her husband's affections; perhaps that is a treatment as effective as any for the huzzies engaged in home wrecking.
