THE ARKANSAW KIND.

An Early Settlers Tussle with the Ague—A Terrible Country to Live and Shake In.

"Speakin' 'bout the Arkansaw ager," said the man with the sandy goatee and quaint eyes, as he laid back in his chair, "that's whar you saw my heart strings, in case I've got any left to saw on."

"Did you ever live there?"

"Did I? Well, I reckon I sort o' existed in them parts goin' on thirteen y'ars."

"And you had the ague?"

"Had it? Why, I wallered in it. Gentlemen, gaze on me!"

The crowd gazed.

"When I moved down in Arkansaw from Tennessee risin' of sixteen y'ars ago, I was purty—I was in fact. I had a dozen skule marms in love with me to ouce, and hang me it every gal in the ball room wouldn't break her neck fur the honor of dancin' with me? Yes, I was purty, and I was good. I was so purty that children cried for me, and so good that I was taken for a preacher on more'n a hundred occashuns. Whar' has my purty gone? Whar' is my goodness? Good! Why, I've got to be the infernalist alligator in the hull swamp, and I'm growin' meaner at the rate of a mile a day! Fact—solemn fact, and that cantankerous ager is to blame fur the hull of it. I've got a squint to my eyes, my nose has bin driven back an inch, and what teeth I've got left have to be wedged in every Sunday with pin pegs or I'd swallow 'em. Purty! Why, the sight of my phiz down in St. Louis killed a Texas steer dead'r a door nail, and I was tryin' to look handsome at that!"

"You said you had the ague."

"Said so. Do you 'spose all the other calamities in this hull kentry could have busted me up in this way? You bet I had 'er! I struggled with 'er right along fur 'leven straight y'ars without a let-up. Gentlemen, let me harrar your souls with a few timely remarks. Your Michigan ager is a grasshopper, and one dose of qin-neen knocks 'er dead. Out in Illinoy the ager is bigger—about like a squirrel. In Missouri she's about the size of a woodchuck, and when she strikes down into Arkansaw she's a wolf three feet high, seven feet long and built to take hold like a thousand buzz saws. Great slams! out what tussles I've had with that 'ere critter! Say, did you ever ride in a one-hose wagin over a stone quarry? Was ye ever seated on the top rail of a fence when a hurrican moved it at the rate of six miles a minit? Did you ever have a cyclone pick ye up and move ye over forty acres of river buttom, wallop ye through ten acres of woods and use ye fur a tool to knock down a hundred acres of canebrake? Well, that hain't the ager—not the Arkansaw kind; it's only the fust preliminaries."

He stopped to re-light his cigar and then continued:

"I hain't long to live, and I don't keer to stretch this thing any. Tellin' the truth has allus bin my strong pint, and allus will be. Maybe you'll git some idea of the Arkansaw ager when I tell you that I once injinted both shoulders in skakin' and it was a light shake at that. When I had on one of my reglar double back-action shakes I could jar a jug of whiskey out of the crotch of a tree twenty eight rods off. Nobody durst pile up cordwood within half a mile of my cabin and that's a solemn fact. I devoured ky-neen just as you eat corn beef, and my hull system finally got so bitter that a dog who smelt of my legs couldn't get the pucker out of his mouth inside of three days. Gentlemen I do not wish to prolong this agony. My failin' is gab. Fust thing I know I'll jump the ager and begin on Arkansaw skeeters, and when I git thar I'd harrer yer souls till ye couldn't sleep fur two weeks. We will now have some licker, and I will then seek a few needed reposes."—Detroit Free Press.

Bishop Beveridge!

A gentleman meeting the celebrated and excellent Bishop Beveridge, asked him how he was. Beveridge replied! "If I answer in Latin, I am sic, sic; if in English, so, so."

There are many, who, if they spoke truly would give the same answer as the excellent Bishop. They have contracted lung disease, or it may be are suffering from asthma, and in great danger of that fatal malady consumption. Take warning in time, use N. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir, it is really what many have called it, the "king" of remedies. Sold by all druggists throughout the Dominion.

EDWARD HANLAN.

Departure of the Champion for England—His English Programme—Always Bows to Wis.

Previous to his departure from New York for England Edward Hanlan was interviewed by a Herald reporter. Respecting his match with Boyd, the champion said:

"A few changes have been made in the articles signed by Boyd on Dec. 13. I suggested that we should have cutters to accompany us over the course, also that the Referee should have power to postpone the race if the water was too rough. The alterations I suggested were for the benefit of both parties and were readily acceded to by Boyd. Mr. Innes, who was acting for me in the matter, has advised me that new articles were drawn and he has signed them on my behalf."

"What is the prospect of Boyd raising the £500 stake money?"

