THE SUN!

New York, 1882.

The Sun for 1882 will make its fifteenth annual revolution under the present management, shining, as always, for all, big and little, mean and gracious, contented and unhappy, Republican and Democratic, depraved and virtuous, intelligent and obtuse.

The Sun's light is for mankind and womankind of every sort, but its genial warmth is for the good, while it pours hot discomfort on the blistering backs of the persistently wicked.

The Sun of 1882 is a newspaper of a new kind. It discarded many of the forms and a multitude of the superfluous words and phrases of ancient journalism. It undertook to report in a fresh, succinct, unconventional way all the news of the world, omitting no event of human interest, and commenting upon affairs with the fearlessness of absolute independence. The success of this experiment was the success of The Sun.

It effected a permanent change in the style of American newspapers. Every important journal established in this country in the dozen years past has been modelled after The Sun. Every important journal already existing has been modified and bettered by the force of The Sun's example.

The Sun of 1882 will be the same outspoken, truth-telling, interesting newspaper.

By a liberal use of the means which an abundant prosperity affords, we shall make it better than ever before.

We shall print all the news, putting it into readable shape, and measuring its importance not by the traditional yardstick, but its real interest to the people. Distances from Printing House Square never enter into the first consideration with The Sun. Whenever anything happens worth reporting we get the particulars, whether it happens in Brooklyn or in Bokhara.

In politics we have decided opinions, and are accustomed to express them in language that can be understood. We say what we think about men and events. That habit is the only secret of The Sun's political course.

The Weekly Sun gathers into eight pages the best matter of the seven daily issues. An Agricultural Department of unequalled merit, full market reports, and a liberal proportion of literary, scientific, and domestic intelligence complete The Weekly Sun, and make it the best newspaper for the farmer's household that was ever printed.

Who does not know and read and like the The Sunday Sun, each number of which is a Cologne of interesting literature, with the best poetry of the day, prose even to the verge, reading, news, humor — matter enough to fill a good-sized book, and intrinsically more varied and entertaining than any book. Price 5 cents.

If our idea of what a newspaper should be pleases you, send for The Sun.

Our terms are as follows:

For the daily Sun, a four page sheet of twenty-eight columns, the price by mail post paid, is 55 cents a month, or $6.50 a year, or, including the Sunday issue, an eight-page sheet of 48 columns, the price is 65 cents per month, or $7.70 a year, postage paid.

The Sunday edition of The Sun is furnished separately at $1.00 a year, postage paid.

The price of the Weekly Sun, eight pages, fifty-six columns, is $1 a year, postage paid.

For clubs of ten, sending $10 we will send an extra copy free.
