CAN PROTON BEAT FLESHERTON FIRSTS?

Proton Station Bears are worthy winners of the McDougall Trophy, emblamatic of the championship of the Semi-Pro League of young play- of this district. Handicapped without any ice they had most of their practice when opposing a team in a game. They are a well balanced aggregation and play good hockey and are a credit to the little village south of us. We have heard considerable talk of the ability of the Proton champions and the Flesherton first team, many imagining that the Bears could "take" the local crew. We would like to see a game between these two teams and in the estimation of the fans would be a "natural." How about it, Proton?

A copper "doughnut" generates power. The ordinary kind just generate stomach ache.

Local and Personal

Mrs. Elwood Stevens is spending a week in Toronto.

Misses Inez and Audrey Brown are visiting this week in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bickerstaff of Toronto spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Duncan.

The Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. Wm. Turney on Wednesday. March 6, at 3 p.m. Visitors welcome.

Rev. Dr. S. D. and Mrs. Gaudin, left last week and will be in Toronto and other points seeing old friends before leaving for the West.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Stoddart and two children visited the past Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Herb Betts and family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Honnor went to Toronto, the former going to Bathurst N. B. and latter to her home in Transcona Man.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Meldorf, formerly of Dundalk, are managing the Pinder bakery and store while Mr. and Mrs. Pinder are in Europe.

Mrs. Thomas Monaghan of Singhampton visited a day with Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Alexander and family.

A heavy fall of snow came Monday morning to a depth of about ten inches. All roads out from Flesherton were impassable to car traffic until the provincial plow went through.

The ice harvest in Flesherton has been at its height the past week, all of it being secured from the Munshaw lake. The ice is about fourteen inches in depth and an excellent quality.

There are plenty of saps in family trees.

They are "rough, tough and nasty" out west. An Arkansas farmer put his name to the following notice in his home-town paper: "Anyone found near my chicken-pen at night will be found there next morning." And chances are he meant it.

Aims And Objetc of Toronto Association

463 Margeretta St.,
Toronto, Ont

Editor of The Advance:

No doubt you will remember my writing you in March last about the aims and objetcs of our association and inviting all Flesherton people in this city and surrounding to join and assist us in our enterprise. I am sorry to state that only a few responded, but this may be on account of the depression which has been sweeping over the world during the past four years. It may be that they do not get a copy of your paper and missed seeing the invitation.

I have been considering the best way of bringing our association to their attention and I have come to the conclusion that our friends in Flesherton can materially help us in our endeavour and to them I am appealing, and I am satisfied that our appeal will not fall on unattentive ears.

Nearly all of you have relations and friends in this city and district and when writing or visiting them or when they visit you endeavour to have them take an interest in our work. All that is necessary is for them to get in touch with members of our association, when they will have explained to them our objects and aims. The membership fee is only $1.00 per family per annum.

The association is endeavouring to get in contact with all Toronto Flesh-ertonians in the city or district, so that in case of sickness, it can help to lighten the load placed on the shoulders of any of them, by assisting them financially, if in straitened circumstances or visiting them when confined by sickness; but this can only be successfully carried out when our membership is such as will enable us to do so without placing too heavy a burden on some of our members.

The Old Guard formed after the "At Home" celebration is still standing sholder to shoulder, doing all they can to keep bright the Associations with the old Home Town, yet they wish to have the assistance of the other Flesher-tonians in our midst so that a large membership, working together, would bind all our people in one common bond of friedship and goodwill.

Our members recognize that the habit of help and sympathy must be put in force; the little deeds of kindness and sympathy one does as he or she rush from task to task in their daily lives will give joy for remembrance in after years. What one's help or words of sympathy are to those who receive them can never be known until one's own life is sad and lonely and some one comes along with help and kind words of cheer. We are all ready at any time to help so far as we possibly can to lighten the burden of sorrow or illness in our less fortunate brother or sister. We are well aware that to hold gentle and loving words in our hearts unspoken would be mean when lives in our midst are starving for such and would be greatly comforted by our sympathy.

It is our desire to use our gift of speech to bring comfort, joy cheer and hope to all about us, to encourage the weary and disheartened, to extend a helping hand to any one in sickness or distress and by soothing and encouraging words assist them to a better frame of mind and finally becoming friends. Friendship is our object, yet we bear in mind that one can only have friends when they do all they can to help, that when such friendship is made, to strive to be worthy of such, worthy to share in their enjoyments, help to build up their characters and, in doing so, by their assistance, build up our own.

We also realise the magnificent powers which God has given us, minds to think, to reason, to imagine, hearts to feel, to rejoice and love. These possibilities we are endeavouring to put to use, possibilities to be a good friend, standing together showing to the world at large that we are trying to make possible our aims and aspirations, assisting each other on one common level, all animated with one spirit, recognizing the problems of life; that life is a journey we must all take; care and trouble are always with us and we are striving to keep those cares and troubles not only out of our own lives but out of the lives of our friends. We are striving to realize every dream of goodness so that we may pass the same on.

We further realize and recognize that the earlier associations of the Old Home were principal factors in forming one's character, that character is the only test and real essence of life, it is not knowledge, for knowledge will fail, it is not fame for fame will fade and its voice gives no echo in the valley of the shadow, neither is it culture and education, but it is life, not what we have or what we know but what we are and what we do, which makes one's life beautiful in the sight of God and our neighbors. We also further realize one of the essential things to make life beautiful is in assisting each other. Ones life need not be great to be beautiful. There is just as much beauty in a tiny flower as in a majestic tree in a little hill, as in a towering mountain, in a smaller creature as in a mammoth, because it is not in the size of one's assistance, but in the spirit in which it is given, which which makes life beautiful. We must remember that to the blind man begging by the wayside, to the poor soul who goes from door to door for aid, to the crippled one who sits on the doorstep and hold out a shaking hand, we owe something, and if we cannot assist them financially we should at least speak a kind and encouraging word.

I have endeavoured to show you what our association is trying to do, and what it can carry out, provided, we have the memberhsip to enable us to do so, and we are requesting you to assist us in this. Surely it is not too much to ask. Get in touch with your relatives and friends, point out the good they could do by becoming a member, and assisting in our work advise them to join, and get others to join, so that our membership would be such as would enable s to do a great deal more than we can possibly do at the present time. It will not take up too much of their time. Our work divided, would not place too heavy a burden on any one member and it is with the view of making the work easier that we are appealing for an increase in membership.

Do all you can to help us so that with a largly increased mebership united in one determination, we could surmount all obstacles and with a strong pull, all together, we would show that our asssociation is well worthy of support, and a great influence in keeping alive the friendship existing with the old Home Town friends. We are striving to build a bridge over the gulf of bygone years, and spanning same with chords of memories binding the present to the past.

Our annual meeting will soon be here and no doubt intimation of same will be inserted in your paper and I trust a good turn out of new members will be present.

May this year bring peace, contentment and prosperity to you, all is the heartfelt wish of

Yours sincerely

MORE INFORMATION

The conductor came along the bus collecting fares, and stopped beside the woman with a little boy on her knee.

"The boy is only five years old," said the mother hastily, when she saw the conductor glaring at the child.

The conductor took the money for one fare and passed on. When he had reached the other end of the bus it occured to the small boy that an important bit of imformation had been overlooked.

"Mother is 37," he shouted out.