"There should not be any difficulty about that. According to the papers, the subscriptions are being pushed forward, and for the sake of England's reputation, the money should, and, I think, will be forthcoming."

"Who goes with you as trainer?"

"No one. I do not know who is likely to have the job, but it will have to be some one who can keep sober. I don't want drinking men about to annoy me when I am training."

"Where will you go on your arrival."

"Straight to Newcastle. I have got plenty of work to do. You see I am away above myself; weigh 175 pounds with my clothes on, and I will have to do a good deal of rowing to get down to my proper weight."

"Do you go to your old quarters?"

"Yes. I will stop at the Ord Arms. They know my ways there, and that is a good deal for a man in training."

"Will you row any other races in England?"

"In all probability I will. I understand that some races are being arranged, sweepstakes or for prizes, I don't know which, and I shall, unless I alter my present mind, go in for anything and everything that is worth my while."

To a Telegram reporter Hanlan said: "As I never make a match to lose, I never engage in one which I do not expect to win. I have always rowed every race squarely. Some unkind things have been said of me lately, but persons very often talk of something they know nothing about. The reason my match with Ross was postponed last Fall was that I did not want to travel 500 miles and train so late in the year for comparatively nothing. However, there will be a race after all, as I am to row Ross on June 20, after my return from the other side. In July I go to Winnipeg, Man., where a good offer has been made me to exhibit my skill. I have offered Trickett $500 for expenses if he will row at Toronto in the proposition I have made him to have a race for $1,000 to $3,000 a side on August 1. I have not yet received an answer to this challenge."

Hanlan takes with him rowlocks of his own invention, which he will use in his boats. He will remain in England four months. He was provided with an extra large roomy stateroom adjoining that of the captain. At last the word was given to cast off the moorings, and hasty adieus were bidden and handshakings indulged in. The huge steamer slowly backed out in the stream and turned her prow seaward. Handkerchiefs and hats were waved, as the friends of the champion gathered at the end of the pier and gave a last hearty cheer for Hanlan.

DR. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops are an excellent Expectorant, loosening the phlegm far more readily than any other preparation. For Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Tickling in the Throat and Soreness and Tightness of the Chest, they have no equal. In large bottles at 50 cents. Sold by all dealers.

A Youngster's Teeth

demand greater attention than they usually receive. Mothers careful of their children's physical well-being, wisely adopt SOZODONT as an article of the family toilet. If the first set of a juvenile's teeth are daily polished with this matchless purifier, the second set are almost invariably white and strong, and prove a life-long blessing, otherwise they frequently turn out carious and irregular. Young and old alike benefit by its use.

A Blessing in Disguise

No one would suppose that the introduction into a family of a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor would be the means of restoring peace and prosperity. Corns are painful, and the constant consciousness of this upon even the best natured produces nervous depression, ill temper, recklessness leading to a desire to spend their time away from the bosom of their family. In order avoid the evils above mentioned always keep a bottle of Putnam's Corn Extractor on hand. Sold everywhere.

Do Not be Deceived.

In these times of quack medicine advertisements everywhere, it is truly gratifying to find one remedy that is worthy of praise, and which really does as recommended. Electric Bitters we can vouch for as being a true and reliable remedy, and one that will do as recommended. They invariably cure stomach and liver complaints, diseases of the kidneys and urinary difficulties. We know whereof we speak, and can readily say, give them a trial. Sold at fifty cents a bottle, by all druggists.

Puttner's Emulsion

MY DEAR PUTTNER,

The great benefit I have received from your Cod Liver Oil Emulsion with Iron and Hypophosphites in private practice, induces me to give my testimony in its favor. I consider it the best and most palatable compound of the kind in the market. Truly yours,

W. S. MUIR, M. D.,
C. M., L. R. S. P. and L. R. C. S., Ed.,
Late House Surgeon P. & C. Hospital.

P. S.—I have been giving your Compound to a great many children after Scarlet Fever, and find it just the thing. They can take it when almost everything else will be refused. W. S. M.

Bett's Cove, Newfoundland, July 4, 1881

Having used at the Provincial and City Hospital, Halifax, for two and a half years the Compound Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, prepared by Mr. C. E. Puttner, I can certify that it has been found very valuable in all cases in which the pure oil could not be taken. The efficacy of the oil is undoubtedly increased by the iron and hypophosphites which are combined with it.

The difficulty of prescribing cod liver oil is overcome by Mr. Puttner, whose Emulsion, although containing a larger percentage of pure oil than any other Compound, is so skilfully prepared that it does not produce the least nausea.

I have therefore no hesitation in recommending it to those who require cod liver oil.

EMIGRANTS

An immense area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent market, at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the GRAIN BELT of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 225 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded FOR ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

Grain at Portland, Oregon, commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase and pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

Lands show an average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre
